LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Religious.—Rev. H. R. WALWORTH will preach in the Universalist Church, Chesapeake City, to-morrow, at 10½ o'clock A.M., and 7½ in the evening.

Mail Messenger Appointed.—Samuel C. Lowman has been designated by the Postmaster General as mail messenger, at Elkton, at $400 a year, from September 1st, 1871; vice John R. Lowman.

A Mistake Corrected.—Rev. Thos. L. Poulson has not declined the call received from the First English Reformed Church, of Baltimore, as stated in our columns last week.

Auction Sale.—The Auction at the Burton store house is continued every evening. On Tuesday next, 29th Inst., at 1½ o'clock P. M., there will be another sale, to which the ladies are invited. The stock must be closed out, and either sold or given away.

Arm Broken.—Mrs. Brown, an aged lady, wife of Mr. John E. Brown, of this town, while in the act of descending the steps from the Court House yard to the pavement, on Wednesday evening last, stepped on some slippery substance and fell, fracturing her right arm at the wrist.

Quarterly Meetings.—The second Quarterly Meeting of Zion Circuit, Methodist Episcopal Church, for this Conference year, will be held at St. John's appointment, on Sabbath and Monday, the 3rd and 4th of September, proximo.

The second Quarterly Meeting for Elk Neck Charge will be held on Saturday and Sabbath, the 26th and 27th Inst., at Hart's Chapel. Quarterly Conference Saturday, 3 o'clock P. M. Love Feast on Sabbath, at 9 A. M.; preaching at 10½ A. M., by the P. E., Rev. J. D. Curtis.

Found Blind.—Andrew King, from Wilmington, aged 71 years, was in this neighborhood this week, trading in peaches, and was discovered by Dr. Mitchell on Tuesday morning last, lying in his wagon along side of the road, and his horse, which looked to be about 23 years old, down in the gutter. The sleeper was rescued by the Doctor, but found to be entirely blind, caused by paralysis, while asleep. The old man and his old horse were taken care of till word was sent to his friends in Wilmington, who came and took them home.

Local Miscellany.—The contract for putting in heater for sheriff's house and jail was awarded, by the Commissioners, on Saturday last, to J. Weatherby & Son, of Baltimore, for $445.

On Monday and Tuesday nights of last week, 37,450 baskets of peaches passed through the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, for Philadelphia.

Rev. Wm. Brickley, above Bay View, in this county, has lost another valuable horse, by inflammation of the bowels.

We are pleased to announce that Rev. T. Tull, pastor of the Elk Neck Charge, who has been prostrated for some days by bilious fever, is convalescent.

Good Templars' County Convention.—The sixth County Convention of the Good Templars of Cecil county and vicinity, will be held in the M. E. Church, at Cherry Hill, on Thursday, the 5th of September, at 10 o'clock A.M.

Arrangements are made for the entertainment of all Good Templars who may attend and a conveyance will meet the 9.41 A. M. train north at Elkton, to convey the delegates coming by that route.

A public meeting will probably be held in the evening, and some speakers from a distance are invited.

GEO. BALDERSTON, Secretary.

A. R. C. M.—The above letters indicate that we have a few words to say in relation to a remarkable colored man now living in his own house in East Fourth near Walnut in this city, by name Michael Sterling.—He was born a slave in Sassafras Neck, Cecil county, Md., and after having been transfered by sale from one master to another, finally succeeded about fifty years ago, in purchasing for a stipulated sum, from his last owner, that freedom which God, by right, intended every man to enjoy. By close application to business, which was and is yet, that of a Blacksmith, he succeeded in about twenty three months in saving enough to pay his late master and have his papers cancelled. He is now within two months of being eighty-five years of age, and may still be heard every day, when well, working away at the anvil. In conversation with this remarkable man, a day or two ago, he told me that he had been a member of the Methodist M. E. Church for sixty-seven years, having been taken in by the late Rev. Wm. Torbert, in the year 1810 Cecil Cicuit, which then took in all the territory from Wilmington to the Susquehana and as far as Smyrna.

Wilmington (Del.) Republican.

Surgery.—Successful operations are always subjects of congratulation, both as regards the suffering public and the medical profession. To the pain racked patient still recoiling from the glittering catlin and the keen scalpel as instruments of torture, rather than of cure, they ever come, as it were, freighted with hope and pregnant with dreams of deliverance.

Joshua M. Ash, a worthy citizen of our town, and late a member of Co. B. 6th Maryland Infantry, was, at the battle of Coal Harbor, in the Wilderness, on the 2d day of June, 1864, seriously wounded by a minnie ball. The column had succeeded in taking three lines of the enemy's breastworks, and in assaulting a fourth line it got under a cross-fire, and was compelled to retreat; and in this repulse it was that Mr. Ash was wounded, the shot taking effect just above the hip. It was thought the ball came from a New York regiment in support; but when the ball itself came to light, it proved to be a "Reb" bullet, weighing a fraction over an ounce. The most patient endeavors of the "Surgeon in charge" failed in its detection. The wound refused to heal, however, and shortly after the injury he became affected with paralysis of the left side.

Until the morning of the last operation, he was a constant sufferer,—the pain at times amounting to agony. At the solicitation of friends, he once before appealed to the art of surgery for relief; but, unfortunately, the endeavor was unsuccessful.—After years of suffering, he again placed himself in the surgeon's hands; and last Saturday morning, Dr. R. H. Tuft and Dr. J. H. Frazer, commenced the operation for finding and removing the ever-painful bullet, and, we are glad to state, with the happiest results. The ball removed was the usual sized minie, and had been somewhat flattened at the end by contact with bone when entering.

The patient is doing very well, and hopes soon, like Richard, to be himself again.

In Season—Fruit Jars.—Hero, Pearl, Gem and Stone. Dried Beef, Sugar-Cured Hams, Breakfast Bacon and Shoulder.—Powder, Shot, Caps and Wads in large or small quantities, at low prices for cash.

BEE HIVE.

CHESAPEAKE CITY ITEMS.

Sale of Property.—Mr. Robt. Polk has sold to Mr. Thos. Conrey, a lot, at the entrance of the locks, and adjoining lots of Mr. William Easton. Mr. Polk has also sold to Mr. Henry H. Brady, his farm adjoining Chesapeake, which was sometime ago laid off in town lots and offered for sale.

New Church.—The members of the African M. E. Church, of Chesapeake City and vicinity, are arranging to erect a new Church in this town. They propose to make a beginning about September 1st.

Progressing.—The work on Mr. Conrey's new brick building is progressing rapidly. This will be quite an improvement to Chesapeake. The building is to be three stories high, with a pressed brick front.

Deceased.—Dominick McDade, a very industrious and hard working man, who for several years has been in the employ of Mr. William Boulden, died on Friday, of last week, after a short illness, with congestive chills.

Drowned.—A boy aged about 10 years, was drowned on Saturday night last, in the creek at this place. He belonged to one of the barges lying at the wharfs.—It appears that he was fishing and fell overboard. No one seeing him; but his father missed him after awhile and seeing his hat, concluded he must have fallen overboard. He immediately began to grapple with grappling irons and succeeded in catching the body of his drowned boy.—He was taken to the Easton House and prepared for burial. The remains were interred in the Methodist burying ground in this town, on last Sabbath afternoon.

Improving.—The town Commissioners have been busy the past week repairing and improving the sidewalks on Biddle street; But have not yet concluded to erect street lamps or a lock-up.

NORTH EAST ITEMS.

Drought.—The severe drought was superseded on Wednesday night, by a splendid rain, which laid the dust and no doubt, pleased the farmers.

Improvement.—The McCullough Iron Co. have in contemplation the removal of their Runout and Coke Oven to the east side of the Works, in order to facilitate the extension of their Railroad near by the Mills for the delivery of metal and coal.

Repairs.—Workmen are still engaged repairing the wing walls of the Railroad bridge over Stony Run, a short distance west of North East station.

Personal.—Mr. Charles T. Foster, who has been absent from his home over twenty-one years, in California, returned again this week. A very warm and cordial greeting awaited him by his relatives and friends in this community.

Money Sale.—On Wednesday night, 23rd inst., the North East Building and Loan Association sold $2,000 at 21 and 22 per cent. premium.

The Corn.—The prospect for an average crop of corn in this vicinity is good. Many fields look splendidly; others are affected by the dry weather.

FOURTH DISTRICT ITEMS.

The Weather.—Very hot and dry up to Thursday of this week,—needing rain badly. Those of our farmers who have not finished plowing for wheat, will find it difficult to do so until it rains.

Thieving.—A few evenings since, some one paid our friend Michael Sentmen a visit, we presume, for the purpose of stealing, from the fact that he found a lot of shirts, a good coat, and his lard missing the next morning.

Smash-Up.—On Thursday of last week, a man, (we did not learn the name,) let his horse get the better of him, while hauling water melons down the Rock hill, smashing a front wheel badly. After getting fixed up and on his journey, a couple of miles further on he let him go again; this time smaking melons, wagon and all. Cause—a sudden attack of the disease afflicting General McCook, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

The Rock Fair was a grand success.—Everything passed off pleasantly. One riding bridle brought $118, by voting; the candidates being two young ladies. Two afghans brought, on the same plan, $1,065. The splendid cake made by your townsman, and presented to the Fair by the Cherry Hill Lodge of Knights of Pythias, netted the Fair nearly $100. The articles disposed of by voto brought $1,404, and the net proceeds of the Fair were about $2,500.

CECILTON ITEMS.

Excursion.—On Sabbath last, Captain Colmary gave an excursion to Port Deposit from Georgetown, on his pleasant little steamer, Trumpeter—the object of the excursion being to afford an opportunity to persons who wished to attend the Woodlawn camp. Few availed themselves of the advantage, however, but those who did enjoyed the trip very much.

"Big Meeting."—The colored folks held what they called their "Big Meeting," in Cecilton, on last Sabbath. It was rightly named, for it was certainly a very large gathering; and in addition to numbers they had "big times." The affair, however, did not pass off altogether harmoniously. Bad spirits got into some of the men, a fight ensued between two of them, and one shot the other, but not seriously.

Peaches.—The peach seas on is more than half over, yet the fruit continues to be very plentiful, shipments heavy and the market dull.

Woods Meeting.—The Methodist Episcopal society propose holding a woods meeting here, commencing on the 2d of September.

Rain.—This region was visited on Wednesday last by copious showers, which the previous drought of two weeks made very acceptable.

PILOT TOWN ITEMS.

Swindle.—A swindler passed through the village of Mount Pleasant last March, with a model of an Iron roller for which he wished to procure Agents to sell the same. So he importuned the wheelwright to act as agent for the firm of Winan & Co., Michigan, who would send him two rollers to Rowlandsville; one worth $60 the other $65. He said their terms were each agent gave his note at six months payable at the nearest Bank—he, the agent, would give writing to show the note to be null and void if the rollers were not delivered.—The rollers never came; but a notice did come, saying, your note for $40 will be due at the Bank: 20:23 of September.

Post Office Department.—Mr. A. Lewis has thrown up his contract for carrying the mail from Peach Bottom to Conowingo. Mr. Brown has that route now. It is carried by a diminutive mule and a diminutive sulky and a diminutive boy—three times a week.

Fish.—The fish-pots are catching some splendid rock fish at Bald Friar. The river is unusually low at present.

Mineral.—Wm. R. Gilling, of this town, in digging a well struck a fine body of kalm or decomposed full spar.

Cheap Sweetening.—Sugar, 5 cents per lb; good Molasses, at 35 cents per gallon, at WILSON'S, Brick Meeting House.

COLORA ITEMS.

Temperance Lecture.—Edward Carswell, of Oshawa, Canada, delivered a very interesting and entertaining Temperance lecture to a very respectable audience, from an improvised platform at Colora, on Tuesday evening last, 22d inst. He was one of the principal speakers at the Nottingham mass meeting, and there gave such universal satisfaction, that a few Good Templars about here, as soon as they heard he had a few days to spend in this part of the world, were ready to assume the responsibility of employing him, and run the risk of securing an audience with three days' notice.—The result was equal to their expectations, and all went home expressing a strong desire to hear him again. He was introduced to the audience by Geo. Balderston, as chairman of the committee, with a few remarks, when he opened his address by showing with what ease the mind becomes used to the most revolting or loathsome scenes by familiarity with them, and gave this as the reason of the stolid indifference of the public mind to the every-day recital of crime and murder. You cannot pick up a newspaper of the present day, printed in any large town or city, but contains some record of crime or suffering caused by drink, which, did it proceed from any other cause, would raise the popular indignation against it. He spoke of the falsity of the idea that the social glass cemented friendship, or was necessary as an aid to sociability, and showed by some amusing examples that the reverse was the case. Individual influence, when properly exerted, has saved thousands who might else be lost, and has given us a John B. Gough to shine as a bright star among lecturers to point the erring drinker to the path of self-denial and honor. He paid a glowing tribute to the power of woman's influence in this great reform, remarking by way of illustration, that the country from which he came was ruled by a woman, and that every other one thought she had an equal right. He made a home thrust at the class of temperance men who wear their principles as a coat, to be put on or laid off at pleasure, and clinched the nail by an anecdote that will be long remembered by many who heard him. His manner of illustration and power of mimicry are unsurpassed by any one we ever listened to, unless we except Gough, whom he more resembles than any other we have heard. He wound up by a strong appeal to all to lend their active co-operation, by becoming working members in the Temperance army.

Trial of Thrashing Machines.—The trial of thrashers came off at Magraw's barn, on the day advertised, but did not prove a very satisfactory or harmonious time to either the agents or spectators. Several hundred farmers and others had assembled at 2 o'clock P. M., and they continued to increase in numbers until 3 or 4 o'clock.—The "Peerless" did not come to time by a half hour, for some reason, and after the machine was set ready for work, about two hours were spent in unnecessary parley, by the interested parties, in reference to all the different parts they could possibly find to cavil about. The consequence was that dark came on before the trial was concluded, and what was done was not sufficiently accurate to justify the judges in making an official report. We were sorry to see the trial turn out a fizzle, and so many go home without gratifying their curiosity.

Camp Meeting has been a great place of resort with many. The crowd on last Sabbath was immense, and the dust suffocating. A number of rowdies on the grounds were trying to clear their throats and muddle their brains with whisky, and one was arrested, making quite a little sensation. He had plenty of friends around to justify him, and a good Democratic J. P. was at hand to release him, on the ground that there is no law to prevent a man drinking and giving away as much as he pleases, and it was not proven that he sold it.—Nothing should be done to stop the drinking, until some violence is committed, when they come within reach of the law.

—The mails bring full details of the second battle in the Corea, which was fought on June 10th. The Palos and Monocacy shelled the Corean forts, while an expedition of nine hundred sailors and marines landed under cover of the fire and handsomely drove out the garrison, consisting of six thousand men. Two hundred and forty-three dead Coreans were found in the forts, but the American loss was only three killed and seven wounded.—Lieut. Mckee led the charge, and was killed at the head of his men. The Coreans fought bravely with their clumsy guns, spears and swords. After accomplishing its object the fleet returned to China. It is likely to be held that, so far as we are concerned, accounts with the Coreans are balanced, and that the outrages on our sailors have been avenged, and that no further attempts will be made to compel a treaty with Corea. But England and France have an injury similar to our own to redress, and North Germany is in perfect accord with us in the Asiatic Eastern policy. If anything further is done it is probable that a combined expedition will be undertaken to proceed to the capital of Corea and demand a joint treaty at the point of the bayonet which shall secure humane treatment to citizens of Westean nations who by any accident may chance upon Corean territory. But it must be several months at least before any further action of any kind will or can be arranged.

Dr. Cox, Homœpathic Physician, will visit Elkton, and stop at the Howard House on Thursday next, the 31st inst., and semi-monthly thereafter. Those wishing to place themselves under his treatment, can consult him there. Chronic diseases a specialty.

Don't miss the Bargains, at the NE PLUS ULTRA STORE of WILSON, B. M. House.

$8.00, Cash, will pay for a pair of the finest French Calf Skin Boots, at MASON'S.

Before spending your money, see where you can get the most for it. If you can't do it at the BEE HIVE, don't leave it there.

Still absent but not forgotten—LEVIS.—His store is a constant reminder of the proprietor. Nothing but first class goods can be purchased there. If you want common, they may be found elsewhere at about the same figures first quality can be purchased at Levis'.

☞ If you want to be in a good humor all the week, get your washing nicely done by 10 o'clock Monday morning and have the clothes ironed and put away before night. Now if you don't know how to do this, just inquire at Moore & Bro., who manufacture that famous "Wilmington City Soap." Ask your grocer for it.

Pestilence is reported as making its way through the Old World toward our coasts, and as nothing is so thorough a preventive of diseases as sweet, clean beds, we advise all who have feather beds to take them to the Steaming Machine, now established on Main street, and after going through LEVI's hands and steaming operations they will come out cleaner, lighter, sweeter and better than now feathers.

Rumor has reached us that STEPHEN B. FOUD, of Zion, Md., is disposed to sell his entire property, consisting of a neat Cottage Dwelling, Store House, Stock of Goods, &c., and retire from the business. If this be so, we think such an opportunity for an energetic business man seldom occurs, as a large business has been done there for several years, exclusively for cash or produce.

Those who purchase the Bone Dust manufactured by Thomas Waring, at Colora, in this county, have the opportunity of satisfying themselves that they get what they pay for, and not ground oyster shells, plaster, or a large admixture of cheap animal matter; but Pure Ground Bone, and nothing else. A thorough inspection of the mill and process of grinding, is invited. Samples sent on application to above address

LETTER FROM NORTH EAST.

NORTH EAST, August 21st, 1871.

MR. EDITOR:—I noticed in your issue of the 5th inst. an article on our late excursion, over the well known signature of "Teetotal." As an excursionist, I beg leave to reply to that indefatigable and somewhat flexible correspondent. "Teetotal," not content with vilifying his neighbors, and casting contumely upon our village through the agency of the "North East rum traffic," has now endeavored to scandalize our late excursion, by varying from the truth and magnifying mole hills into mountains. He has done this in order to create the impression among people who are unfamiliar with excursions, that this last, instead of being, as advertised, "a day of pleasure," was nothing more than a drunken spree, and gotten up solely for the purpose of making money; and that those persons who went, far from enjoying themselves, returned home "with a haggard and woe-begone appearance, bleary eyes and soiled dresses—became terribly seasick—" prayed God that if He "would only forgive them for this trip, they would never go on another excursion. New York! oh, but I am sick," and all such vulgar nonsense; all this because he and his coadjutors disapproved of the excursion from the first, but waited until it was over to stretch the truth and publish gossip, in order to defame it—thus exhibiting the "cloven hoof."

Now, for the correct information of those who know nothing of the excursion, with the exception of what they have learned from "Teetotal's" flexibility and gossip, I would say, from certain knowledge, that the excursion was not gotten up for a drunken spree—was not a drunken spree. It was not gotten up solely for the purpose of making money, and no money was made on it. I would furthermore state that, to my certain knowledge, all, with but very few exceptions, enjoyed themselves from the time the steamer left North East until she started on her return trip from Fair Haven; when, about two hours afterward, a storm, which no one could forsee, overtook her, which made it somewhat rough on the excursionists. Yet there was but little complaint, and there would have been much less, had the boat been fitted up with better night accommodations; but she was only a day boat, and had cost the stockholders equally as much as had a larger and much better boat the year before. Had it not been for the storm, the excursion would have arrived at North East in good time, and none but the "soreheads" who did complain, would have had any cause for complaint.

As to the "pilot losing his reckoning," as "Teetotal" observes, it is nonsense to suppose that a man of years of experience on the waters of Chesapeake Bay and North East River, as a pilot, would cast anchor in sight of a well known "light," and that, too, in sight of the very land on which it is situated, because he "could steer no further in the dark." The boat did stop at Turkey Point, but it was because we did not want to land in the dark and storm, and several persons were to be landed at Bull's Mountain, but a few miles above. The "Committee" did lose nine dollars on the excursion, and the great majority of them say they are willing to risk nine more next year. The cateress did refuse "to pay up all her liabilities, in consequence of which they (the Committee) had to call on Bailiff De Ford for assistance, who, with their aid, captured a keg of larger from her," but here "Teetotal" is altogether off the track. Now, to show that the excursion was not such a disgusting affair as "Teetotal" would like to make it out to have been, I would say that, when the Bailiff appeared on the boat, (of course he could do nothing,) the woman informed the Committee that if she had sold five more kegs of lager, she would have paid all her liabilities. The Committee then asked her what the retail price of a keg would have been. She answered, "ten dollars." They then offered to take the whole five kegs at that price—which offer was at length accepted, and they then proceeded to sell right back to her, at the rate of three dollars per keg, thus realizing the sum of fifteen dollars, which they never would have gotten, had it not been for that little piece of sharp practice. The "keg of lager" to which "Teetotal" refers, was one that was bought and paid for by two or three individuals who could not resist the temptation to get drunk, after having landed on "terra firma." The parties to whom "Teetotal" refers as having been "rendered unfit for business for the day, losing good situations for neglect of duty," were not on the excursion, but got drunk in North East, on the morning after the excursion. "Teetotal" then winds up by hoping that "for the credit of the town and its vicinity, this will be the last Annual Excursion" that will leave North East. Now, whenever anything happens in North East, that is in the least discreditable, and to which the word "Rum" can be applied, "Teetotal" is always around to have his "finger in the pie." He then inserts his little quill and blows and blows, until it is inflated to the utmost it will bear, and then publishes it as a memento of his love of morality and temperance.—Bravo! "Teetotal," go on! go on!—but remember, "there's a time to sing and a time to dance;" and we chose the excursion for it.

E. X. CURSION.

[We don't see that this account differs materially from Teetotal's.—ED.]

DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE.—The "unterrified" catch it from all quarters. A reform meeting was held in Baltimore, on Wednesday night, when J. J. Stewart, Esq. one of the speakers, referred, in the course of his remarks, to the municipal extravagance of New York and Philadelphia, the debt of the former being over $100,000,000, that of the latter over $50,000,000, and said while Baltimore had not approximated either in extravagance, its comptroller's report showed that our expenses had increased from $750,000 in 1860 to $1,950,000 in 1870, in round numbers more than double, but not three times as much. Our police force now costs over $500,000, against less than half that sum during Mayor Chapman's administration, and he would ask any one present if it did better service. What is the condition of our streets at this season of malaira and threatened pestilence? Were they in half as cleanly a condition as during the period from 1860 to '66? [Several responses, "No!"]

The contrast between Republican economy and Democratic extravagance is the same under all circumstances.
