

7
necessaries from England, and, at so remote a distance, no danger from them to this Kingdom can rationally be feared: and they will certainly rather stay still in England, in any condition, then go into any other of the Kings dominions where they cannot have the liberty of their conscience, or be in any hazard of restraint thereof, either in present or future, for that were, but to exchange the place, and an enlargement of their miseries.

Publick license and approbation of the Parlia- 5 ment, to depart and make provisions, is requisite and necessary in this case, for them; and an Ordinance whereby they may be enabled, notwithstanding other Ordinances, laws, & Sequestrations, as also Entailes, to dispose of their estates here, and assured that they shall have no molestation in their passage from hence, nor in their residence and abode in Mariland, but all just protection from this State: and that they may freely enjoy there the benefit and priviledges of that government, which is appointed for that Province by his Majesties Charter to the Lord Baltimore, a Roman Catholick (it being in the nature of a County Palatine depending on the Crowne of England, and invested, together with the land, in the said Lord Baltimore and his heirs by patent in the 8th yeare of this Kings raigne) that