The Situation.

The political situation remains decidedly mixed. Mr. Greeley has accepted formally the nomination of the Cincinnati Convention, in an elaborate letter, in which he says everything is lovely and he has no doubt of being elected. The Democracy are decidedly not a happy family, part of their leaders are for taking Greeley, while others are for a straight-out Democratic nomination by the Baltimore Convention.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate on Friday the House resolution for an adjournment on June 3d was sent to the Finance Committee. Mr. Scott called up his bill extending until March 4th the time in which the President may suspend the writ of habes corpus in the late insurrectionary States, and spoke in favor of it as being necessary for the suppression of the Ku-Khux. The West Point and Indian Appropriation bills were passed. In the House of Representatives soveral amendments to the Tariff bill were adopted. The important ones were to admit free of duty material used in the construction of ships, and to take from bonded warehouses ships, stores under the same conditions.
