We hope the enterprise will meet with the success it descrees, and prove to be the first step to a manufacturing interest speedily to spring up to supesede the chronic lethargy of the town, by a productive industry.-Enterprising young men are driven away of employment, and scores of young girls cut and but little hay is the result. Some are left with an unpromising future before them, who deserve a better prospect. The most noticable features upon entering the room were flowers, ribbons and new shoes. The teacher Miss Bosworth, is from New York State, and has made many warm friends south of Mason & Dixons line by the studious attention she has paid to the school, and the visible improvement among the scholars. The classes in Grammar and Familiar Science were very prompt and correct in their answers to the questions asked them. After the black-board exercise, we were treated to several Dialogues and Recitations by the pupils. In these they were particularly interesting. The best part of the programme was the reading of a Journal called the "Church Side News," conducted by Miss Helen England and Miss Anna M. Wilkinson, as Editors; assisted by Miss Lettie Haddock. At the close, Miss Bosworth presented the pupils with a number of souvenirs and bade them adieu. Among the prizes were the following; Miss Helen England, for Attendance-Tennyson's Poems; Miss Fallie Cameron, Harrest .- Some of the farmers are cut- for Promptness-An Illuminated Card;

Ice-water should be drank but sparingly. A most excellent substitute for it is pound-This will prove very refreshing and much more enduring in its effects. Lemonade is a simple grateful beverage. To make it: Roll the lemons on something hard till they become soft, grate off the rinds, cut the lemons in slices and squeeze them in a pitcher (a new clothes-pin will answer for a squeezer in lieu of something better); pour on the required quantity of water, and sweeten according to taste .-The grated rinds, for the sake of their aroma, should be added too. After mixing thoroughly, set the pitcher aside for half an hour; then strain the liquor through a jelly strainer, and put in the ice. Travelers who find it inconvenient to use lemons can carry a box of lemon sugar prepared from citric acid and sugar, a little of which in a glass of ice water will furnish quite a refreshing drink, and one that will help oftentimes to avert sick-headache and biliousness. Citric acid is obtained from the juice of lemons and limes.
