

And be it enacted, That the respective collectors may and shall, at any time after the first day of March next, collect the said rate, by distress and sale of any goods or chattels within his county, the property of any person assessed, of which sale five days notice, excluding the day of notice and sale, shall be given, and by distress and sale of any goods or chattels found on the land of any person assessed, of which the same notice shall be given, and if no effects can be found on the land, the owner thereof shall be liable for the rate so assessed, and the land shall be chargeable for the payment thereof, with six per cent. interest thereon from the day appointed by this act for payment, in the hands of any purchaser, and any goods at any time found on the premises shall be liable to distress and sale for payment thereof; and the respective collectors shall pay the whole amount of the assessment and rate on the real and personal property within his county, after deducting thereout the sums by this act allowed to be discounted and retained by such collector, to the treasurer of his shire, on or before the twenty fifth day of March next, and upon failure in payment by any collector, the treasurer of his shire shall, on or before the tenth day of April next, obtain a copy of his bond, and file the same in the general court, and thereupon scire facias shall issue against such collector and his sureties, in the same manner as on bonds to the loan-office, and similar proceedings shall be had to compel payment of the money due, with interest of twenty per cent. from the day appointed by this act for payment.

And be it enacted, That before the said collectors shall execute any part of the duty under this act, they shall each of them, under the penalty of one thousand pounds, enter into bond, before two justices of the peace