Gerrit Smith on Grant. Gerrit Smith, has recently issued a man-as follows of Grant: "It is but too probable, however, that the Republican party will sink down into a low chase with the Democratic party after votes. So far from going forward and making itself more and more a reform party, its murmurings against President Grant and fre quent signs of disaffection toward him reveal its declining appreciation of even those great moral ideas it had already espoused. For to which of the grand undertakings and precious interests of the Republican party, at the time of his election, has he been found unfaithful. To not one of them. Identified, therefore, as he is with them all, every one of them is necessarily disparaged when he is traduced or undervalued. For the Republican party to turn its back upon President Grant is to turn its back upon its honorable past upon the past of its better and more patriotic days. He remains the same man he was in those days. He has proved himself to be free from the accursed spirit of caste, and true to the equal rights of all men-of the red man and black man as well as the white man. He has deterred to the popular will, instead of moulding and fostering a policy of his own. He has proved with what entire sincerity it was that, in entering upon his office, he expressed his desire for peace. The late treaty between England and America, in the credit of which he shares so largely, is the grandest and most auspicious peace measure the world has ever seen. The rapidity with which we are paying our national debt is a high proof of his wisdom and honesty. And yet, such a President no very small share of the Republican party certainly no very small share of its leaders seem willing to drop! We hear them say that General Grant cannot be re-elected. But if he, who confessedly did more than any other man to save our country in the perils of war, and whose great influence in peace has all gone to make that peace more perfect and more blessed, cannot be made our next President, what Republican can be? Manifestly, either he or the Demoratic candidate will be our next President; and if the Democratic candidate shall be, and shall represent and be a specimen of the bad, very pad, Democratic party, what then can save our country from ruin?"

POLITICAL SITUATION THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY .- A special Washington corrrespondent of the Philadelphia Press, writes as follows: The North Carolina victory has had the effect of greatly encouraging the Southern Republicans. Senator Osborn, now here, has just returned from Florida, tarrying on the way in other States, and speaks in almost jubilant terms of the changed feeling he has found. From Alabama private letters speak in the same terms. The Mississippi Republicans are also greatly encouraged by the evident determination of the Administration to vigorously enforce the Kuklux law-a determination the effect of which has already been felt in North Carolina, and will shortly be seen even more decisively in Mississippi and South Carolina. While here, the President decided on a policy and directed the Issuing of orders relative to the protection of the law officers and the movement of troops to secure the arrest of indicted Kuklux, which must result in bringing the conspiracy to a head forcing open resistance, or what is more probable, by the collapse, in terror of martial law, of the cowardly assassin bands. Private letters from California speak encouragingly of the Republican efforts, and Latest Foreign Intelligence.

There has been many recent rumors as the state of affairs in Europe, of an important nature—even going so far as to say that a war was probable between Russia and France on the one side and Germany and Austria on the other! But this having been blown to the wind the newsmongers are getting up the Eastern question again; but what is to be done with it the fighting, the Americans routed the and what nations are to antagonize one another, is not distinctly stated! The truth is, war is quite improbable, and the whole batch of rumors are absurdities. France is paying off her debt to Germany according to agreement, and the German troops are retiring farther and farther from Paris. At the late elections in portions of Alsace the vote cast was very small, though quite as large as could have been expected at the first trial. Education in Alsace and Lorraine is to be non-sectarian, much to the general satisfaction. Longwy, in France, on the old boundary between Prussia and France and Belgium and France, but now in possession of Germany, is to have its fortifications greatly strengthened. The Military organization in Germany is also being enlarged and perfected. Russia, from all accounts, is engaged in additional military preparations. Everywhere this appears observable; but we regard this as only a necessary safeguard against the increased power of Germany; but that there is any unfriendly feeling between Russia and Germany we do not for a moment credit.

The National Assembly of Franco has "President of the Republic," and bestowing upon him all the powers necessary to the position. The government of Italy is quietly scated in Rome and pursues its daily routine as smoothly as though in Turin or Florence. The Pope has issued another circular calling upon the church everywhere to assist him by their religious services to be restored to his temporal power. He seems to take this deprivation very much to heart, but wherefore, we at this distance and with our imperfect knowledge as to his reasons, cannot comprehend.

Spain is by no means tranquil. The new King, who is not popular, is striving by all the means in his power to make himself so. There is some doubt, however, that his reign will be a prolonged one. Of these 2,013 victims, 124 were killed and 1,910 wounded. As to the engines of warfare by which their destruction is accomplished, the return published by the chief commissioner of police gives some statistics which carry out the impression that Londoners derive from observation.

But the worst offenders of all are the light carts, driven by tradesmen's boys and shopmen. These carts ran over 636 people during the year, of whom 27 were killed. Nearly one-third of the socalled accidents in the streets are, therefore, due to these carts.

These terrible figures do not include the most densely crowded parts of London. The city has its own catalogue of accidents, which do something to swell the aggregate, though this is perhaps the safest part of London. THE COREAN WAR .- Mail dispatches give fuller particulars of Admiral Rodgers' fight with the Coreans. It will be remembored the expedition entered Corean waters to make a survey of the Kiang-ho, and to make a treaty relative to shipwrecked mariners. It has been the custom of the Coreans to murder all who land on their shores. On June 10th, the second day of Coreans and captured five forts, with many prisoners. The fleet returned to the Boize anchorage two days later. Admiral Rodgers then sent to the Coreans to know what he should do with the prisoners. Their reply was, "Do what you like." 'Two days later he set them at liberty, and sent two messengers ashore, but the local authority refused to receive them, saying it was no use to attempt to communicate further with the Court. Mr. Low, the American Minister, then sent a formal protest that his mission was peaceful, and that the American attack was not for a refusal to negotiate, but because the Coreans had treacherously fired on the boats. Part of the flect will return to Che Foo, where one thousand rations have been sent. Two vessels were sent to Shanghal. The Coreans fought like men. Their weapons are wretched old firelocks, and A DESIRABLE FARM their cutlasses made of soft iron, which bent like old hoops. They were dressed in armour of nine thicknesses, cotton-padded, so that only rifle-balls could penetrate them. Swords produced no effect upon them. Documents captured show that the Corean government had planned the survoted to extend the term of Thiers as prise of the American fleet, and were astonished at the failure of the forts to annihilate the vessels at the first fire. The expedition has accomplished no change in the relations of the two countries, and Minister Lowe and Admiral Rodgers will await instructions from Washington before proceeding to further hostilities. Twelve native Christians came alongside the Admied from a French National Assembly; but ral's flag-ship in a junk and begged to be it was indispensable from the hard lines at taken to Shanghai. The English colonial press in China denounce the return of the American fleet to Che Foo as having all the moral effect of a defeat. A LIVE HOME JOURNAL -- NOTABLE CHANGE.-Last October, Hearth and Home passed into the hands of Orange Judd & Co., of 245 Broadway, New York, the well known publishers of the American Agriculturist-a journal long without a rival in sterling value and circulation. The marked improvements then expected to appear in Hearth and Home have been fully realized, and it is now one of the choicest illustrated journals anywhere issued for the family circle-adapted to both the juvenile and idult people, and meeting the special wants of the housekeeper. Besides it supplies very useful chapters for the garden and farm, and an important NEWs sheet, giving a valuable resume of the news for a week up to the moment of issue. From $500 to $800 worth of very fine engravings beautify each weekly number. We notice now a still further mark of enterprise on the part of the publishers; they have secured the exclusive editorial services of Edward Eggleson, so widely and favorably known On and after September 1st, 1871, many other Magazines and Journals, and especially as the chief superintending Editor of the New York Independent for some time past: With this notable addition to the previously large and strong editorial force, Hearth and Home can not fail to merit and command a prominent place in every household, in city, village, and counplete independence—an event that no one now living will see. HISTORY OF THE WAR BETWEEN GER-MANY AND FRANCE .- Jas. D. McCabe, Jr., author of that lively book, "Paris by Sunlight and Gaslight," and other recent publications, has completed the history of the great contest of 1770-71, between Germany and France, and the work is published in a handsome volume by the National Publishing Company, of Philadelphia. Waile sides with the Tories, but his accession to the style is flowing and easy the work is remarkably comprehensive without being tedious with details, giving a clear and impartial history, embracing the causes of the war, which date long anterior to its breaking out. A minute and sufficiently detailed account of the battles and sieges of the war are given for a full comprehension of the great campaign, and biographical sketches of the principal persons engaged in the contest. The book is embellished by over 150 engravings and maps, to which is added a complete ac count of the second siege of Paris and the destruction of its fine monuments and buildings by the Commune. The work is sold exclusively by agents, and one is wanted in every town in the country. An active intelligent canvasser should be able to sell the book very rapidly and extensively.

Goder's Lady's Book-"The Defence," a steel-plate of unusual merit, is the frontispiece embellishment of the September No. of Godey. The colored fashion-plate is also very fine. The extension sheet contains thirty-four designs for ladies' wear. The "Fair Reaper" is a capital wood-cut. The designs of hats and bonnets for the month are very becoming. A chapter on the manufacture of shell flowers will prove interesting to the lovers of art. The literary contents are from the pens of our most popular magazine writers. CONSUMPTION. ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE. BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Manya human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably provau means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless summer into which, had they calmly adopted DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines they would not have failen. Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthand his directions for their use, is quickened into neating livings.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the fails of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by liv. Schenck's neelicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing. The Section of the latest the self-assured to the maisly is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in drapepals and a functionally disordered liver—With this condition the broughtal tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbide action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in with all its distressing symptoms of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature' noblest gifts—the Pulophillum Peliatum. They posses all the blood-sarching, alterative properties of calomel but unlike calomel, they "LEAVE NO STING BEHIND." The work of cure is now beginning. The withtest and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver like a clock is wound up—li arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsiblely, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting at last

A Supply of Good Blood. at last

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Sea-weel Tonic, in conjuction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digostion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in. Now convex the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent Father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Styang comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lot in a very short time the malady is vaniquished, the rotten throne it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented, or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are bodly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the rroom as much and as fast as the strength will bear to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest worlds:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtaining the reparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of ms. It seemed to ms that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matteron my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweate all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with great difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength and have grown in fesh ever since.

"I was weighted shortly after my recovery," added the Doottor, "then looking like a mere skeleton, my weight was only minety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five 2229 pounds. And for years have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued h and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mendrake Pills are to be taken in increased doese; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them? First create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the depairing at once be of good cheer, though bood at once follows; the cough loosens, the night sawns is absted. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a lexative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against community of the faring.

Interesting Facts for Farmers

Interesting Facts for Farmers.

A trial of Thrashers and Cleaners took place on the 17th of April, at the farm of Benjamin Briggs, near Tulytown, Pa., between the Machine made by Wheeler, Melick & Co., Albany, New York, and the Machine made by the Trenton Agrigultural Works, Trenton, N. J., which resulted as follows: Each party had the privilege of thrashing twenty-five (25) sheaves before the trial, to give them an opportunity to regulate their machines, after which each machine thrashed two houdred (200) sheaves, of which an accurate account was kept of the time occupied in thrashiding, closuness of grain thrashed, and grain wasted. Both Machines were run by the same power and team, and the sheaves thrashed were all taken from the same mow.

After the twenty-five (25) sheaves had been thrashed by the Albany Machine, the operators expressed themselves ready for trial. Two houdred (200) sheaves were then thrown from the mow, which were thrashed and cleaned ready for market by the Albany Machine in twenty-two minutes. Twenty-five sheaves were then taken from the mow and thrashed by the Trenton Agricultural Works' Machine. The contrast between the work done by the two Machines was so great that the operators of the Trenton Agricultural Works' Machine.

After the ten extra sheaves had been thrashed, two hundred were then taken from the same mow, which were throabed and cleaned (but not fit for market) in thirty-three and one-laft minutes. The difference in the time of thrashing the two hundred sheaves was cleven and one-quarter pounds in favor of the Albany Machine.

The difference in the saving of grain, was eleven and one-quarter pounds in favor of the Albany Machine.

We the undersigned Committee on Threshing Machines at the trial held at the farm of Mr. Benjamin Briggs near Tullytown, Pa., on the 11th of April last, having observed an advertisement published in the paper, signed by Bennington (III), President of the Trenton Agricultural Works, charging Mr. John S. Beers, General Agent for the Wheeler, Melick & Co., of having given an incorrect statement of the recent trial, we therefore, as gentlemen, deen it our duty in justice to Mr. Beers and the company he represents, to inform the public that his statement of the facts and figures of the trial we believe to be all true and correct.

Signed,

MINOR II. IVINS. NEIR TULLYTOWN, Pa., June 19, 1871.

MINOR II. IVINS, JOHN WHARTON, JOHN BURTON, Committee. Statement of Mr. Briggs in regard to the Trial. NEIR TULLYTOWN, June 19, 1871. MR. JOHN BUTTERWORTH, JR — Dear Sir:—I am sur-prised to see a letter without date published by Benning-ton (III). President of the Trenton Agricultural Works, prised to see a letter without date published by Henning-ton till, President of the Tration Agricultural Works, in the "Geell County Whig," Maryland, purporting to be a cupy of a letter that I sent to you before the trial of machines at my place.

This letter being published without date, I think is inceased to mislead the public and leave the impression that it was sent to you after the trial. After witnessing the trial of both machines, I will say that the Albany Thrasher and Clemer proved itself all that you represented it to be and will also say that your statements of facts and figures in regard to the recent trial, I believe to be true and correct.

The statement that I would not allow your machine to remain on my premises is not true, as the machine BENJAMIN BRIGGS.

Signed,

Benjamin Brigos.

By a careful comparison of the alove facts it will be seen that the Albany machine did the same work in one-third less time, and in thrashing twenty-five hundred sheaves, (an ordinary day's work) would save one hundred and forty pounds more grain than the machine made by the Trenton Agricultural Works.

After this couclusive trial wo think that farmers and designs will have no difficulty in deciding which machine it is their interest to purchase.

A supply of Albany machine will be kept constantly on hand, at the New Jersey Agricultural Works, corner Sandtown Road and Canal Street, Trenton, New Jersey, For further particulars, address
