The "MARILAND" is a rejuvenator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Fernian Guano, and sustains equal to Hone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very literal percentage of Potash in the residum. There is no adulterator nor inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land—Neither pains nor expense have been sparsed in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay.

For Cotton, Wheat and Corn, and was general attinulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high

Improved Dairy Stock. The following is from the Mark Lane Express, and is probably an illustration of the way dairy stock is improved in England. With us little attention is paid by dairymen to improvement of their herds, on which account the extract is of more value to our readers:

"Every succeeding year finds farmers increasing their dairy stock, laying out their land so as best to suit its successful management, each year developing greater interest on the subject of the breeding of the best breeds of cattle, and the most profitable modes of managing them, than its predecessor. With dairy stock it would almost appear as if there was no such thing as standing still. Unless improvement is aimed at constantly by weeding out those mem-bers of the herd which are found to be inferior milkers, and by occasionally introducing fresh and, if possible, supe rior blood through the agency of the sire, there is great danger of retrogres It is neither profitable nor creditable to a farmer to have his stock decreasing in stamina, in lower condition, and the receipts from their produce less than during previous years, yet unless the interest in their welfare and improvement is constantly kept up, this is a contingency that is almost sure to become a certainty. No bad milker should have a permanent place in a herd which is kept not for show, nor for breeding purposes solely, but principally for the disposal of dairy produce. To keep such a cow is simply to lose money wilfully, her keep costing quite us much as the best milker in the stall, and the trouble she occasions just as much as that given by the animal which gives double her amount of produce. It may be difficult to have every one first-rate, yet the herd may be so improved by judicious selection as to have all good cows. In a stock of farty we shall sup pose that there are ten bad, or at all events indifferent, milkers. By testing the milk of these cows carefully, and ascertaining the amount of produce in butter to be under the average of what might be fairly expected from the care and keep expended on each, there is nothing more easy than to keep the bull from them, dry off at the end of the season, stall feed, and get rid of them without any further loss. To fill their places, from twelve to twenty heifers can be sent to dairy, ample margin being thus left to afford a choice at the period of calving. By persisting for a few years in this course the stock will not only become first-class milkers and increase the profits of their owners, but will gain a character and a reputation in the district for their good qualities. Much can be done in a given time by holding over the offspring of those cows which have proved themselves to be first-class milkers, breeding, if possible for all permanent stock from those only and thus getting into a strain of milkers. It is just as likely as not that a heifer, whose mother was an excellent milker, may herself turn out to be scarcely worthy of house room; but when she is the descendent of a cele brated line of pail fillers, the probabiliities are altogether in her favor that she will possess in a high degree the good qualities of her race.

the most careful scrutiny, be an occa-sionally bad milker. This no forethought can prevent, and whatever loss may result, it must only be accepted for the time being, and the removal of the animal causing it effected on the first favorable opportunity. With re-gards to the best breeds of cattle for dairy purposes, it may be taken as a very safe rule, that every district of country possesses a breed of cattle in every way suitable to its climate and expensively purchased and brought from great distances, may do very badly and BRIDLES, soil; and that, with care, skill and capital combined, good specimens fit for general purposes may be obtained without geing far from home. It is quite out going far from home. It is quite possible that cattle of a particular bread, possible that cattle of a particular bread proposes, Sash, Blinds, Mouldings, &c., on hand, and can furnish anything in my line at shorte HORSE COVERS, lead to much disappointment and loss before becoming acclimatised, and even afterwards never doing so well as the ordinary breeds to be found in the locality. MILLIONS Bear Teatimony to their Wonderful Curnityo Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors dectored, spiced and ascetened to please the tasts, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Rectorers," &c., that lead the tippler onto drunkenness and ruin, but are at rue Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of Culifornia, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a laculity condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell-provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair. They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Viseral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhead or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumanleons of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Blandser, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Bleensease caused by Villated Blood.

One battle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects. Cleanae the Villated Blood whenever you find its impurities barsting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanae it when you find it to batructed and sluggish in the veinst cleanae it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. important to food regularly; but not too often, as the stock will cat lie down and ruminate.

BACON AND EGGS .- Cut the bacon in thin rashers and fry; when done, lay it in a hot dish before the fire. Break the eggs in separate cups and place them gently in the pan; keep them in a round flat shape. When the white is set, take them out of the pan with a slice, and place an egg on each rasher. The pretty appearance of the dish is spoiled if the eggs be broken; for which reason great care must be used in taking them out of the pan.

Best Feed for Fattening Cattle. A farmer in fattening cattle, should bear in mind that it does not pay to feed grain to animals, that do not take on flesh rapidly, and that his main object should be to get the most out of his fodder possible; if his stock is poor and will not take on flesh rapidly, it would be far more profitable to sell them off, and buy better animals. The following plan is recommended in fat-tening cattle, by an old stock-breeder: Commence with as much food as they

Some farmers complain that they do not get pay for what grain they feed out; but it is only those who feed light, that thus complain; whether the animals are to be fed a long or short time, it should have heavy feeding. Corn meal is considered the most profitable; those who are most successful, and make the business of fattening cattle the most profitable, are those who feed meal largely.
