To my Friends and Citizens: Having been announced for the House of Delegates, I am thankful to my friends for the favor shown me, and the support I have received from the citizens of old Ceci, which I shall ever remember; but am compelled to decline being a candidate for any office at the next general election.

EXTRAORDINARY OFFER .- The enterprising publishers of the American Stock Journal offer to send the whole twelve numbers for this year, and $1.00 worth of books, all for the regular subscription to the Journal, which is $1.00 a year. All our farmers and stock raisers should take advantage of of this liberal offer as the Journal is worth many times the money, besides getting four valuable Manuals devoted to stock raising, the price of which is 25cts. each. Specimen copies of the Joernal will be sent free to all by applying to the Publishers, N. P. Boyer & Co., Parkesburg, Pa.

THE ALDINE. - The July number of this remarkable publication is as rich in illustrations and varied in matter as any of the preceding ones, and certainly ought to have a place on the tables of all who have any tasto for the true and beautiful in art. The illustrations, as usual, are very fine and comprise among the full page ones: "The Ruins of the Temple of Minerva," "The Konigssee," after Heyn, and one of Konewha's wonderful and humorous last week. silhouttes, "The Start and The Return," in which the artist contrives to read us a quant little homily on the fleeting nature executed in that fine and delicate manner for which this journal stands pre-eminent. The literary matter is fully up to the standard, and in the articles on the "Austrian Empire," by Wm. F. Allen; "American Watering Places," by Grace Harkaway, and "Edmund Spenser," by Aunette L. Noble, much information will be found, while those fond of lighter reading will find all they desire in a perusal of "The Prison Surgeon," and other pieces. The publishers are James Sutton & Co., 23 Liberty Street, New York, and the price is but $2.50 a year.

SMALL-POX IN NEW YORK.—Caution is the order of the day, for the small-pox is increaing in New York. The municipal medical authorities announce that 1,300 cases of this terrible disease have been reported within six months, and that as many more have probably been concealed, through the natural disinclination of the friends of the victims to lose the opportunity for tender personal nursing. If these statistics are trustworthy, as they probably are, says the New York Commercial, the fact that 2,600 cases of small-pox have occurred since January—or an average of 433 per month—is an alarming indication. The utmost care should be taken to purify all neighborhoods in which nuisances exist; disinfectants should be applied liberally, in private house as well as in which increases. sances exist; disinfectants should be appried liberally, in private houes as well as in public places; and vaccination should not be deferred. About five weeks ago, Benjamin Gibs, Registor of Wills, was so injured on a railroad siding, at New Castle, as to make necessary the amputation of one of his legs. His son Edward, a youth of 17, had gone to take his father home to Middle town. First, a school-house on the premises was fired; then, a wood fence; and last his dwelling. The last, when discovered, was burning in five different places; but the fire was extinguished before much damage was done. On the day the house was set on fire, a girl, supposed to be insane, employed in the family, was seen pouring coal oil on the gable end of the house, which seemed to point her out as the incendiary. —At last the struggle for protection to American industry has been carried fairly and squarely "into Africa." In the city of New York, the chosen citadel of the free traders, there has just been formed for active operations an "Irish-American Protective Tariff Association." From the inauguration of this society it would seem that even New York city cannot live by commerce alone and that the unjust discrimination against home industries produces evil effects even in a locality which is supposed to grow rich altogether by the transportation of British goods to our shores, which business does not after all, seem to inure to the benefit of all classes of citizens.
