

be necessary, shall be applied to the payment of interest for money borrowed by this state, and the residue thereof shall be applied to the discharging the necessary expences of this state, and also to defray the expence of recruiting our quota of troops in the American army, and furnishing them with provisions and cloathing, or in such other manner as the general assembly may hereafter direct.