FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

To Fatten Poultry.

Good corn meal, given alternately raw, and cooked as a thick mush, is the best food for fattening fowls. Oatmeal, skimmed milk, boiled potatoes, sugar, suet, and other things are sometimes recommended, but the first two do not particularly promote fattening, potatoes are too loosening to the bowels to form a chief part of the diet, sugar is too dear, though used considerably for the purpose in England, and suet is not cheap enough either, unless of poor quality, in which case the flavor of the flesh is impaired. In this land of corn we need not be at a loss in selecting feed. It contains more fat-producing material than any other kind of grain. Hens are more fond of it than any other, and of course their appetites are to be consulted, since we wish to coax them to eat as much as possible. To aid digestion, and thus help the fattening process indirectly, give occasionally meat and vegetables in small quantities if the fowls are confined. Corn, wheat, and other grains in the kernel are much relished by way of variety. If we were to add anything to the above bill of fare to produce fat it would be a little first quality of lard mixed with the meal towards the last. It needs not much change in order to be transferred to the stores of fat in the animal's body, and it will be eaten with avidity after appetite for the ordinary rations flags, for fowls are always greedy for animal food.

In some cases it may be best to shut up fowls in such small apartments that they can hardly stir, for exercise and rapid fattening are antagonistic, but unless a very great amount of fat is desired, it is not necessary to do so.—Good, healthy fowls, fed regularly, often and plentifully, will become fat enough without confinement, and for ourselves we prefer them to those that have been shut up. As a matter of economy it is well enough to coop fattening fowls, in order to add as much to their weight as possible by means of a certain quantity of feed.

Chickens half or two-thirds grown must not be expected to become decidedly fat under any system of feeding, though we would except the Brahmas and others of the Asiatic class. We hear about fat chickens oftener than we see them, for they have a tendency to turn all that they digest into frame and feathers. A well fed chicken is, however, much more palatable and juicy than an ill fed one.

A friend of ours writes from Ohio that hawks have taken nearly all his chickens, and proved such a scourge that he offered $1 per head for all shot, and says that all his neighbors about are likewise troubled. He inquires for a method of trapping them. We know of but one and that we learned from a description awhile since given in the AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST. Our way of constructing the trap is as follows:

In a piece of board laid flatways on the ground insert five pieces of wire in a perpendicular position so that they shall describe a circle seven inches in diameter. In the centre of the circle tie a rather small chicken down by its feet with stout twine passed through gimlet holes in the board. The tops of the wires should be four inches higher than the back of the chicken, and must be sharpened to very keen points. Place your trap, of course, far enough off from the other chickens so that the marauder won't take the wrong one. The board should have a covering of dirt so as not to attract his attention, and for the same reason the wires should be painted the exact color of the soil, and a few fine stalks of grass, with leaves drooping as naturally as possible, must be made to stand close to each wire. The MODUS OPERANDI of this trap is so obvious as to need no explanation.

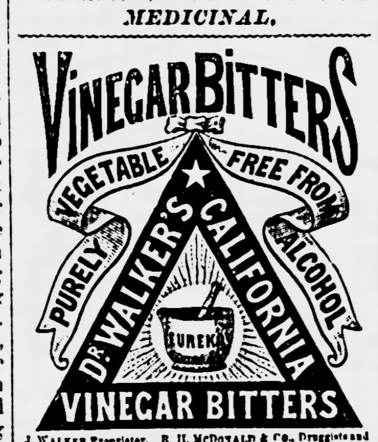
STOCK JOURNAL.

Co-operation among Farmers.

Why should farmers complain of combinations among middle men? Have they greater numbers, greater power to protect their own interests? The small class of operators between the producers and consumers are simply endeavoring to make money in their business. They find it beneficial to consult and co-operate with each other in the promotion of their mutual interests. They cannot be blamed for any legitimate effort to build up their own business. Instead of complaining of middle men, let the farmer take a lesson from them and other business interests, and organize their own. The labor of the farmer is less remunerative than of any other class. The merchants, the mechanics, [illegible] ...ducts. Agriculturists need now more than anything else the stimulus of proper competition. The reason why nothing is settled in agriculture is that each one operates on a system of his own, having little conference or association with his brother farmers. No question can be started pertaining to the culture of the soil, the value of a particular crop, the raising or feeding of animals, the best methods of making butter or cheese, or any other question concerning farming, but will call out almost as many systems as there are farmers who discuss it. This is not true of manufactures or trades, and the reason is, that the classes who carry those on are often brought into contact with each other, living in villages and towns. They meet and discuss all the questions relating to their business, which soon become settled and practice nearly uniform. Farmers have taken some steps in the right direction. They have to some extent formed town, county, and state societies for the promotion of agriculture, but these usually bring them together but once a year and then in a very hurried way. There is little or no time for them to confer with each other upon questions of farm practice. What the farmers need is an organization, a FARMERS UNION, for each town or part of a town, with territory so limited that they may meet, at least every month; where all questions may be reported upon and discussed after being put to the test of practical experiment. This method thoroughly carried out, for ten years, would advance agriculture more than the accomplishment of the last hundred years.

What are the obstacles in the way of the formation and practical working of such Unions?—STOCK JOURNAL.

MEDICINAL.



J. WALKER Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co. Druggists and Gen. Ag'ts, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 and 34 Commerce st., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No System of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
