Y. P. A .- At the meeting of the Young People's Association, on the evening of the 12th inst., the newly-elected officers entered upon their duties, and the various committees were appointed to serve for the ensuing year.

The lecture-room of the church was well filled, the number in attendance being greater than on any previous occasion.

In lieu of the essay, which was to have been read by Clinton McCullough, Esq., Rev. A. S. Vaughan read "Thanatopsis," a poem by W. C. Bryant, and Mrs. Susie B. Layman read "The Leper," one of N. P. Willis' Sacred Poems. The music consisted of quartettes and solos, the latter sang by Miss Lou Bennett. Mrs. Ascherfeld presided at the organ.

The Eureka Fan .- This new candidatewhich is for the first time introduced to our farmers through The Whig to-day-we venture to predict, will be pronounced by all who examine it the most complete Fanning Mill they have ever met with. We had the opportunity of viewing one at the ware house of Messrs. Noland & Co., Port Deposit, and do not hesitate to place it far above anything we ever saw, in the in the most substantial manner.

At that meeting the location will, withut doubt, be decided.

The grounds upon which I urged the postponement, was that the Commission was not at that meeting in possession of about forty-five dollars in money and sufficiently distinct information, from any particular locality, to enable the members to determine judiciously so vital and important a matter. That sentiment prevailing, my motion to adjourn was acquiesced in without a vote.

While healthfulness and eligibility of situation and other general considerations should have, and no doubt will have, their due weight with the Commission, it will be impossible to ignore or overlook those of a pecuniary or business character, in an enterprise which without money cannot be them.

Certainly not; candor compels me to answer. A few miles above as well as below the towns are growing rapidly. Business active; lands improving, increasing in value, producing largely; while your vicinity stands listlessly by, a monument to its own indolence and lack of energy. A common sense bird's eye view explains all in a moment. Elkton and vicinity has too many drones in its homes, lacks the energy. many drones in its homes, lacks the energy, enterprise, and stability. Cares too much for outward show, and too little for intrinsic worth; cultivates too many acres with too little force, plows too much and limes too little, uses too many stimulants in body, as well as land, thereby exhausting instead of improving. Then again Elkton is seemingly the asylum for the politicians, young as well as aged. For half a century Elk-on has been burdened with families whose birth was all sufficient (in their own opinion) to make them office-holders by heritage or candidates therefor, else wait indolently for something else in shape of official favor to fall on their living, and eating the substance of a few men of energy, real worth, and less pretensions. Many of your drones are men of good minds and healthy bodies (barring the appetite for stimulants;) but biased against personal effort by false pride, thus reducing the matter to a contest between imagination and reality, blood, pride and politics, against nergy, honor and real worth. The latter in all cases, countries and ages, have real solidity. In thus writing I am only holding up to your view, your own mirror, so that in your near-sightedness, you might see yourselves as other see you. Tell your capitalist to forsake the street-

Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the clothes or scalp; it is agreeably perfuned, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use; it restores the color of the hair NORE PERFECTI AND UNIFORMY than any other preparation, and always does so, in from three to ten days. Virtually feeling the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and leadithy condition, it restores the decay and indices a new growth of the hair more positively than anything clee. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives the hair a pleasant and clegant appearance.

·CONSUMPTION. ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE. BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no either reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted Judgment Day will find you with your DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing, The Sen-west Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the inaledy is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption origimate in dispeptia and a functionally disordered liverwith this condition the broughtal tubes—"sympathizo" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. There then comes the cuminating result, and the acting in with all its distressing symptoms of CONSUMPTION. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the bloods-sarching, alterative properties of calonel, but unlike calonel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and nucous deposits in the lowels and in the alimentary and are ejected. The liter like a clock is wound up-it arouses from its toupldity. The storach acts respon-vely, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Soaweed Tonic, in conjuction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the Good. Chalification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure lessen to be at hand. There is no more flathence, no exacerbation of the stouch. An appetite sets in.

Now come the greatest libest Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent Father to suffering man. Schenck's Palmonia Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impered and decased portions of the impartial in the form of gath ringest prepares them for expecteration, and lot in a very short time the malady is vanished, the rotten through it reconsisted and made new, and the pathent in all the slightly of regained vizor steps forth to enjoy the manhood or woundhood that was A Supply of Good Blood.

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

GIVEN UP AS TAOST.

The second thing it, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking could when the lungs are diseased, but it is not be prevent taking could when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a currectant beneficial, for it is not be prevented or a currectant beneficial, for it is not the prevented or a currectant beneficial for a currectant beneficial for the stage of the first and winter ensemination for a currectant the first part of their lungs are leadly diseased, and by the factors they are in the house they must much and as fact as the strength will make the great summer and as fact as the strength will make the great deal to do with the appetite, and greater than the fact of the greater deal to do with the appetite, and greater of curred deal to do with the appetite, and is fall. "Many years ago! used in the statement to the Faculty of his cover once was in these modest words:

"Many years ago! used in the state stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I coultined the a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtaining the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect curs of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon in case than a plut of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to have me, and my appetite and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Ecliwy these directions and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Manlrake Hills are to be taken in increase] doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompanience is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the departing at once be of good cheef. Good blood at once follows; the cough lowers, the night sweat is abstre. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Fills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a currer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms. All Solid Silver Ware will be sold as
