ELKTON, JUNE 29, 1872.

TO DEBTORS.

Our semi-annual season, the 1st of July, for sending out statement of accounts, has pretty nearly arrived, and we will hand each debtor a statement in a few days.—We hope that all will respond promptly to the notice. The amounts are all small, and can be paid without inconvenience to any one, while to us the aggregate will make a considerable sum.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Local Miscellany.—Wm. S. Bell has been appointed Justice of the Peace for the First District of this county, vice John F. Stephens, resigned.

The Mutual Building Association will meet to-night.

Friday and Saturday of last week were the longest days in the year, the sun rising at 4h. 32m. A. M., and setting at 7h. 31m. P. M.

Intensely, sweltering hot the major part of this week has been.

Religious.—Services will be held in the new Presbyterian Chapel, of this town, to-morrow, at 10½ o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Emerson.

Sudden Death.—Mr. George McCrery, who resided at Lewisville, Pa., was found dead on Thursday last, seated on a chair on the porch of his residence. Cause, heart disease.

Gone to the Old Country.—Mr. Francis Green, of Cherry Hill, the well known dam builder, recently sailed for Ireland, on a three months' visit to his old friends. In the language of the old song, we "wish him health and happiness and a safe return again."

Curbstone Bonds Due.—The note of the old Board—or Curbstone Board—of Town Commissioners held by McClenahan & Bro. for curbstones for $638.78 is now due, we are informed by a member of the present Board, and only about $10 in the treasury to meet the demand. The "assets" set opposite the liability, by the retiring curbstones in their Report, were "taxes uncollected $671.38." Amount of "insolvencies" not stated.

Heavy and much needed rains have visited the Atlantic States this week, which had been parched with an almost unbroken drought since the opening of Spring; the reverse of the States west of the Mississippi, which have had a superabundance of rain during our dry season. The rains have been too tardy in coming to save the grass and small grain crops, but are timely for the corn, which will doubtless prove a fine crop where the land is in good condition.

A correspondent from Lancaster county, Pa., writes that heavy rain fell in that neighborhood on the 25th, which lasted near 24 hours, and on the night of the 25th wound up with a thunder gust.

Wheat generally a failure; some few have good wheat along the river and a few miles out on the river ridge. Hay crop light; mostly cut and housed. Corn bids fair to be a good crop; potatoes ditto; oats, short. Many farmers are preparing for the buckwheat crop this fall. Sorgham, but little planted this years; formerly there was a good deal of attention paid to this crop here, but it won't pay to raise it on account of labor.

Death of Mr. Cantwell.—S. Hooper Cantwell, up to the time of his being taken sick, a compositor in this office, died on Wednesday afternoon, of small-pox, after an illness of over two weeks, at the city hospital. Mr. Cantwell accepted a situation as a compositor in this office in February last, and its proprietors never found occasion to regret his employment, for he was a printer of more than average speed and correctness and withal a conscientious and honorable gentleman. His parents now reside in Port Deposit, Md., but Mr. C. lived the major part of his life and learned his trade at Elkton. His remains were interred on Thursday morning at the Wilmington and Brandywine Cemetery.

Every Evening.

A New Invention.—On Wednesday and Thursday of last week, there was a scene of considerable excitement in Delaware City, occasioned by the trial trip of a new invention known as the American Road Steamer which is designed to supersede the use of mules in towing canal boats.—This machine is somewhat similar to a locomotive in build and is furnished with two large wheels, provided with cogs about six inches wide, which are intended to facilitate and steady its progress. A smaller wheel in front is changeable, and is used for steering purpose. The trials on Wednesday and Thursday were highly satisfactory, the boats being drawn through the canal at a high rate of speed. Fifteen miles per hour can be attained which will be a considerable advantage, over mule power. Should the invention prove successful it will doubtless soon grow into general use, and the primitive custom of towing canal boats by means of mules, be entirely dispensed with.

Wilmington Commercial.

RISING SUN ITEMS.

Rain.—The long wished for rain has come at last, on Sunday night, Monday and Tuesday we had repeated heavy showers, filling our cisterns to overflowing, wetting the ground and reviving the hopes and crops of our farmers.

Harvest.—Only a few have as yet cut grass. None in this vicinity have cut wheat. The grass it is said, will be better than was anticipated; still a short crop. Wheat and oats small crop, the hot weather making oats short too. Corn is looking very fine.

Accident.—Jesse P. Howell stepped backwards off his porch roof, whilst whitewashing, and broke is left arm near the wrist; also received considerable cuts and bruises about the head. Mr. Churchman, who resides in the same house, had his left arm broken, about the same time, whilst coupling cars, on the railroad.

Streets.—Our city fathers have a construction corps on the streets, putting them in order; but their progress during the week, does not afford an opportunity to judge of their proficiency.

FOURTH DISTRICT ITEMS.

Around Again.—Mr. Fields has been, the past few days, paying his annual visit to the Children in this vicinity who have been placed here by and through the agency of the Southern Home, of Philadelphia.—There are a good many in this neighborhood and Mr. F. reports them mostly in good homes and doing very well.

Schools.—The public schools have about closed for the season. There will probably be no more school until the public school system commences again.

Buckwheat.—A good many of our farmers are going to sow buckwheat this Summer, on account of the failure of the wheat crop. Seed is very high and scarce.

CAMPAIGN CLUBS.—Get up campaign clubs for The Whig. See terms elsewhere.

PORT DEPOSIT ITEMS.

—The last rise in the Susquehanna brought down about seventy-five rafts which the timbermen are engaged in floating to Philadelphia. The stock of timber has been very light this year owing to lack of water in the Spring. The rain of Tuesday will probably cause sufficient rise to bring down another small instalment to Tide Water, and may add largely to the stock of logs in the booms at Williamsport and Lock Haven. Advices from the timber regions report destructive freshets in some of the creeks tributary to the Susquehanna, but are not sufficiently definite to determine whether or not this will be a full river freshet.

—Tuesday afternoon and night brought refreshing rain in copious quantity, filling our hearts with joyful emotion, and restoring from muteness our "babbling brooks." Should "Old Probabilities," at Washington continue successfully through the summer, similar prognostications to those published 25th inst., he will doubtless receive the benefit of so many prayers, that when he leaves this world there will be no danger of his entering that arid country in which no drop of water can be found. If we are threatened with a dry quadrenium let us have "Old Probabilities" for President and "Prob, Jr.," for the second place on the ticket.

—The steamer George Law arrived from Baltimore Tuesday afternoon bringing an excursion party of well behaved colored people, who had the benefit of beholding some fine country thunder gusts for a couple of hours. The band played several airs in front of the Cecil National Bank in compliment to Hon. J. Tome.

—Last Saturday afternoon Isaac Riale, while attending a tenoning machine, at Nowland & Co's Sash Factory, attempted to remove some shavings which were in his way. In doing so his left hand came in contact with the bits and the second, third and fourth fingers were taken off close to his hand. Drs. Milner and McCullough dressed the hand.

—It is announced that an interesting Sunday school service will supercede the regular service, at the Methodist Episcopal Church at eight o'clock precisely, next Sunday evening. The school will occupy as much of the body of the church as will be necessary to accommodate the pupils.—The exercises will be conducted by Rev. T. E. Martindale, Pastor, and Theo. J. Vaneman, Esq., Superintendent, who are earnest and thorough Sunday school workers. An interesting series of exercises have been prepared; all friends of the school will do well to attend and become acquainted with its workings.

—Granite Lodge of Good Templars will spend the 4th of July at Colora. They contemplate a basket pic-nic; leaving here at 9.25 A. M. on the P. B. C. R. R., returning at 8.20 P. M.

CHARLESTOWN ITEMS.

Harvest and Crops.—The grass crop is pretty generally harvested, with but a poor turn out, scarcely paying for the cutting. The present week will bring on the wheat harvest, with the prospect of but a moderate yield. Corn is growing finely. Oats very short, in consequence of the dry Spring. The growers of that most delicious fruit—the strawberry—report a tolerably good turn out.

Fishing.—Those of our citizens who were engaged in fishing for shad the past Spring were not very successful. Those engaged in gilling for herring were rather more successful; the hauling seines did poorly.

Loss of a Horse.—Rev. John D. Kemp, Pastor in charge of Charlestown Circuit, lost a very fine mare, a few days ago, from a disease which it is supposed was contracted during the last winter, by standing out during the progress of extra meetings on the Circuit. It certainly would be a great advantage to the Ministers' horses, if Churches on the Circuit, could have erected in close proximity to the houses of worship, suitable stabling, or covering at least, wherein Preachers could put their horses doing service, after driving several miles.

Improvements.—Mr. Lowis Thompson has purchased a lot of ground, near the old town wharf, of Mr. J. B. Graham, and has the material on the ground preparatory to building. Mr. Wm. T. Richardson is building an addition to his store, which, when completed, will add greatly to its convenience. Mr. Charles Cooper has had the "Old Brick," better known as the "Old Hogg Property," thoroughly repaired. Elkton boasts of having been honored with Gen. Grant as a guest, and this "Old Brick" can boast of having had within its walls, as a guest, Gen. George Washington. It was then kept as a hotel, with Mr. Hogg as proprietor. Since that time it has been used for various purposes—store, tavern, dwelling, &c. The Good Templars are now occupying a room in it as a Lodge Room.

Out-Door Amusements.—The out-door amusements, such as croquet, sailing-parties, &c., are in full operation, and the lovers of that kind of amusement have ample opportunities of enjoying themselves; for within a few steps of our doors we have the North East River, and boats in abundance, that can skip along the water under a gentle breeze, almost as sweetly and gently as a duck. Oh! what pleasures the young folks can have that we older ones are debarred from participating in.

NORTH EAST ITEMS.

Wheat Harvest.—Reaping wheat commenced in Elk Neck last week, and has been progressing during this week. Some fields will yield tolerably well, many others but a small amount. The presence of fog has been unfavorable to the good filling and quality of the grain for one or two mornings.

Improvement.—The McCullough Iron company, have put up quite an addition to their Rolling Mill, which is to be occupied by two new puddling furnaces, boilers and stacks; also are about erecting an addition to their forge of some 26 by 45 feet, which is to be occupied by two forge fires, stacks for which are, already built. They are also erecting a new barn 44 by 60 feet, all of which will make a fine improvement to their already extensive works.

Sale of Lots.—We are informed that Mr. C. S. Perkins has sold some 37 building lots, in the front of his field, on the west side of Main street in the southern section of our town. At prices very reasonable.

Rain.—There has been a heavy fall of rain during this week, under the united influence of which and the solsticial heat, corn, potatoes &c, are making splendid progress.

CHERRY HILL ITEMS.

—Building houses and barns appears to be the main business about here at present.

—Alfred M. Mahaney, of Lutton's Corner, is building an addition to his house, 18 by 16 feet, and raising the old building up on a level with the new.

—Samuel Grant has erected a new barn on his premises, which adds greatly to the value of his place.

—The farmers have commenced to cut grass and wheat around the village.

—The Rev. Mr. Hoffman, of Oxford circuit, will preach at Cherry Hill church, on Sunday the 30th inst.

LETTER FROM FOURTH DISTRICT.

FOURTH DISTRICT, June 25th, 1872.

MR. EDITOR:—Had your correspondent from this District put the clover crop at one ton to four acres, he would have been nearer the truth. Unless the late rains improve the late grass, the average hay crop of the District will not exceed a half ton per acre. What is to be done to carry the stock over the winter, should it prove as severe and long continued as the last, is a more serious problem than "Greeley or Grant." What will become of the farmers is more than appears at present.

Wheat is a total failure over an almost boundless extent of the country. The hay crop the poorest ever harvested. Oats must be far short of a crop; however good the grain may be it is too thin on the ground. Corn potatoes and late vegetables may do well, and the present providential rains will enable many farmers to sow buckwheat, which may, to some extent, supply the loss of the wheat crop and thus stave off, for a time, actual famine. But what about interest, taxes and other constantly occuring and continually increasing expenses? How are they to be met out of short crops and low prices? For prices, except for wheat are low, and the price of wheat will benefit but few farmers, for none will have to buy wheat or do without it than will have it to sell. In fact the farmer is the most oppressed and the poorest paid member of the community, if he can be said to be a member of the community, who bears all its burdens and receives none of its benefits; and yet County Commissioners pile on the taxes; speculators and Shylocks conspire to increase the price of everything he needs and to screw down the price of all he has to sell, so that between the upper and lower millstones, they have nearly ground out his life blood.

The gloomy picture is no exaggeration, but lis below the actual condition of affairs While mechanics are striking for eight hours and five dollars a day, farmers are copelled to labor night and day for bread and scanty raiment.

Let me say a word on a more pleasant subject and close this letter, which is longer than I intended it to be. There was an exhibition of the Big Elk School, taught by John Imble, at their school house, on Friday evening the 21st inst., which reflected great credit on the teacher and on the school. There was an absence of the usual display of tinsel and show, but instead there were unmistakable evidences of solid attainments, which were refreshing to meet in this age of superficial "make believe."

It was an impromptu affair, having been determined only a few days before; but that those few days and indeed the whole term were well improved, was abundantly proved by the ready answers to the most puzzling questions. The examination was confined to the ordinary studies of the school, and the complete success showed that Mr. Kim, though a young man and younger teacher, is no novice in a school room.

In Arithmetic especially Mental, Grammar, Geography and History, the School ranks among the very best in the county; while in Spelling and Composition, I doubt if it has any rival. Some Compositions written for this occasion were very good; one on education another the works of art, and one on the value of lime, were especially commended.

I hardly know whether to congratulate the teacher on having so good a school, or the school on having able a teacher; so I will conclude by quoting a remark of Napoleon the I, he said an army of sheep commanded by a lion was better than an army of lions command by a sheep." If any person thinks this will apply to teaching, they can give the credit of praise accordingly.

SCRIBE.

NEWARK ITEMS.

—The bidding for the choice of pews in the new Presbyterian Church was held on Saturday last.

—The examination between Delaware College, on Tuesday last, will extend through this week, and until Tuesday of next week.

—One of the drivers of coal oil team was found in a dying condition, between Iron Hill and the Newark depot, on Monday morning last. He died a few moments after he was discovered.

MECHANICS VALLEY, June 1, 1872.

This town has been visited with heavy showers of rain last and the past week, which have added greatly to the crops, especially the corn. There is a piece of corn owned by John Holt, near this place which I think excels anything throughout this vicinity. Oats, some places in the neighborhood, look badly, while others again look very fine. Hay harvesting commenced; some have already finished.

Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, California.

Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know is good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and that beautiful region south of the Platte filled with R. R. lands and homesteads. 3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and the Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (that prevent the loss of life that is everywhere else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are, in a word, the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa.

—The Chicago Post says: "The Tribune says that the attacks of the Republican press leave Horace Greeley as serene as ever. In fact, like Fort Sumter, he grows stronger with each successive bombardment. Considering that the fort caught fire the first day of its bombardment, was knocked into a cocked hat the second, and surrendered with all its contents the third, we call the simile a good one."

—The Board of Arbitration at Geneva, have decided that the indirect damages in the Alabama treaty, over which such a fuss has been made by the British, are untenable, and have thrown them out.—This obstacle disposed of, the Arbitration will proceed.

LOOK! CECIL COUNTY, LOOK!—Every one who has not tried the "Wilmington City Soap," should begin at once. If you do not try a bar for next wash-day, you are fined half price. Buy a bar, and save the fine.

The Greeley Sham.

After President Grant shall have been re-elected and Mr. Greeley's vanity effectually squelched, the most prominent recollection of the American people in connection with the campaign of 1872 will be that on the part of the opposition it was thoroughly ridiculous. There is a burlesque air about the management of the canvass against Grant that will show more plainly hereafter than it does now. First, we have a candidate who has directly repudiated all the principles which through a long life he has strenuously advocated, and has thrown himself into the arms of men whom he has denounced—not only politically but personally—in that course language for the employment of which he is distinguished. The party to which he deserts estimates him at his right value, and believing that he has neither the qualities of head nor heart that would hold him to the defence of the policy embraced in the platform upon which he stands, is quite willing to place him in the White House, knowing full well that once there he would be no more of an obstruction to a purely Democratic Government than a wooden figure. It is quite certain that Mr. Greeley thinks the other way and believes that it is he who is cheating the Democracy instead of they deceiving him, but all the world knows that he is the dupe. Then again, we have the curious spectacle of nineteen out of every twenty prominent men who announce their adhesion to Greeley accompanying it with an expression of their personal loathing and contempt for the man. Bad temper, abusive language and outright curses make up the welcome with which he is received into the anti-Republican camp. The natural inference is that these men are only willing to take him up because behind his candidacy lies their only chance of returning to power, again grasping the toothsome morsels of official patronage, and revenging themselves upon the party which has cast them out with the condemnation of unfaithful servants. They hoist up a banner on which is inscribed "Reform," and under it they muster such an army of brigands in public affairs as this country never before saw. Greeley's New York manager is Senator Fenton, whom The Commercial Advertiser has repeatedly accused of the most shameless corruption and dared him to a defence. If any was ever set up for him we do not remember to have seen it. The Tammany gang give to the Cincinnati nomination the remnant of their former great power, and everywhere all the convicted scoundrels of politics are swarming to swell the train of supporters of this pretentious fraud.—All the while the Greeleyites hug to themselves the delusion that they are tricking the people, and from The Tribune down to the two-penny twinkler in Baltimore we hear of the success of the crusade in favor of "Reform." But when next November comes it will be found that the swindle has been understood from the beginning, and that the voters of the United States are not ready to elect a man of straw who stands upon a platform of lies.

Baltimore American.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and stupor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given.—Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished. [June 1, 1872—1m

JUNE.

Once more some respite from the fresh assaults of vegetable malaria, but not from their serious after consequences. Other miasmata come forth with the increasing heat, and give rise to far more fearful fevers; but the diseases of vegetable origin are still active in the atmosphere, and their after consequences, or, as the Doctors term them, their sequlæ are by no means inert.

They complicate all other affections by vitiating the constitution; and even relapses of intermittents that have been badly treated, neglected or imperfectly cured, are frequently met with. It would be unwise, then, to lose sight of the high claims of Paschall's Fever and Ague Mixture, even during the summer months.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT SMALL-POX.

—About two years ago a small-pox hospital was established at Hamstead, near London, on account of the increasing prevalence of that disease. The superintendent lately published an account of his observations in that hospital of the effects of vaccination in mitigating the severity of the disease. Nothing could be more conclusive than the result. The percentage of deaths among those admitted without vaccination marks was 35.43. Among those with one mark the percentage of fatal cases sank to 17.39; among those with two marks it was 13.59; among those with three marks only 10.58 per cent. died; only 8.38 of those with four marks, and only 6.13 of those with five or more marks. Of cases of small-pox after successful revaccination there were but three out of 6,221, but there were many cases to prove the fallaciousness of the doctrine that persons not susceptible to vaccination are proof against small-pox. But the conclusion is that successful revaccination after the age of fifteen years is a sure protection against the disease. Cases are rarer than those of second small-pox, and are very mild when they do occur.

ADVERSITY MAKES STRANGE BEDFELLOWS.—The Richmond Whig, in 1859, published a card offering $2,500 each for the heads of Greeley, Beecher, Philips &c.—The Advertiser now supports Greeley for the Presidency.
