The Cecil Whig

ELKTON, JULY 20, 1872.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Local Miscellany.—Peaches have arrived in our market.

Oliver Parker, a colored man of this town, climbed the flag staff on the top of the Odd Fellows' Hall, on Monday evening last, and took from the pulley a piece of the old rope, and put in a new cord.—The stars and stripes now proudly wave over the Hall.

Money sold at the Elkton Building Society on Saturday night last, for 10½ and 12½ per cent premium, a slight advance on the former months' sales.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Elkton Academy, will be held at the office of J. T. McCullough, Esq., on Monday morning next, at 9 o'clock.

The Sabbath school of the Union M. E. Church of Wilmington, passed through Elkton, on Thursday, on a pic-nic excursion to be held near Port Deposit, in J. J. Abraham's woods. The cars were crowded, and a good time was expected, as the M. E. school at Port had made arrangements to join the Wilmington visitors on the occasion.

Would it not be as well to take down the flag, on the Hall, through the night, and during rain storms. The wind and rain of last Thursday evening tore it considerably.

Is there not a law against shooting guns and pistols within the town limits.

All young men in favor of organizing a Base Ball Club, in Elkton, will attend a meeting at the Court House, this (Saturday) evening, at 8½ o'clock.

A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the detection of the incendiary, who applied the match which caused the great conflagration at the Rising Sun, on Tuesday morning last.

Religious.—Rev. Mr. Smith, of Chesapeake City, will preach in the Court House, Elkton, to-morrow (Sabbath) at 10½ o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M.

Land Sale.—F. A. Ellis, Esq., Trustee, sold on Wednesday last, the Abner Rogers' chrome property, near the B. M. House, containing 32 acres, for $702. Samuel A. Brown, purchaser.

Incident.—One of the Sir. Knights of Pythias was teasing a dog by way of recreation after the parade, when the dog not sharing the amusement in the same spirit of the gallant Knight, sprang at his face and inflicted a severe gash in his tormenter's nose with one of his canine tusks.

Hot, Hotter, Hottest.—91° in our office at 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, and no prospect of any "let up" in the heat.—From the middle of June the thermometer has ranged among the nineties, and everybody is par boiled.

P. S.—A fine rain on Thursday night brought a delightful change, with a stiff breeze from the North-west.

Insurance.—Messrs. Ralston & Ramsay, of Port Deposit, advertise their Insurance Agency, and are extensely engaged in the Insurance business in all its branches.—They are both reliable business men, and those desiring Insurance in either Life or Fire companies, can consult them with entire confidence in having their business properly attended to.

Large Berries.—We acknowledge the receipt of a couple of boxes of Lawton Blackberries, presented by Mr. Ott, as a specimen of his mammoth fruit, which were without exception the largest, sweetest and every way the finest and most delicious berries we ever saw or tasted.—Mr. Ott's blackberry harvest is now at its hight, and it is worth a trip to his place to see the splendid fruit as it hangs in black shining clusters on the canes.

Grumbling.—Being in that thrifty, enterprising town, Port Deposit, the other day, we heard some of its solid citizens grumbling about the carelessness of the city fathers for allowing filth and weeds to collect about the gutters and the many "cubby holes" and corners of the angular village. The bilious and chills were already scourging them and the cholera was confidently expected. After hearing these complaints we begun to look round a little more closely, and had to admit that there was good foundation for the grumblers. The Port folks ought to get our street cleaners.—They make war on every green thing about the streets, and leave a Sahara where a cool green sward formerly grew.

The dry weather of the present uncommonly dry season has cut the crops of hay and wheat short in all sections of the country, while oats are pronounced in some sections as sharing the general disaster. In the upper parts of the county, in the Susquehanna and Octoraro region, more rain has fallen this month than in the regions round about Elkton, and a fair crop of oats is reported. The straw is short, but well headed and the grain is of good quality. Corn and potatoes bid fair to produce very fine crops, which will in some measure compensate for the failure of the hay and wheat crops, corn fodder proving the best substitute for hay. In the upper sections of the county the apple crop, where orchards are in good condition, promises to be very large. The trees are loaded with young fruit. Peaches in Sassasfras Neck will be a medium crop.

The repeated failures of the wheat crop is causing farmers to seriously contemplate, altering their system of farming, and in the future depending more on grass, which is surer and more remunerative when converted into dairy produce. The success of the experiment of cheese making at Rising Sun will have a great influence in extending the business in that part of the county. A cheese factory or creamery at or in the neighborhood of Rowlandsville, managed by a competent man, could not fail to be a most profitable venture. No better quality of grass is produced in the State than the pastures of the sandy loam soils of that part of the county. The country is well watered, hilly and healthy for stock, being comparatively free from flies and troublesome insects, which so much annoy and distress cattle in some regions in the Summer months. The beef and butter produced from the grasses of that region are among the best found in the market. With her numerous railroad facilities, which bring all parts of the county almost within two hours of the great cities, a new era in farming should not longer be delayed. The discouraging failures in the wheat crop three years out of four should cause the farmers to take advantage of their great railroad facilities for placing in the city markets other and more profitable kinds of produce than grain, especially wheat, which is about as unprofitable a crop as a Cecil farmer can raise.

The Bee Hive, genuine and alive, is on the south side of Main St., in the hollow. Goods are handled at the shortest possible profit for cash—try it.

Go to the new store of C. M. Boulden, in the Hollow, north side of Main street, and buy your Goods, they are all New and will be sold Cheap for the Cash only.

No Credit.—Don't want to and won't. Prices too low. Bee Hive.

New Gauge Roads.—The narrow or three gauge railroad projected from Oxford to York, Pa., a distance of 60 miles, has been placed under contract, at a cost of about $4,000 per mile for the grading and masonry, and will be graded to the Susquehanna river at Peach Bottom by next June. The cost of grading between Oxford and Peach Bottom, 20 miles, will be less than $3,000 per mile. It is the intention of those who have the work in hand to endeavor to extend the road to Elkton further, along the valley of the Elk, if only a spirit of enterprise by the citizens at this end of the line.

It is also on the tapis a project for building a narrow gauge road from New York to Baltimore, which will run through this city along the Octoraro creek, crossing the Susquehanna river at Deer Creek. Preliminary surveys looking to this object have been made on some parts of the line.

New gauge roads are advocated on the ground of economy in construction and running and by railroad men who have examined the subject carefully, are said to be going in favor. A narrow gauge throughline between New York and Baltimore with lateral branches reaching into towns and wealthy agricultural neighborhoods on either side the main stem, would undoubtedly develop a heavy and profitable business. The Philadelphia and Baltimore Central, which is but a local road connecting with the P. W. & B. road at Chester and Port Deposit, earned $6,000 to the mile last year, which was $2,000 per mile over and above the cost of expenses, and the business of the road is on the increase.

Knights of Pythias.—The semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge of Maryland the order of Knights of Pythias, had a meeting and parade in Elkton, on Tuesday last, which proved quite a gala day for our town. The 9.45 A. M., train brought the Baltimore visitors to our depot, where the members of the Elkton and other county lodges with the Elkton band were waiting to receive them. The Baltimore delegation numbered about 300 members, and presented a very handsome appearance as they fell into line, with brilliant uniforms and glittering swords.—The Cecil county lodges in attendance numbered 135 men. The procession formed on the depot lot in the following order. In front the Elkton band, followed immediately the different lodges of Cecil county, Wm. G. Purnell as chief marshal, A. Mitchell, P. C. Shockley, R. E. Jan and H. D. M. Howard assistants, all Washington Lodge, No. 51, of Elkton. Then followed the Baltimore delegation under leadership of Past Chancellor Levi Reitz, of Concordia Lodge, No. 24, as chief marshal, assisted by P. C. John W. Jacks, chief of staff, and Worthy Chancellor, George H. Jackson, of Columbus Lodge, No. 27, as assistant marshal, in this order: Pick's band, the members of the Grand Lodge, and the escort delegation from the different subordinate lodges.

The procession moved in its line of march down Bow to High street to Bridge, thence to Main street, along Main to the east end of town, thence by High or Back street to Bow street and round on Main to Nor street, where the procession halted in front of the Howard House, from the porch of which the strangers were welcomed in a neat and appropriate speech by Jas. Groome, Esq., on the part of the Elkton Lodge. W. S. Quigley, Grand Chancellor, and the Grand Recording Secretary James Whitehouse made appropriate replies on behalf of the Baltimorians. After the speechifying the Knights scattered through the town and amused themselves as well as the sweltering heat would allow them.

At 6 o'clock the members of the Grand Lodge assembled at the Howard House and were escorted by Pick's Band, which accompanied the Knights from Baltimore, proceeded to the Odd Fellows' Hall which had been tendered them for the purpose of their session. The members of subordinate lodges not being allowed to participate in the conventions of the grand lodge, returned home in the 6 o'clock P. M. train.

The Baltimore Band serenaded Mr. Groome in the afternoon, and ravished the ears of our citizens generally with "My Maryland" and "Dixie." Lodges from all parts of the State were represented and our Cecil lodges turned out in full force to do honor to the occasion.

Everything passed off pleasantly. Some made use of the occasion to get drunk and act as drunk men are wont to do, but with the exception of a blow or two and a few arrests or two, everything was conducted pleasantly.

The semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge of the State continued on Wednesday. A handsome tri-colored flag, comprising the colors of the order, blue, red and yellow, with a shield and spear, the emblems of the Knights of Pythias, embroidered upon the red field, was presented on the part of the individual members of the Grand Lodge to the Grand Lodge of the State of Maryland.

FOURTH DISTRICT ITEMS.

Religious.—The Sabbath school at Rock Church commences on Sunday next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The Jackson Hall Sabbath school is getting along finely under the able superintendence of Mr. Wm. Wade. The large and interesting Bible Class is taught by Mr. David Scott; the old and young take part in it, making it altogether sociable and agreeable. They have also in operation a Tract Society of nine or one hundred members.

Fair and Festival.—The St. Johns M. E. congregation are making great preparations for their Fair and Festival, to come off on the 1st, 2nd and 3d of August next. A lively time is expected. A handsome buggy is being competed for by three young gentlemen; a fine sewing machine by the ladies, and many other valuable articles are to be disposed of to those who will give the most toward finishing the church and paying off the debt now standing against it.

Miscellaneous.—The oats are nearly all harvested with us; the crop is very short, and many of the farmers are cutting down and hauling in without binding. . . The dry weather continues, and about three-fourths of the wells in this vicinity have gone dry and many are tearing out the walls and sinking deeper, and in most cases getting plenty of water. Several cases of cholera morbus are reported this week. . . The peach crop looks well. . . J. S. Strahorn is putting up a cider press.

Festival.—There will be a Festival, at Rowlandsville, for the benefit of Harmony M. P. Church, commencing Thursday, July 25th, and continue one or two days. The Port Deposit Cornet Band will enliven the occasion. Supper, 35 cents. [16

The Ground Bone now manufactured by us, is finer than that made previous to last Spring, and we believe it sufficiently fine to meet the views and requirements of most farmers.

We recommend our Ground Bone, not only for the Wheat but also as a fertilizer without a superior for the succeeding grass crops.

Our mill is continually open to public inspection, and we cordially invite all interested in the use of fertilizers to call and thoroughly examine our works, and satisfy themselves that we furnish a uniform article without admixture of any kind.

Sample sent by mail upon application.

THOS. WARING & BRO.,
Colora, Cecil Co., Md.

A full stock of Groceries at the Bee Hive. Duty on Coffee and Tea off.

RISING SUN ITEMS.

Accident.—Rev. Mr. Cook was thrown from his carriage, on Sunday morning last, near John W. Caldwell's residence, and had his left leg broken.

Improvement.—The foundation of the new Church has been finished and the brick work commenced.

Destructive Fire.—On Tuesday morning last, about 1½ o'clock, the wood shop attached to Jno. T. Bowden's foundry was discovered to be on fire. Being unable to control it, soon the whole building and contents were a mass of flame. The Maryland House, belonging to Mr. Grason, its stables and outbuildings being only divided from it by a narrow road, soon also caught fire and were destroyed. At the same time the fire crossed the road on north side and consumed the dwelling house, large brick building, used as offices, Iron Store, storeroom for patterns, carriage shops and stable, all also belonging to Mr. Bowden.—It was only by the persistent exertions of our citizens and neighbors, who came promptly to the rescue, that all the village north of the fire (the wind blowing towards the north) was saved. The sparks and flying embers setting buildings on fire in many localities. The Maryland House belonged to and was kept by Mr. William Grason, one of the finest hotel buildings on the Eastern Shore, was erected by Jno. A. Thompson, in 1868, on the ruins of the Thompson House, burned about four years ago. Mr. Grason saved most of the furniture of the first and second stories; but lost most of that in the third story. Total loss about $15,000. Insurance in Cecil Company on hotel building, $3,000; on barn and stables, $500; brick warehouse, $2,000; frame dwelling, $800; contents of barn, $250. The hotel building was insured in the Delaware Company for $3,000.—Mr. Job Haines had some $200 worth of furniture stored in a third story room and lost it all. The boarders, some of whom were from Baltimore to spend the hot summer months, mostly saved their effects, except two, who were away at the time.—Evans, Wood & Co., Bankers, occupied a room on north end of ground floor and saved their books, furniture, &c. Some half dozen men threw the safe through the window, when it took a dozen with lovers to get it off the pavement. E. W. & Co., resumed business next day in Hall building. Mr. Bowden, besides his buildings, looses heavily in Agricultural Implements, cultivators, plows, and cutting boxes, of which he was an extensive manufacturer. His total loss is estimated at $20,000.—$4,000 insurance in Cecil Company.

These shops being destroyed, throws quite a number of mechanics out of employment, and will be seriously felt in the business of our borough. Most of Mr. B's workmen lost their tools. Lewis Smith, who occupied the dwelling house with his family, only escaped with their clothes, losing everything, his carpenter tools included. Mr. Grason designs rebuilding immediately.

The fire is generally supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The noble exertions put forth by so many precludes the possibility of mentioning names, several men remained at their posts, on roofs, while the heat was sufficient to blister their hands and faces. Both men and women, boys and girls worked with a will. The great scarcity of water in our borough, adding to the labor, most all the contiguous pumps were exhausted.

CHESAPEAKE CITY ITEMS.

Religious.—The Rev. Mr. Aldried, of Galena, will preach in the M. E. Church, in this town, on next Sabbath morning and evening.

Pic-Nic.—The Chesapeake City M. E. Sabbath school and Cold Water Templars, of this town, intend to hold a Pic-Nic, on Wednesday, the 24th inst., in a grove near the town.

Peaches.—The season for peaches is near at hand, and our dealers are making preparations for a very brisk season.

Need Repairing.—The boardwalks in this town are very much out of repair and need the attention of the Commissioners.

Lightning Rods.—Quite a number of our citizens have had lightning rods put up since the late severe thunder storm.

School House.—The new school house talked of sometime ago appears to have been forgotten. We were informed that it was to be built or rather began sometime since, but we see no preparation yet.

Visitors.—Quite a number of persons have been visiting Chesapeake during the Summer. The hotels are doing quite a brisk business in the way of boarders, being full nearly all the time.

Miscellaneous.—The weather is warm. . . People are begining to think about Camp Meetings. . . Trade through the Canal is brisk. . . Berries are plenty in Chesapeake. . . How about street lamps. . . . The Good Templars are still working.

NORTH EAST ITEMS.

Heavy Rain.—Last Friday afternoon we had, in this locality, a very heavy shower of rain, which was very seasonable for corn.

Fruit and Berries.—Our market has been well supplied with black, dew and other berries, for sometime past. Early apples have also been selling for a week.

Oat Harvest.—This week, we learn, the oats cutting is progressing in the surrounding vicinity. The straw is represented as short, but the grain well filled and of good quality.

School Committee.—The school house committee, of the County Board, for the Fifth District, met here on Tuesday, 16th inst., examined and condemned the old school house and examined a sit for a new one to be erected shortly.

Knights of Pythias.—The members of the Lodge in North East went in small numbers, we learn, to Elkton, on Tuesday, to meet the Grand Lodge of the State.

Run Over.—A child was run over by a carriage on Tuesday, in our street, and slightly injured. Dr. N. B. Morrison attended the case.

THE WAY GREELEY'S NOMINATION AFFECTS TRADE AND BUSINESS.—A large dealer in metals in New York city, in a recent issue of his trade circular and price list, says:

"The nomination of Mr. Greeley has had a depressing effect on business, and has filled the minds of financial men with alarm and apprehension for the affairs of next season, should he unfortunately be elected. His well-known "on to Richmond" measures of specie payments, letting go all reserve specie and currency in the Treasury, and declaring by act of Congress or proclamation a return to specie payment the next day, his hatred so vituperatively expressed of the trading classes; his association with Tweed and the deposed Ring leaders here; all point, in the event of his success, to disaster, and to the complete disorganization of society—disorganization being his pet doctrine, and "what he knows of it, his favorite practice."

Notwithstanding the heated term, the light, cool Summer Fabrics at LEVIS' are refreshing to look at; and hundreds call, examine them and are universally plased.

Fire! Fire! Fire!—C. R. MARTINDELL, of Brick Meeting House, Cecil county, Md., is Agent for the Farmers Mutual of York Pa., and other first class fire Insurance Companies, all persons wishing to be Insured, will be promptly attended to. [19

Democratic Bolt.

The Philadelphia Press in an article headed "The Democratic Bolt" enumerates some of the opposition to the Greeley stampede:

In Virginia, Henry A. Wise, James H. Lyons, Colonel Mosby, and other prominent men refuse to bow the knee to Baal. In Kentucky, Blanton Duncan, an old and experienced politician, is actively organizing a bolt against Greeley, and receives much encouragement from the press and people. The able an influential Louisville Ledger responds to his appeal for help by forecasting the probable verdict of the Democratic masses on the work of the Baltimore Convention: "The verdict is likely to be that Greeley is an old man who has spent his life warring upon the Democratic party, who never had a heart-throb in unison with its principles, but whose thirst for office has become so intense that he is willing to accept honors and emoluments conferred by Democrats, proposing to square accounts by conferring here and there an office upon those who have distinguished themselves in the work of political stultification."

Duncan is marshalling his forces for the convention on the 3d of September, and every day receives accessions to the ranks of his followers.

In Illinois the powerful organ of the Democracy, the Chicago Times, as our readers already know, utterly refuses to recognize Greeley as the candidate of its party. In a recent issue, remarking on the evidences of Democratic disgust for Greeley and Brown, it says: "They fully justify the often-reiterated assertion of the Times, and of numerous letters from the people which have from time to time appeared in its columns, that great numbers of Democrats will not, under any circumstances, vote for Greeley and Brown.—This fact has, indeed, been apparent all along to every one not completely possessed of the Cincinnati insanity."

The Detroit Free Press, a journal equally influential with the Times, was, up to a very recent date, equally pronounced against Greeley. But "British gold," or some other sinister influence, has silenced it simultaneously with the surrender of Pomeroy's Democrat. Oregon will send delegates to the Louisville Convention, and California is rebellious. So Indiana, the Terre Haute Journal and Seymour Gazette refuses to support Greeley. The Savannah (Georgia) News, of the same party, says that Grant will beat Greeley 20,000 in that State.

SCRIBNER'S FOR AUGUST.—Two very seasonable articles in Scribner's for August are—two entertaining paper by Mr. Shanks on "Yachts and Yachting," with pictures of celebrated yachts, ocean races, etc.; and a pleasant and practical illustrated essay on "The Canoe: How to Build and how to Manage it." There are also three sterling articles by well-known writers on three vital questions—Prof. Comfort's "Languages?" Amasa Walker's "Labor and Capital in Manufactures," and Charles Dudley Warner's "What is your Culture to Me?" Among the illustrated articles are an interesting account of "The Graphic Art," by Benson J. Lossing, and "The Island of Corfu," by Charles K. Tuckerman, late United States Minister to Greece. Hans Christian Andersen tells the suggestive story of "The Gardener and the Manor," and Miss Annan relates in a very fresh and stirring way that of "Hebe's Jumbles."—There is poetry by Louise Chandler Moulton, Mary J. Serrano and Charles S. Gage. Dr. Holland writes about the recent strikes, and discusses "The Wine Question in Society," and "Novel-Reading." In "The Old Cabinet" we find "A Hard Time for some of Us," Photographs and Looking-glasses," "A Glimpse at One's self," "Wrecked on a Resemblance," and "Lost Opportunities." The Department of "Nature and Science" is very entertaining as well as instructive. "Home and Society," among other papers, has a very sensible one on "Domestic Ethics." In "Culture and Progress" the "Jubilee" is mentioned, there is something about "Two Modes of Prison Discipline," and a long review of Lamon's Lincoln; the number closing with a quaint page of Etchings by the Misses Ledyard.

—The rhetoric of the New York Tribune is set to a new measure.

—Cassius M. Clay says: "We are living under a despotism." Reason: General Grant ordered him back from St. Petersburg, where he was making an ass of himself and disgracing the country.

—Horatio Seymour, we are told, has determined to support Greeley; but if he is such a reckless liar as Greeley says he is, he may not do it after all. Perhaps he is practicing his mendacity in order to fool the confiding Sage.

—The last joke on the author of "What I Know About Farming" is a recipe, which is attributed to him, for the cultivation of fish balls. It is as follows: "Never put over five potatoes in a hill with a codfish if you would insure a crop."

—Horace Greeley is now the "Great War Horse" of the Democratic party, all the old steeds having become extinct.—But the people in November will say "neigh" to that old War Horse of Secessionism, yclp the Democracy.—Spirit of the Times.

—The Chicago physician who recently dissected the monster elephant, Romeo, has gone to Baltimore for the purpose of performing the same operation on the Democratic party. He is anxious to find out whether it has a backbone.—St. Louis Democrat.

—The gathering of the "isms" under the Greeley banner progress finely. Mormonism, Fourierism, Phalansterianism, Communityism, Lost Cause-ism, and other vagabond idea isms of the time are rallying to the support of their chief with wonderful unanimity.—Pittsburg Commercial.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvests generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is the weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the aged and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years' trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of California, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be classed as the standard one for every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people of those districts place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only. [July 6, 1872—1m

THE FARMERS' MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO. of York, Pa., has been in successful operation nearly 19 years; has paid twelve hundred and ten claims amounting to $712,607.56, without a single assessment. Prompt and ready, it has always been able to meet its engagements; never permitting debts to accumulate. Prudent and careful, it has established a business far superior in quality to that of any Mutual Company, doing a general business in Pennsylvania, hence the small percentage of losses and freedom from assessments.—Insures against loss or damage by fire and lightning, on all safe class property at reasonable rates. Losses liberally adjusted and promptly paid.

THE PHILADELPHIA CATTLE MARKET.—The market for Beef Cattle is steady at a slight advance. We quote at 8@8¾c. Receipts, 7485 head. Cows and Calves are dull at $25@80, as in quality. Receipts, 70 head. Veal Calves are firmer. We quote at 6@8c. Grassers are quoted at 3@5c. Receipts, 2850 head. Sheep and Lambs.—Sheep are moderately active, and quoted at 4@6c. Lambs are quoted at 8@13c. Receipts, 18,000 head. Swine—The market for dressed is nominal. We quote at 5@6c. Receipts, 20,632 head.

—Greeley once said in speaking of Chase's infatuation for the Presidency that when the Presidential worm bit a man he never recovered. By this showing the philosopher's case is hopeless.

Grant or Greeley.

[From the Inter-Ocean.]

Upon the first call for troops by Abraham Lincoln Grant threw aside his business, raised a company, and tendered his services to the government. Greeley, through the columns of the widely-circulated New York Tribune, advocated peaceable secession. Grant said there could be no terms offered to rebels but unconditional surrender. Greeley lifted up his voice and said "Let the wayward sisters depart in peace." Grant, in the teeth of red-tape supervision and unfriendly newspaper criticism, captured Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, and hurled the rebels back upon Corinth.—Greeley was deeply engaged in ascertaining whether there was not some philosophic way by which the nation could not be peacefully divided.

Grant said nothing, but moved upon the works at Vicksburg. Greeley said much, and tried to compromise Mr. Lincoln by overtures of peace to rebel emissaries at Niagara Falls. Grant cheered the great heart of the martyr President by constant victories. Greeley embarrassed him by constant complaints. Grant drove the rebels back upon Atlanta, planned the brilliant march to the sea, fought his way to Richmond through the dreary Wilderness, and overthrew the rebellion, staking his life, honor, and reputation on the result.—Greeley lived in luxury in New York, coining money from the publication of the news of Grant's victories. Grant captured the rebel President and lodged him in prison. Greeley bailed the rebel President and set him at liberty.

If Grant is elected it will be because he receives the support of those who believe that his life has been a true and noble one, and that he will not forsake it. If Greeley is elected, it will be because he receives the support of those who believe his life has been an evil one, and that he now proposes to abandon it.

Grant's administration, we know from the past, will be settled, safe and prosperous. Greeley's administration, we know from the same token, will be erratic, visionary, and dangerous. The two men are before the American people. Let them choose whom they will follow.

JULY.

Midsummer is upon us. The midland forest puts on its livery of the darkest green and highest vigor, in the Northern Temperate Zone; while, in the corresponding torrid region, the skies, if still severe, are making ready for the annual deluge which is the veritable spring time in those lands that boast a double summer. In the former Zone there is a general, though momentary respite from the almost universal pests of the young and the declining year; but not so in southern latitudes, where the order of the seasons is reversed, and in California, where they are somewhat exceptional. In regions where rain never falls, the deep shadows of scarcely penetrable woods, with the heavy, never ceasing dews on which they feed, keep up the perpetual decomposition of the dying leaves, and the reign of malaria continues throughout the year.

Even in the hot season of the milder climates, especially in the heavily timbered districts of the West, the same effect follows from like causes; and while dysenteries and more or less malignant bilious fevers ravage the cleared ground and upland slopes, the intermittent fevers are still frequent in the forest and the swamps. Once more then, we call attention to the advertisement of Paschall's Fever and Ague Mixture, as it appears on another page of this paper. [July 6, 1872—1m —"I am as good a Republican as ever." Horace Greeley.

Of course, then, he stands by his statement:

The brain, the heart, the soul of the present Democratic party is the rebel element at the South, with its Northern allies and sympathizers. It is rebel at the core to-day. * * * It would come into power with the hate, the chagrin, the wrath, the mortification of ten bitter years to guide and impel its steps. * * * Whatever chastisement may be deserved by our national sins, we must hope that this disgrace and humiliation will be spared to us.
