"MOTHER'S FOOL."

BY E. FRANK RUSSELL.

"Tis plain to me," said a farmer's wife,
"Those boys will make their marks in life;
They never were made to handle a hoe,
And at once to college ought to go.
There's Fred, he's little better'n a fool,
But John and Henry must go to school."

"Well, really, wife," quoth farmer Brown,
As he sat his mug of cider down,
"Fred does more work in a day for me
Than both his brothers do in three."

Book learnin' will never plant one's corn,
Nor hoe potatoes, sure's you're born,
Nor mend a rod of broken fence;
For my part, give me common sense."

But his wife was bound the root to rule,
And John and Henry were sent to school,
While Fred of course was left behind,
For his mother said he had no mind.

Five years at school the students spent;
Then into business each one went.
John learned to play the fute and fiddle,
And parted his hair, of course, in the middle;
While his brother looked rather higher than he
And hung out a sign, "H. Brown, M. D."

Meanwhile at home their brother Fred
Had taken a notion into his head;
But he quietly trimmed his apple tree,
And weeded onions and planted peas;
While somehow, either by hook or crook,
He managed to read full many a book,
Until at last his father said
He was getting "book learnin'" into his head;
"But, for all that," added farmer Brown,
"He's the smartest boy there is in town."

The war broke out, and Captain Fred
A hundred men to the battle led,
And when the rebel flag came down,
Went marching home as General Brown.
But he went to work on the farm again,
And planted corn and sowed his grain,
Re-shingled the barn and mended the fence,
Till people declared "he had common sense."

Now common sense was very rare,
And the State House needed a portion there;
So the "family dunce" moved into town,
And people called him Governor Brown,
And his brothers who went to the city school
Come home to live with "mother's fool."

Good News for Housekeepers.

Whitewashing Superseded!

MAXWELL'S PREPARED GYPSUM,

FOR WHITENING and Coloring Walls.

A BEAUTIFUL, DURABLE AND CHEAP ARTICLE.

To invent a substance which would supersede the old style of Whitewashing, has long been the aim of the subscriber, and a wish often expressed by housekeepers. That desideratum has at last been obtained, and it affords the inventor much pleasure that he can supply the public with a substitute, which while it has all the good qualities of Lime, has none of its objectionable features.

The Gypsum gives the walls a brilliant gloss, will not rub off, and is therefore more durable, is easily mixed, and costs no more than the common Lime, and its sanitary qualities are excellent. It is therefore in every respect unsurpassed by anything of the kind ever offered to the public.
