The Cecil Whig

ELKTON, JUNE 1, 1872.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Mr. Geo. W. Childs has an artist from Philadelphia employed photographing the Public Ledger paper mills at Marley, in this county; taking inside and outside views of the building, machinery, etc.

Strawberry Festival.—The ladies of St. James' Church, of Port Deposit, will hold a Stawberry, Festival at Mr. Smithson's, on Tuesday next, the 4th instant, at 2 o'clock, P.M. Proceeds for the benefit of the Church.

The Regular Monthly Prayer Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at the Lecture Room of the M. E. Church, in this town, on Sabbath next, (to-morrow) at 4 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend.

By order of COMMITTEE.

Strawberry Festival.—The ladies of West Nottingham Presbyterian Church, will hold a Festival, in the grove, adjacent to the cnurch, on Thursday afternoon and evening and on Friday evening, June 13th and 14th. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

Decoration of the deceased soldiers' graves will take place on Thursday, June 6th, 1872, at Elkton at 10 o'clock A. M., Cherry Hill at 3 o'clock, P. M. All are invited to participate. Those having flowers to give will leave them at Dr. Frazer's Drug Store, at or before 10 o'clock A. M.

By order of COMMITTEE.

The Crops.—Wheat and grass are reported generally poor through the county. A subscriber in the edge of Lancaster county reports a field of wheat which was heavily manured, four feet high and in head a week ago. It was sowed early. The red wheat is better than the New York white, sown in same field and having the same treatment.

Dedication.—The new Methodist Protestant Church, at Fair View (Providence permitting,) will be dedicated to the service of God, on Sabbath, the 9th of June, 1872. The Revs. J. J. Murray, D. D., and A. S. Eversole, M. D., are expected to be present on the occasion. Services to be at 10 o'clock, A. M., at 3 P. M., and at 7½ P. M.

WM. T. DUMM,
Sup't Cecil Circuit.

Fire.—James. W. Clark, residing near Cecilton, had his meat house burned one day this week, containing about 2,000 pounds of meat, and several barrels of fish. The dwelling house took fire from the burning smoke house, but the neighbors who had gathered succeeded in extinguishing the flames and saving the house. The fire is supposed to have been kindled by unleached ashes.

Tide Water Canal.—During the week ending Saturday the 25th inst., 149 boats passed the out-let lock, of which 11 loaded with lumber, coal, grain, &c., were towed to Philadelphia, 68 loaded with coal and pig iron, went to Baltimore, and 70 loaded with coal and lumber, were unloaded at Havre de Grace and Perryville.

Havre de Grace Republican.

A New Railroad.—A party of engineers have been making preliminary survey of a route for a new railroad down the valley of the Conowingo creek, to intersect the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad at the old village of Conowingo, on the Susquehanna river. The starting point is Christiana, on the Pennsylvania railroad, thence by Quarryville, Fulton House, Goshen and Texas. From the last named point South, via Rock Springs run to the Maryland line, near Jenkins', and down Conowingo creek to the river.

Sale of Real Estate.—Reuben Haines, as trustee, sold on Tuesday last, that part of Howard Titus' deceased real estate fronting 40 feet on Main street, Elkton, and adjoining the property of Hon. Alexander Evans, for $1,150. Mr. Evans purchaser.

James Black Groome, as Trustee, sold on Tuesday last, one of the farms of Edward P. Hipple, Esq., on Bohemia Manor, and containing 644 acres and 32 perches for $19,326. John M. Thomas, of Philadelphia, Executor of Hon. Richard H. Bayard, deceased, purchaser.

Fatal Accident.—On Wednesday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, an accident occurred on the Phil. Wil. & Balt., Railroad, at the foot of Third street, in Wilmington, by which a brakeman, Thomas Morgan, was instantly killed. A train of five cars was being run on one of the side tracks, and Morgan was on the foremost car preparing to apply the brakes. Just as he commenced turning the wheel for this purpose, it suddenly came off, causing him to lose his balance and fall down upon the track, when the whole train passed over him, crushing the top of his head completely off, and killing him instantly. The deceased was a son of Mr. John T. Morgan, of Perryville, in this county, and was a steady, industrious young man, about 32 years of age, and leaves a wife.

A Pleasant Trip.—We know of no pleasanter excursion than a trip to Baltimore on the fast little steamer, C. P. Smith, which runs between Baltimore and Elk Landing, leaving the landing at 7 o'clock in the morning and reaching Baltimore at 2 in the afternoon. The scenery on the Elk river is pleasant, presenting on either side a panorama of fine farms, and wooded slopes dropping down to the water's edge and swelling into gentle hills back in the interior of the necks.

Captain Brown is a gentleman who studies to make the trip enjoyable on his boat, and is always on the look-out to accommodate those who send freight or take passage with him.

The only drawback to the trip—and this doesn't happen oftener than once in ten days—is the shallowness of the water at low tide at Elk Landing. It is proposed to employ a dredger to deepen the channel near the wharf, which could be done at little expense. Such improvement would be of great advantage to the future trade of the river and would insure a tri-weekly line through the season by water, between Elkton and Baltimore.

Since the C. P. Smith has been placed on his line the citizens of Elkton have been talking very seriously of making an effort to have the channel cleared up to Elkton, and make a steamboat landing at the bridge. If this improvement was made quite an extensive water trade between Elkton and Baltimore would spring up. A meeting was held by the Commissioners on Wednesday night to understand, to talk about the improvement of the navigation of Elk creek, and a resolution drafted. Resolution is a scarce quality in men of business. And only movement on the part of the authorities to clear the channel is, if of more importance than the projects entertained by the "Curbstone" to establish a public library.

Summer advances with her bright and flaming zephers, LEVIS brings something new daily to suit the mild of the season, and a rare combination of beauty and fashion are always to be GLASS-FRONT.

CHESAPEAKE CITY ITEMS.

Temperance.—The Good Templars held a public prayer meeting, in their Hall, on Monday night last, which was well attended and considerable interest was manifested in the cause of Temperance.

Rowdyism.—On Saturday night last, a young man, whose name we did not learn, paid a visit to Chesapeake, and after patronizing some of the rum mills here, became considerably fired up with whisky, took a horse and carriage belonging to Wesley Arrison and drove through town at a rapid gate, hallowing and swearing. Constable Vandegrift tried to stop him, but he did not succeed, and the fellow departed in peace.

School House.—The new school house talked of in Chesapeake seems to have been forgotten. We hope this enterprise will not be all talk, like many others.

Street Lamps.—Now that there is a new Board of Town Commissioners, we hope they will not forget the fact that the streets in Chesapeake are very dark at night, and street lamps are very much needed; also, a lock up would not be amiss, for Chesapeake is not altogether free from rowdies.

Lumber.—The lumber trade through the canal has been very light this Spring, owing, we are informed, to the low water in the Susquehanna river.

Towing.—This trade has been quite brisk here this Spring. Four tow boats have been running between this place and Baltimore, night and day.

Wheat.—We are informed that the wheat in some sections is very poor, and will be hardly worth harvesting. Others again report about half crops.

NORTH EAST ITEMS.

Brick Side Walk.—Mr. Shalleross is progressing favorably with the work of preparing for and laying the new brick walk on the east side of Main street. A portion is already finished.

Funerals.—The funeral of Thos. Murdock occurred on Friday afternoon of last week, from the residence of his son-in-law, J. H. Smith. He was in the 97 year of his age. Interred in the M. E. Cemetery, Elkton.—He had selected Job 10: 22 as his funeral text.

The funeral of Abram Clark, an old citizen of this county, who died in Wilmington, Delaware, on Saturday last, took place from the M. E. Church here, on Monday.

Money Sale.—On last Wednesday night, the North East Building and Loan Association sold $1,600 at 6, 7½ and 9 per cent. premium.

Thunder Storm.—On Monday afternoon this week, quite a storm of lightning, thunder, wind and heavy rain, occurred in this vicinity.

Cool Morning.—Wednesday morning, 29th ult, was remarkably cold for the season.—Some persons think there was frost in this vicinity.

Markets.—Best family flour, $12 per bbl; butter, 25c. per lb.; eggs, 15c. per doz.; new onions and radishes on sale; prunes 14c. per lb; potatoes, 75c. per bushel; oak wood $4 and $4.50 per cord.

PILOT TOWN ITEMS.

Fire.—The Paper Mill, recently erected at the old Octoraro Forge, was burnt on Thursday afternoon, 23d ult. They were working old rope, when the sand in the rope ignited the picked rope, and the building and contents were entirely destroyed. Loss $50.-000; insurance $40,000. The proprietors intend to rebuild immediately.

Rain.—We had a splendid rain on Monday, which will make a great improvement in the grass crop. Oats will be light.

River.—The river is rising slowly, but I do not think it will amount to much.

Rowlandsville.—This village has made extensive improvements. They have two rolling mills, two churches, two stores, a tin shop and stove store, a merchant tailor and a flour mill. A number of new dwelling houses have been erected in the last year. Mr. Theodore Death is finishing a dwelling and making a road or street along the hill-side, above Rowland & Tosh's store. It is a live place. There is no hotel—none needed.

Black Barren Spring.—Col. Blake is doing an extensive business in the water of his celebrated spring. He ships about 300 gallons of water per week, in carboys, each holding eleven gallons. He has to haul it to Rowlandsville, about five miles.

RISING SUN ITEMS.

The following items intended for last week's issue came to hand too late for publication:

Wheat.—The late rain has brightened up the wheat some; but many farmers say they won't get their seed back, and very few in this neighborhood have a passible yield.

Grass will be very short, but late kinds may yet make some hay.

Good Credit.—On Wednesday last our town was visited by no less than ten traveling salesmen, from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Lancaster, all willing and anxious to sell goods on any time or terms. This speaks well for our credit, and shows the effect of dry times in the city.

Active Operations among farmers are indicated by the amount of fertilizers daily going out from the warehouses and the huge loads of hay going in.

Fair.—The near approach of the Oxford Fair, is stirring some of our citizens up to active preparations, especially in machinery.

Cheese.—Our Factory is now in full blast, and the first cheese ripe enough to cut. A slice tasted a few days ago, certainly gave evidence of success in the new undertaking.

CECILTON ITEMS.

The Welcome Rain and Crops.—The cloud of despondency that had so long darkened the brow of the farmers was cleared away on last Monday by a copious shower. The grass crop will be short. It is universally believed that the wheat crop is blighted in this neighborhood. The corn was so long coming up on account of the drought that the insect has injured it so that a number of farmers will have to plant over again.

Whitsuntide.—This annual holiday was generally observed here by the colored people. It was flood-tide all day with the pleasure seekers, and the store keepers made some very successful hauls. In the evening one man gave vent to an old grudge he had by using an axe on a colored brother.

Correction.—In referring to the manufacture of paper by the Public Ledger paper mills at Marley, in this county, in a former issue of The Whig, we placed the daily product at 2 tons. A note from Mr. McLane, foreman of the mills, states the amount at three and a half to four tons per day.

JUNE.

Once more some respite from the fresh assaults of vegetable malaria, but not from their serious after consequences. Other miasmata come forth with the increasing heat, and give rise to far more fearful fevers; but the diseases of vegetable origin are still active in the atmosphere, and their after consequences, or, as the Doctors term them, their sequlæ are by no means inert.

They complicate all other affections by vitiating the constitution; and even relapses of intermittents that have been fully treated, neglected or imperfectly cured, are frequently met with. It would be unwise, then, to lose sight of the high claims of Paschall's Fever, and Ague Mixture, even during the summer months.

June 1, 1872—1m

FOURTH DISTRICT ITEMS.

Improvements.—John Henderson is building a fine new barn, which will be quite an improvement to that part of the District. T. W. Terry is building a new house in Lewisville. J. S. Strahorn is making great improvements around his dwelling.

Public Sale.—The Building Committee of the Rock Church made a public sale, on Friday of last week, selling off material, such as joice, window frames, etc., which was torn out of the old Church and not needed in the new one; sales amounting to $150.

Died.—In Philadelphia, at the residence of his son, John L. Baldwin, on the 25th ult., Levi Baldwin, aged about 70 years.—Most of his long and useful christian life was spent in this county.

OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT

BELLEFONTE, May 26th, 1872.

There was a time when I would have felt astray here; but the mingling with new people, new ideas, and new methods of thought, has had a salutary effect. Always seeing the same people, feeling the same way, following the same monotonous routine, produces a stagnant condition of mind and heart that is at times oppressive—almost distressing.

Thousands of invalids might be greatly benefitted by going away from home and mingling with strangers, so that the magnetism of variety in customs, habits and doings of others, coupled with new scenery, would soothe their physical ailments, while ministering to the mental man. And there are mental invalids, too, who need change to get their minds and hearts enlarged to make room for the great lights of life—Christianity, embracing Charity, Mercy, and Justice, Enterprise and an iron will to dare and do. Under the mental invalid head, your town can boast of a goodly number. There is among you, too, a sprinkling of financial invalids, needing change. Being a descendant from the last named family, I speak as one from experience, who long since became aware of the urgent necessity for the presence of metallic bodies to insure healthful the animal man—mentally, physically and financially. Hence I find myself here no longer a stranger, in the most beautiful of all country towns. Would that I could in ink on paper draw you a picture of its grandeur and picturesque beauty. The surroundings would afford material relief to not only the eye and heart of wonder-stricken resident invalid of the Eastern Shore, but the purity of this mountain air, these beautiful drives, hung in nature's own drapery, these health-giving crystal lake springs, with their cascade flow, overlooked by huge jagged rocks, grown gray with years, once the resting-place of lo! the savage, while he tempted the beautiful and playful trout, (of which there is ample yet,) would, me thinks, be a panacea for many ailments.

Business of every kind is A No. 1, with two exceptions—an M. D., or Undertaker could not make a living here, except by stealth. One enterprising chap (yankee) tried it and was compelled to turn nurse to make ends meet. He is running a nursery—that is he is tending the young (trees, flowers, &c.) Banks not needed; Tuff (times) not known here. All are healthy—morally, physically, mentally and financially. Wheat crop the only delicate thing seen.

Send your invalids up. Two first class hotels here; will accommodate 600 visitors; $2.00 per day; transient, $10.00 per week. Fishing, gunning, walks and drives amid the wonders of nature's freaks. You doubtless recollect when I pulled the scale-bar at 105 avordupois; now 220, and still avordupoiseng; but not through the channel of lager, even though it is as abundant as trout, but not so clear as the virgin streams, nor so pure as the mountain air. There is a goodly number of the mit sour-kroutsingtzer family here, interspersed or sandwitched between which is a sprinkling of shillaly flourishers, ever ready for the heading, but not coopers. PRETZEL.

Letter From Indian Territory.

TAHLEQUAH, CHEROKEE NATION,
INDIAN TERRITORY.

DEAR WHIG:—The greater portion of your readers would find great delight in roaming over these broad undulating prairies, sprinkled with the choicest flowers of their cultivated gardens. Here spring comes in all her beauty, in every form and color. The prairies are burnt off every spring; the tall dry Indian grass burns like powder. When the farmers think it time to set fire to it, they send word around from one neighbor to another, then each family looks out for their own fences. From the dome of our Asylum, the fires at night, look grand and terrific; some of them remind me of a vast city brightly illuminated; others seem one solid sheet of fire. In fact they look too grand for my poor expressionless soul to portray. Now the fires are over, and all nature is covered with a beautiful green dress, dotted with many colors.

The orphans enjoy gathering the flowers. They have a pretty Indian name for each. My vases are kept full; yes more than full for I cannot find it in my heart to refuse a bouquet, when it is the orphans' gift to show their esteem, friendship and love, and 'tis all they have to give. Strawberries and cream have been very plentiful; they are not cultivated berries, but nice, large, wild ones.

Our noble chief has been with us to-day, he talked to the children very prettily, urging them to be good, and become great. He spoke to them in our language, and spoke well. He is to good a man, a great favorite, and much beloved by the people.

Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know to be good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, To Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and all that beautiful region south of the Platte, filled with R. R. lands and homesteads.—3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and all Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (to prevent the loss of life that is everywhere else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are, in a word, the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa.

NOT GRANT BUT THE PARTY.

[From the Albany Evening Journal.]

There ought to be an end by this time of the misapprehension that the bolting movement is prompted merely by dissatisfaction with President Grant, and that it could have been averted had the majority of the Republicans been willing to take another candidate. What inspired it was a deliberate, long-cherish, malignant purpose to destroy if possible, the Republican party. Its source lies in enmity not simply to General Grant but to the great organization behind him. It would have been developed just the same had another than Grant been President and another than Grant been proposed for the next term.

We do not mean to say that all who have embarked in this movement were originally animated by this motive. It has enlisted a class of politicians who were undoubtedly actuated by mere personal grievances, and who, could they have secured what they wanted under Grant, would have remained his most devoted adherents. They have not even that small virtue which would break down a party from any higher inspiration than mere personal revenge. As they were in the party for more personal ends, so they go out of it for personal reasons. As they followed it for personal profit, so they would still have shouted for Grant, if personal advantage had dictated. it. The movement has doubtless derived some strength from those who were simply dissatisfied with Grant.

But it sprang from a deeper cause and has a deeper purpose. It aims at nothing less than the destruction of the Republican party. Even Mr. Greeley himself declares that the withdrawal of President Grant, the substitution of the most blameless statesman in public life could not effect the determination of the Cincinnati party. Yield everything they have asked, assure all that they have professed to desire, and still they would fight. It was in this spirit of implacable warfare upon the Republican party that the movement began. It originated in Missouri among a set of intriguers and demagogues who struck at the organization before a syllable of complaint had been made in any quarter against General Grant, who engineered the Missouri coalition with the Blairs two years ago, and who have deliberately designed and labored ever since to extend the same tactics into the national campaign. With these men Grant is a mere pretext—the real object of their assault is the Republican party.

Take the Chicago Tribune, which is a leading force in the movement. The design of that paper has been apparent for many months. Nearly two years ago it made a formal declaration in favor of a third party which should break down the Republican organization. There was then no special ground for dissatisfaction with President Grant. The complaints which have been vociferated so loudly of late were not heard. The proposition was not inspired by anything in the course of the President, but by the fact that the Chicago Tribune found itself, with its free trade notions, more in harmony with the Democratic than with the Republican party, and desired a new organization as a bridge to carry it from the latter to the former. The suggestion met with little or no response then, but the Tribune has carefully nursed it till now, and, in supporting Mr. Greeley, is simply carrying out the purpose it then disclosed. Nothing else could induce or explain its adherence to Mr. Greeley.—They have nothing in common. They are diametrically opposed on every living question. As a simple question between Grant and Greeley, the Chicago Tribune could not prefer the latter. But it conceives that the election of Mr. Greeley would break down the Republican party, and so accomplish its original purpose, and on that ground it supports him.

We might cite other evidence to the same effect, but it is needless. Whatever the original design, there is now no disguise on the part of any one that the movement is aimed at the life of the Republican party. Those who sympathize with that purpose, who want to see the great party of freedom and the Union broken down, who are willing the Government should be put into the hands of those who sought to destroy it—all such will naturally join the Greeley band. But those who believe that the ascendancy of the Republican party is yet vital to the welfare of the country will recoil from that fatal plunge.

THE DEFAULTER'S LAW.—The public officers in the State, whose duty it is to collect the revenue of the State or county, will find chapter 226 of the Acts passed by the Legislature at its recent session one of more than ordinary interest to them. It is a re-enactment of the defaulter's law of 1870, providing the machinery for its enforcement and increasing the penalty for neglect of duty.

Section two provided that if any officer whose duty it is to collect money for the State or county, shall refuse or neglect to pay to the proper officer authorized to receive the same any public monies in his possession for more than sixty days after the day upon which it is made by law his duty to pay the same, he shall be deemed a defaulter, and upon conviction thereof shall for each offence be imprisoned in the State penitentiary for from one to five years unless the amount for which he is defaulter be sooner paid.

This law will be in force on and after the first day of June inst.

—We learn with regret of the death of Enoch Harlan, in West Chester, on Monday last. He was widely known and highly esteemed as one of Chester county's most useful and valued citizens. For some years he was Secretary of the Chester County Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and at the time of his death was Secretary of the Penn Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Chester County Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company.

Lancaster Herald.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and stupor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the untarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given.—Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Perseverance until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.
