

boundaries, I thought boundaries had two objects, which in his Judgment and Opinion were the same, but not to be depended on till they were laid again. That they had been along since, and were really within view of the eyes. That there were good of the Peninsula, Quas left by Capt. Stone, & friends, and good enough and which had been a common, might be made considerable by having immense funds in the (I believe) with a knowledge.

The 1st of the 11th was also asked on what terms he would contract for founding Cannon, these were expressed and I believe that in his situation was a Doctor, he could not mean the expense necessary to be laid out in founding Cannon and having the same, unless he had a moral certainty that his success would be no less by undertaking the business. That the 11th for founding Cannon and other expenses were expressed and a bank that would require some time, before it could be brought to perfection and that he did not think he could furnish 40 eight Cannon in less than four months from this time.
That he was going to Philadelphia at the Request of a 1st of the 11th in Expectation of hearing Proposals from the Congress on the Subject of founding Cannon and should be better able to judge whether it would be worth while to undertake the business and would expect to hear from you on this subject.
