In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not pussessed by any other washing machine yet invented.) are here enumerated. It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most casily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no serves to amony, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a ministure giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One-half of the lader is fully saved by its use and the clothes will hat one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses the testimony of honest and enligatened witnesses, extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as an antidote and cure for many ailments, is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the worst, innumerate preparations, increased to complete withit, have gone up like rockets, and come down the extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward, like the cagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that not go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one cannot go backwards. To-day floatester's interrs is of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspeptia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy.— This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to folds their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckrs."

This derangement produce deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose healthy bile is secreted.

The atomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleaned by he use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains making the atomach aweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expedial the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavides are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in firsh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs,—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things,—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in firsh and get aft; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the inner of the disease that is not entirely good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is not long in the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is not lung, where the form may be.

It is important that while using Scheck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold keep in-doors in cold and d dility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritions diet, and all the Medicines continued until the help has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength. body has restored to it the natural quantity of Resn and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone.—
I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never sen.

About the First of October, I expect to take peaces sion of my new building, at the Northeast Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my Remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

A Nero, a Decius, or hearty appelite, and prepare the system for the first Diocletian, might vainly decree the utter Diocletian, might vainly decree the utter extermination of christianity: but centuries before, the spirit of prophecy had propounded the significant question: "Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his Annointed, saying, Let us break their speaking, I will hear." "Call upon me in bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us." And the same spirit of prophecy had declared: "Thou shalt break them the prayer of the destitute; and will not with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them | despise their prayer." Thomas Hood was the prince of wits His nature was so steeped in the choices spirit of humor that it continually bubled over in quip and jest, like a cool spring welling up in desert places. He was the magician of words, ruling language with a despotic sway, and by a wave of his hand compelling it to perform the strangest transearnect as possible. The words are mostly common Saxon words with which every one is familiar; but they are chosen with exquisite taste. Hood spoke like a childartlessly, naturally, yet with what wisdom and wit, and "tears and laughters for all times!" The popularity of his humorous writing is very wonderful if we bear in mind the evanescent character of wit, and especially that form of wit which we call 'punning." A flash, a sudden contrast, a laugh and all is ever; the heartiness of our laughter being in proportion to the suddenthe holy of holies?
