

Imprisonment, or any other Punishment; yea if it shall be needful, & that the quality of the Offence require it, by taking away member or life, either by him the said now Lord Baltimore, & his Heirs, or by his or their Deputies, Lieutenants, Judges, Justices, Magistrates, Officers, and Ministers, to be ordained or appointed, according to the Tenor and true Intention of these Presents: And likewise to appoint and establish any Judges & Justices, Magistrates and Officers, whatsoever, at Sea and Land, for what Causes soever, and with what power soever, and in such form, as to the said now Lord Baltimore, or his Heirs shall seem most convenient. Also to remit, release, pardon and abolish, whether before Judgment, or after, all Crimes or Offences whatsoever, against the said Laws: & to do all and every other thing or things, which unto the compleat Establishment of Justice, unto Courts, Prætories, and Tribunals, forms of Judicature, & manners of proceeding do belong: Altho' in these Presents, exprefs Mention be not made thereof, & by Judges by them<sup>so</sup> delegated, to ~~award~~<sup>proceed</sup> ~~Procees~~, hold Pleas, & determine in all the said courts & Tribunals, all Actions, suits, ~~and~~ Causes whatsoever as well criminal, as civil, personal, real, mixt and prætorial; which laws, so as afore said to be published, Our Pleasure is, &

with the Courts of
Sea
at Land & at
Sea

business for