Early Peaches.-We understand that John E. Wilson, tenant on the peach farm of S. B. Foard, (of this town,) in Pond's Neck, this county, shipped six baskets of parfect peaches, of the Hale variety, July 5th, and expects to have the whole crop of that kind in market next week, about 250 baskets. The trees were three years old last Spring.

This is a month earlier than former years, ping the fruit before maturity, as young trees are apt to.

Killed by the Cars .- Mr. Oliver McCullough, an old citizen of the county, and brother to J. J. McCullough, of the firm of the afternoon passenger train from Baltimore, on Thursday last, at the Elk Neck road crossing, about two miles below Elk. ton. He had been in Elkton with vegetables-he was a market gardener-the afternoon of his death, and had gone to the place of his son-in-law, Mr. W. Jones, who resides in the Neck, for a harrow, and was on his way home when he met with the fatal accident. He was struck about the head and instantly killed, and the market wagon in which he was riding smashed to pieces, but the horse escaped uninjured .his crossing is one of the most dangerou on the road, as it is difficult to see or hear the cars till they are right on it. The train was stopped and the body brought to Improvement-Among the improvements made in the town during the past year, Railroad. none are more noticeable, or worthy of notice, perhaps, than that of Mr. Thos. C. Crouch, on his store and dwelling. A year ago he began re-modeling and enlarging his store and house, and has just completed the improvements. Whilst the dwelling has undergone such change as to materially enhance its appearance and convenience. the store-room has so far yielded to the influence of the hammer, saw and brush, as to make it one of the handsomest on the Eastern Shore, and unrecognizable by a year-ago visitor. The small bulk window, with its "eight-by-ten" glass, has given away to one of much larger proportions with heavy plated glass. The sash of the show-cases, cornices and counters have ten feet to the room, changes its whole appearance, and adds to its beauty and adaptability. The cases, arranged as they are, show off the stock to advantage. The outside of the building has also been repainted. The whole front of the first story the window frames, sash and cornice have other part has been given a color contrast-

The Berry Business .- There is one source of profit to the citizens of the counties below us on the Shore, to which the denizens of Cecil are comparative strangers .-We refer to the berry business. Thousands of buckets of blackberries and whortleberries are shipped from those counties every week to the cities. This is a great source of revenue to those who engage in it, and counties, which have suffered so of late because of failure of crops. There, the great abundance of labor makes wages low and employment not always to be had; the great plentifulness of these fruits and the prices they bring, make it profitable to gather them. Besides, there are hundreds who engage in this business that could not have, for the time being at least, other employment; and herein lies one of its best features; while thus engaged these persons save a crop which otherwise would be lost, make remunerative wages, and

They ship everything-from peaches, their staple fruit, to a gooseberry. From a little town in Talbot county, this season, $800 worth in proportion, with other fruits and vegetables. A Few Words to the Ladies.

Many ladies, particularly mothers nursing, complain of a tired, littless feeling, or complete exhaustion, on arising in the morning. On the wife and mother de-rolves the responsibility of regulating the duties of the household. Her cares are numerous, and the mental as weary task and existence a burden, while at the sa time she has no regular disease. Hostetter's Stomack Bitters, if resorted to at this period, will prove an unfalling remedy for this annoying lassitude. The effects of this twitent agent are soon seen in the rosy cheek and elastic step of the head of the family, as with restored health and renewed spirits she takes her accustomed place in the family circle. If this friend in new be regularly used, there depressing symptoms will never be complained of, and not only would lassifude not be experienced, but many diseases following its advent t avoided. As a medical agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculto impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used the Bitters attest its virtues and commend it to use.

CONSUMPTION. ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE. BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

DR. JOSEPH II. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE WILMINGTON. DELAWARE, TREATMENT

and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines they would not have fallen. Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into health-and his directions for their use, is quickened into health-fully for the threath there is nothing presumptions. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's nedi-cines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-counteding, The Suswest Tonic and Mandrake l'illis are the first two weapons with which the citisde of the maday is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption origi-nate in dyspepsia and a functionally illustrated lirst— with this consistion the bronchial tubes "sympathics" with the violation the bronchial tubes "sympathics" with the violation. They respond to the morbide action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in with all its distressing symptoms of

CONSUMPTION. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature noblest gifts—the Polophillum Peltatum. They peases all the blood-soutching, afterative properties of calomel but unlike calomel, they

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the lowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver like a clock is wound up.— It arouses from its torpidity. The atomach acta responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting at last.

The Sea-west Tonic, in conjuction with the Pills, permarks and assimilates with the feed, Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion become painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no mere flatulence, as exacertation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent Father to suffering main. Schenck's Palmonic Symp comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impacted and diseased portions of the lungs, in the form of gathering it preparest them for expecteration, and lot in a very short time the nodady is vanquished, the rotten throm it occupied is removated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained they were proposed for the collection of the work.

E. E. Ewing, Committee.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is showed impossible to pretent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, left went taking cold when the lungs are diseased, left with all rand riding out, especially in this section of the course in the fall and winter second winter the same all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must not sit down cians who recommend that course loss their patients, if their lungs are body diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room so much and as fast as the strength will bear to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after archivence of its possibility in the worst cases, and noval certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my lead, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drown ing man catching at straws, I heard of and obtaining the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter on my lungs, and I would splt upwore than a plut of effensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and hight sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with great difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength and have grown in field ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," abiled the Doctor, "then looking like a more skeleton, my weight was only minerly-seven poundar my present weight is two hundred and wenty-five (222) pounds. And for years have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and liseton. He or his son, Dr. J. II. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. I North Statt street, Plaidaelphia, every Saturday, from y. A. M. to 3 r.w. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Repirionerie will be charged 250. The Replyometer declares the exact condition of the lungs and pat and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased dones; the three medicines need no other accompany them: First create appelite. Of returning health lunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, but the despairing at once left glosel theer, the silt blood at once follows; the cough lossens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a latasitic or purgative, the Pulmonic Symp, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against enomanylion in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Symp and Seavest Tonic, $1.50.
