-Political affairs are becoming interesting to all our readers, and in order that they may have a better understanding of the peculiar situation we publish an able and logical editorial from the New York World the leading Democratic organ of the country, and another from the Albany Ecening Journal, an able Republican paper. There is a great diversity of opinion amongst the Democracy about endorsing the Cincinnati nomination. Those red-hot Democrats who consider hanging and quartering would have been no more than simple justice for the arch obelitionist and firm belief, that by endorsing Greeley they can place him in the White House and then mould him to their purpose. This is at once a confession of dishonesty. They admit that it is hopeless for them to go before the country on their old party principles, and expect to cheat their way to power by seizing upon one of the former leaders of the Republican party who is fast entering into that unhappy state which may be aptly termed Presidential dotage. As an act of gratitude, as well as expediency, Jeff Davis endorses Greeley, while other lights of the Southern Democracy as emphatically refuse. Those opposed to

As the sight of water immediately throws the subject of that distressing disease, hydrophobla, into a fit, so the presence of the President of the United States had a convulsing effect upon The Democrat, bringing on one of the most distressing attacks that we ever witnessed. The case was so palpably one of outlawry to human reason that no disgrace attached to the town; and only that sympathy for individual affliction was moved, which even the most savage communities manifest for one whose mind has been touched by the "great spirit."

She proposes to organize an army of four thousand singers besides ever so many hands of music to celebrate her jubilee .-The enterprise is intended to have vast proportions for a Sunday School fete, and we have no doubt will surpass anything of the kind ever witnessed in Wilmington. Particulars will be found in the advertisement elsewhere in to-days' paper.

-Greeley insists that he has not changed his views on political questions. He once said that "all Democrats are not horse thieves but all horse thieves are Democrats." In the course of political events it has come to pass that Horace stakes his political success as a candidate on the Democratic party, and that party has about made up its mind that its last hope of success depends upon Greeley. The high moral philosopher and political purifler, and the "horse thief" party nesting together! Strange things come to pass in politics, but this is the strangest that ever did happen.

Mr. F. E. Marine, an old acquaintance of the readers of The Whig, renews his advertisement this week. He has been in the Commission business in Baltimore for a number of years, and is throughly conversant with it, and what is more, if possible, to the purpose entirely reliable and prompt in making remittances. Persons having produce of any kind-except whisky-to sell may safely place it in Mr. Marine's hands.

The Tariff and Tax bill was taken up so as to be the regular order, after which the Senate went into Executive session and adjourned. The only business transacted was the passage of the pending bill, extending relief to Thomas M Wallace.

Our Elk-ton Democracy, who are a type of small political bigots, find Greeley worse than humble pie, but they struggle on manfully with their prejudices, and many an ugly grimace, and profess to find comfort in the hepe, which they presently torture into a firm belief, that by endorsing Greeley they

In the Senate, on Monday, the principle business on hand was the consideration of the Tariff bill. The bill was taken up and a number of amendments were agreed to among which were the following: The act not to take effect till July 1st, 1872; fixing the duty on all slack coal or such as will go through a five-eight inch screen at forty cents per ton of twenty-eight bushels, eighty pounds to the bushels; on all house and cabnet furniture unfiinished furniture thirty-five per cent. ad valorum; finished furniture thirty-five per cent. ad valorum; on chocolate in cocoa, two cents her pound. In the Senate on Thursday, the attempt to extend the President's power to suspend the writ of habeas corpus was renewed, the Ku-Klux Committee offering a bill to that Ku-Klux Committee offering a bill to that effect identically the same as that which providing for the appointment of additional Supervisors of Election. Both bills were laid over for a second reading, the Demociats intimating a purpose to filibuster them

Mr. Sumner offered a resolution for a Constitutional amendment doing away with the system of Presidential Electors and abolishing the office of Vice President. The Tax and Tariff bill was taken up, and af er a good deal of discussion all the amendments to deal of discussion and the amendments of appoint a Commission to examine into the labor and revenue interests were consolidated and then rejected. Pending the consideration of this question there occurred a sharp discussion detween Messrs. Conkling and Trumbull. The bill was then reported to the Senate and all the amendments were concurred in. Mr. Greeley's Strength as a Candidate.

From the N. Y. World.] The recent remark of that strong and sagacious old Democrat, Judge Black, of Pennsylvania, to an interviower who tried to sound him on Greeley, is only half true—"Well, had you raked this world and the two adjacent you could not have found a fitter man to be a candidate or a more unit one to be a Presider."

Mr. Black's large experience in public Mr. Black's large experience in public affairs and keen insight into men making him a good judge of the kind of qualitical actions requisite for a successful President; but, like many others, he takes too hasty a view of Mr. Greeley's running qualities as a candidate. It is the same mistake made by Andrew Johnson when he expected, through the agency of his noted Philadelphia Convention, to detach a strong section of the Republican party, which, in combination with the Democrats, might re-elect him President. President Johnson was supported in that movement by Mr. Seward, Senator Doolittle, Mr. Weed, Mr. Raymond, and a formidable body of eminent Republicans who had previously stood high in the confidence of their party; but the movement made no impression on the Republican masses. The mistake in that case, like the mistake of the Cincinnati Convention in nominating Mr. Greeley, consisted in

Those opposed to the Philosopher have decidedly the best of the rangument, but the other side declare that to go into the campaign with candidates of their own, is nothing but rushing on certain defeat. The strength that was so confidently counted on the Cincinnati ticket drawing from the Republican party, every day shows to be waning. The colored vote is conceded by all parties to be a unite against Greeley. The Fire Traders have bolted the Cincinnati ticket, and the Working Mon's Convention, which recently assembled in New York, declared unanimously very nearly against Greeley. Nevertheless desperation has driven a majority of the leaders of the Democrat party to the determination of endorsing the Cincinnati ticket at Baltimore, and the fight will be between the Republican party leaded by Grant, and the Democratic leaders and politicians, with a band of sour, disappointed Republican and professional in

The House of Health was adopted to the effect that the year of the Democratic party to the determination of endorsing the Cincinnati ticket at Baltimore, and the fight will be between the Republican party to the determination of endorsing the Cincinnati ticket at Baltimore, and the fight will be between the Republican party to the determination of endorsing the Cincinnati ticket at Baltimore, and the fight will be the wear of the Postofica Appropriation will be the provided for by the Ilo

The third and only remaining source of Mr. Greeley's expected strength was his supposed ability to carry Pennsylvania as the chief apostle of protection. In Ohio, the other of the three States that hold elections in October, the repugnance to greeley is intense. Senator Thurman, the ablest Democrat now in public life, is utterly opposed to his indorsement There is no State in which his nominatio at Cincinnati roused such disgust and scorn as in Ohio. His indorsement at Baltimore would certainly insure Ohio for Grant.

Now these three States are the key of the Presidential position. If the Republicans carry them in October, the election of Grant will be a dead certainty, as every intelligent political knows. Mr. Greeley

As for New York, we desire, as ernestly as anybody desires, to elect a Democratic Governor and Legislature this fall, and a Democratic successor to Senator Conkling next winter. But we are not in favor of dlinging away all our chances to reform the Federal Government for the sake of this result, which can just as surely be accomplished by a good Democratic ticket on a sound platform. Chief Justice Church would just as surely carry this State as Mr. Greeley would with a Democratic endorsement; and without the hazard of defeating the party everywhere else.

We wish the Greeley zealots would tell us what grounds they have for expecting

he can carry the three States that have October elections, and whether they expect any candidate can be elected who loses those important States. —In the Methodist General Conference, on Monday, a motion was made that the restriction placed upon Bishop Roberts, who presides over the Liberia Conference, in Africa, be removed, and that he be clevated to the full dignity of Bishop and admitted to the General Conference.
