KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE!

It behooves every earnest Republican, who desires to see the State and county rid of the merciless tax-gathering party, which for five years has been plundering the overburthened people, to be at work earnestly. But little more than four weeks intervene between this day and the election. Keep the people in mind, that the taxes of the county have been nearly doubled since the Democratic party have been in power. Keep it before the people! that the taxes have increased, while the price of farm produce has declined. Keep it before the people! that the roads were never so bad throughout the county, as they have been under Democratic super-

Keep it before the people! that the Court expenses have frightfully increased, under Democratic rule. Keep it before the people! that the bases of taxation in the county, in 1863, was only $9,033,621, and the rate of county tax was but 49 cents on the $100, when everything was at war prices, and gold was at a premium of 150 cents on the dollar. Our county tax then was $39,362.78, and school tax. 9.639.91.

In 1869, the base of taxation was $14,-284,892, and the rate of county tax, 45 cts. on the $100. The previous year, $99,648,-66 were collected off of the tax-payers of the county. The years '70 and '71, show an assessment of $107,977.35, and $90,157 .-

The produce of the farm commanded in two-thirds of what it did under the years to frighten all matrimonial intentions from of low taxation and Republican rule.

The Devil an Augel of Light. "When the Devil was sick The Devil a Monk would be But when the Devil was well Devil a Monk was he.'

This old satire on hypocrites is forcibly brought to mind in the Cecil Democrat's abuse of Mr. Tome, where he charges him with "trafficking in human flesh," and appeals in an underhanded way to the colored men to vote for Mr. Whyte, the candidate of that party, without inquiring how many slaves Mr. Whyte owned or sold before the Republican party emancipated them in this State, against the most strennous opposition on the part of the Democrats. The Democrat never even hints at the cause of the banishment and sale of the particular colored individual, over whom 'The Devil a Monk" is shedding crocodile tears. This criminal was guilty of a most fiendish piece of arson. Taking some of fense at one of the lady members of Mr. Tome's family, he watched a favorable opportunity to fire the house while attending to the furnace in the cellar, and by this deliberate act of fiendishness, sought, for a slight pique, to not only lay in one smouldering ruin the finest building in the town. but for aught he cared roast alive the family. For such a crime he received a lighter punishment than he deserved, as all will

The way the slave party of the State dealt, when negroes committed such crimes, was to give them the longest term in the penitentiary the law would allow, and then assess the value of the criminal on the tax-payers of the county, and pay over the amount out of the taxes to the master of the criminal.

We witnessed a case in point at the Court of this county, a few years before emancipation. A half witted colored girl, about 12 or 14 years old, had been hired to a some member of the family, she sought revenge by firing her master's barn. She was convicted at Court and sent to the penitentiary. Three men were appointed, this simple creature whom no one would have been willing to purchase at any price, was appraised at $700, and part of the Judge's sentence was an order on the County lors of this against her, to appraise one would be to backward but improves with ago. As is usual with monthlies at this time of year, it is throwing out feelers for its next volumn of 1872 and offers the three last number of this control of the county lors of this control of the control o however, after sentence had been pronounc Commissioners to pay the owner of the girl—not the man whose barn had been burned—but the owner of this girl who had hired her to him—$700, because the State was about to deprive him of his pro-

This state of affairs is what the Demo crat and its party mean when they pledge themselves to return if possible to the "Constitution of our fathers as it was."
The whole Democratic party from the Pennsylvania line to the Rio Grande, Pennsylvania line to the Rio Grande, mourn for their lost privilege, and a restoration of the laws which enabled them to sell into perpetual slavery in distant States, the most virtuous and pious colored people, and for the gratification of avarice, rend assunder the most sacred family ties.

The Devil being sick now would fain play the role of Monk, but let a prospect appear for the restoration of the old slave Democratic regime, and this cauting Cecil member of the satanic priesthood would be among the first to drop the Monk's cowl. TALBOT. The Star tells the following rat story:—
On Tuesday night, a large rat made a savage attack on Lewis Marshall, while he was in bed and asleep. Marshall is a clerk in the drug store of Henry & Goldsborough, and sleeps in the room over the store.— Sometime in the night he was waked by something biting him in the back, but supposing he had only been dreaming, he went to sleep again. Sometime afterwards he was again waked by a large rat biting at his left car. The "varmint" had seized him by the ear and given him a severe bite, but did not exattly pull him out of bed.— Marshall then rose for battle, and succeeded n killing the rat. It was a rouser, and as
