Sirs

The Committee of Safety for the City of Philadelphia have been kind enough to offer the Council of Safety, that the Managers of their public Salt-petre works should instruct any persons who we might recommend to them for that purpose. Therefore should you find any difficulty arise in the Management of the works under your Care, you may (if you think proper) apply to their Managers for such instructions as you may want.

The Council of Safety is very desirous of knowing what forwarding the works under your Management are in, and request you would
