Twenty States held elections on Monday and Tuesday last; Arkansas and Louisiana on Monday, and on Tuesday, Alabama, tucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin. Altogether these elections embraced one hundred and thirty. Sey, Nevada, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin. Altogether these elections embraced one hundred and thirty-three members of Congress, of whom the Republicans elect $1 and the Democrats 52. With the States which voted in September and October, enough is known to indicate the present complexion of the next Congress. The Republicans have upwards of two-thirds of the present House of Representatives, which the slight gains made by scutatives, which the slight gains made by the Democrats in the elections that have the latter's opposition to taxing the em-

This is practically what their present course must result in; for they may rest assured that no Democratis fool enough to disfranchise himself because the colored man votes; and vote he will, while this nation exists, and it is but in its infancy. The contrast was truly remarkable between the quiet orderly deportment of the colored the colored man the yelling, drunken Democracy. Had some simple minded stranger to our people, been present, who did not know the great superiority of the "Caucasian race" morally and intellectually he would undoubtedly have declared they were the "d—d niggers" whose barbarianism has been the theme of so much Democratic sate of Mrs. Raisin, were sentenced cach to the Penitentiary 10 years in the discussion, and who, notwithstanding two

That the Republican party has the majority in this county, and when they choose to turn out can carry any election, every one who looks at the registered votes and the election returns for this and the election of 1869, must be convinced. The elections this Fall being largely Congressional, an element entered into the canvass which an election for State officers cannot call out. The free trade party marshaled and led by the large importers and British manufacturers, threw the weight of its influence on the Democratic side. To break down American manufacturers and extend the market for foreign products, is the object of this party. Have the State, as near as we could ascertain up ing any amount of money at command which they think necessary to spend securing members of Congress opposed protecting American manufacturers, larg sums were supplied to the Democrati party from this source, and enabled the party to make a most thorough and vigor ous canvass. In this county alone, lar sums received from this British source, v doubt not, were expended; and while t laboring man whose sole dependence is the success of manufactures, was misled the cry of negro equality, his pretend Domocratic friends were putting a fre trade ticket into his hand which was tended to rob his wife and children of bre

In such States as Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky and Virginia, it is natural to expect for some time after the great upheaval earthquake of the war, slight shocks arising from the old rebel volcanic element, which will grow less and less violent as the fires of the rebellion burn out, and exhaust themselves, without the latent force to recuperate.

The election on Tuesday in this State resulted in the choice of the entire Democratic ticket, by a light vote.

While the Democratic vote, as compared with the last State election, is fully up to the party strength, without indicating more than the natural gain resulting from increase of population, the white Republican who could be searched out by Democratic jackals.
