To be Given Away to Subscribers of The Whig as New Year Presents .- Every subscriber is entitled to a present worth one dollar; see premium offer in another column. Large numbers are availing themselves of our liberal offer every week, but we have enough for all! The time is growing short. Only twelve working days remain between now and the first of January, when the prizes will be ordered.

The ladies of the household should see to it that they secure a Family Magazine stored with the very best of original and select reading, when it can be had for the asking. Lawyers, farmers, bankers, me chanics and merchants, the foremost business men of the county, are sending in their names.

BILLS.

After this week, our subscribers and advertising patrons, who are in arrears, will have their accounts mailed to them, and with the hope that they will immediately return a favorable response. By cheek is the safest and cheapest way to remit money. If the amount of the bill is deposited in any bank-Cecil, Elkton, Rising Sun, Oxford, or any of the Delaware banks, and a check enclosed for the amount, there is no danger of losing money by the mail. A money order is equally safe, but costs more. Or from any part of the county the risk is exceedingly small by enclosing the amount in a letter. Remit, however, in any way you please, when you receive the bill. Pay up! and then you can hold up your head in company when you don't owe the printer.

He soon removed this barrier, however, by introducing himself as "Fulton, of the American." After this introduction we saw the family likeness, having had previously some acquaintance with the father. He said he had come to Elkton on a yacht, which, unexpectedly to him, was to remain in Elk river for some time, and he was compelled to go back to Baltimore on the cars; but having left home hastily, hunfortunately found himself in a strange place without money. He had no acquaintance in town either, except the Hon. Alexander Evans, who, unluckily, was away from home at that time. So with the greatest alacrity we planked that X. The young sailor reached for a pen and proposed to leave his autograph to an obligation acknowledging the receipt of the money, which he would return the next day by money order. But no; we didn't want any writing on the subject. Certainly not. His word was all sufficient, as good as his bond, we doubt not. Many days, however, passed, and no word came from the distinguished stranger, in acknowledgment of the obligation. In the meantime we discovered, by making some inquiries, that part of his story was a lie, and began to think that we might have been sold.

In the Circuit Court for Cecil county. In chancery.

December 13th, 1871.

The object of this suit is to procure a Decree for the sale of the real estate of Edmund Martin, deceased, for the payment of debts due by deceased.

The Bill states that the said Elmund Martin being indebted unto the complainant in the sum of $1,500, and to divers other persons in large amounts, and being scized and possessed of certain real estate lying in Cecil county, and described in the Bill and exhibits, departed this life intestate, about the year lv1, leaving the said Ann Martin, of Cecil county, his widow, and Elizabeth Massell, with of Duvid Massell, Harrier Hofford, wife of John Hofford, Mary Ressler, wife of William Ressler, Amanda Lamberby, wife of David Lambery, Sarah Martin, J. William Martin, Howard Preston and Jane Preston, and the complainant, all of whom reside out of the State of Maryland, his heirs at law. That letters of administration have been granted unto the said Ann Martin, and that the personal estate is inaufficient to pay the debts of the deceased.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that the complainant by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published at Elkton, once a week for one month before the 17th day of April, next, to answer the premises and show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.
