ELKTON, AUGUST 10, 1872.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.

FOR PRESIDENT,

ULYSSES S. GRANT,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

HENRY WILSON,

OF MASSACHUSETTS.

"Gen. Grant never has been defeated and he never will be."—HORACE GREELEY.

"While asserting the right of every Republican to his untrammeled choice of a candidate for next President until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that Gen. Grant will be far better qualified for that momentous trust in 1872 than he was in 1868."—HORACE GREELEY, speech on 5th January, 1871.

CAMPAIGN WHIG.

3 Months for - 40 Cents.

We will send THE WHIG as a Campaign Paper, from the 9th of July till the Presidential election, in November, for 40 Cents.

We propose to expose the Democracy in their new role of attempting to steal to power, disguised in the old white hat and coat of Horace Greeley. We are fighting the same old party of "treason, stratagem and spoils," and mean to beat them by exposing their "little game" to cheat unsuspecting Republicans by adopting the farmer of Chappaqua as a blind.

The friends of GRANT AND WILSON, and of the Republican party in Cecil, cannot aid the cause more effectually than by making an effort to get up Campaign Clubs for The Whig at every Post Office in the county.

40 cents for 4 months will not much more than pay for the paper The Whig is printed on.

☞No campaign subscriptions received without they are accompanied by the cash.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The election in this State may be likened to the first skirmish between two approaching armies, and the result in this case is full of interest as indicating the strength or weakness which the coalition of soreheads with the Democracy, beaten on a hundred fields, has produced. The eagerness of the enemy to pronounce in advance their overwhelming success, too plainly showed the terrible anxiety they felt, and the urgent necessity of making a favorable impression upon the country by this first trial. The prestige of victory was of all things most needed to bolster up the extravagant boasting which had been made use of by this new mongrel party. Although the candidates had been nominated by and from the old Democratic organization before the Cincinnati-Baltimore coalition, yet the noisy Greeleyites claimed it must be a "Liberal" fight, and sent Carl Schurz, Tipton, McClure and other leaders of the Liberals (?) down to stump the State. Had it been a straight-out fight between the Democrat and Republican parties without any interference, we are warranted in believing that the former would have triumphed by a clear majority. The returns of the election of 1870, the only party election since that time to the present fall, that has been held in the State, warrants the belief that the Democrats, without the hindering aid of their new allies would have carried the State.

In the election of 1870 which was a fair square party fight, the Democrats carried the State by 4,221 majority. In 1871 there was an election held for taking the sense of the people on altering the Constitution.—The vote resulted in a majority of 9,245 against; both parties dividing and voting for and against the proposed measure.—The Tribune takes, in the first blush of success with a 15,000 reported majority, which turned out to be a most cruel hoax, the figures of 1870, which are obviously fair, to refer to as a comparison of party strength; but when later returns knocked down the majority with every despatch, the returns of the constitutional election of 1871 were resorted to for comfort, to show what tremendous assistance the Liberals(?) had rendered.

Schurz, McClure and Tipton were sent down to stump the State for the Democrat candidates; and they came back promising fabulous majorities for the Liberal(?) ticket, and the election was scarcely over till they had returns telegraphed from nearly all the most remote and inaccessible parts of the State, where neither telegraph or railroad was within hundreds of miles. 15,000 majority was reported in the Greeley papers the next morning. The lying so successfully practiced by these worthies in their speeches, was carried out by the telegraph operators, and majorities were manufactured in the cities as soon as the polls were closed and telegraphed north, which proved to be the most shameful hoax perpetrated upon their friends that it is possible to conceive. North Carolina is a changeable, and considered a doubtful State, but from the complexion of the last election which has any significance as a party test, we might have reasonably expected a Democratic victory; but with the speeches of Schurz, McClure & Co., together with Sumner's letter and Greeley's Tribune defending the Ku-klux, it is fair to presume that decent Democrats were disgusted with the mongrel crowd their party had resolved itself into, and voted for the straight-out Republican ticket. This North Carolina election has proved pretty clearly that the Greeley "bargain and corruption" has detached as many, if not more honorable Democrats from the party, than the coalition has caught of soreheads from the Republican ranks. The enemy like bold adventurers and gamblers have been playing at bluff and trying to turn the heads of the weak, and those who strive to get on the winning side, but North Carolina has uncovered their weakness, and proved that the American people are not fickle enough to prefer the crotchety old Philosopher of the Tribune to the solid fruits of the administration of General Grant. The Greeley speculation is what every sensible man in the beginning believed it must prove, a fiasco.

A New Volume.

To-day the Whig commences the 32nd volume. A generation has passed away since the first number was issued on the 7th of August, 1841, by P. C. Ricketts, a youth at the time, and subject to all the abuse, and insult, and persecution that an insolent, and overbearing party could heap upon him. The little paper fought its way to success and prosperity gallantly through the years that followed; and the wonderful changes that took place, till it has witnessed that party whose leaders strove to snuff out the little sheet, now annihilated; a captive to its old enemy, and striving under the banner of its distroyer to retain a feeble hold in a reorganized and disorganized form, on the future. The Whig in the long course of these eventful years has steadily pushed its way to prosperity and influence, and stands to-day more prosperous, and we trust more useful than ever in the past. With this initial number of volume thirty-two we renew our pledges with our readers, and our efforts to increase its usefulness, and ask them to give their influence to extend and increase its circulation.

The agricultural department of the paper, has received more attention the past year than formerly, and every farmer in whose prosperity that department has been enlarged is requested to contribute what he knows of practical value in the business which upholds and sustains all others, to the "Farm" column of the Whig, so that his brother farmers may enjoy the benefit of that knowledge, which perhaps has cost him much labor and money to gain. By an interchange of views amongst men of the same calling, a co-operation of interests is formed.

—We have not heard of any steps being taken to ferret out the gang who took forcibly from the officer's custody and hung Jones, the colored man, in this county last week. If any measures have been taken to bring the perpetrators of this foul deed to justice, and protect the State from such disgraceful scenes of mob law, they have been kept remarkably quiet. When the officers of the State government rest supinely indifferent, when such scenes of violence are enacted, till the Federal power is invoked, to bring the guilty parties to justice, with what face can they complain, and misscall "military despotism," the arraigning before a civil court the guilty parties, by a United States' marshal, assisted by sufficient force to safely make the arrests? If our United States' Government is expected to protect every citizen claiming allegiance, from abuse by foreign governments, how much more is it bound to protect citizens from outrage on our own territory, by bringing the guilty parties to trial when the State government, through imbecility or criminal neglect on the part of their officers fail to do their duty. When the Federal power interfered to protect citizens against similar crimes which were of every day occurrence in the more Southern States, where State authorities were either powerless or disinclined to vindicate the law, the party which here has the lives of our citizens and the honor of the State in their keeping, were loudest in condemnation of that protection, which the government at Washington afforded. There can be none but the old political reason to prevent our local authorities from hunting out, or at least exhausting all available means to detect and bring to justice, the assassins of Jones. They have both the law power, entirely ample, and public sentiment to back them, and failing to do their duty, then it becomes the Federal power when appealed to, to interpose. Notwithstanding their recent pretensions, that party in its present demoralized state still holds fast to the dread Scott decision that a negro has no rights that white men is bound to respect, and when outrages against law and decency are inflicted on one of that race, they regard it with silent approval or supreme indifference.

Ben Harris on the War Path.

The Hon. Benj. G. Harris, of St. Mary's county, is out in a characteristic letter against Greeley. Ben can't stand the Democratic juggle of "anything to beat Grant." We give below some extracts from the disgusted Harris' letter.

"But when you present the alternative of the least of evils, how do you know that many Democrats may not look upon Grant as a less evil than Greeley? This is horrible idea you say, but it is the result of your own folly. Horace Greeley endorsed and praised every act of Grant's Administration until a short time since when he was prompted by the promise of corrupt bargaining Democrats to transfer the party to him and secure to him if possible the prize of the Presidency.

If then he approved heretofore of all Grant has done and no evidence of his disapproval of anything until the Democratic bid for him, what is it that commends—no not commends—but what is it that causes you to tolerate this evil and ask us to do the same—what stronger evidence can we have of the present insincerity of a most consummate villain?"

* * * * * *

"For myself, I declare most solemnly that all the Conventions that could be packed BETWEEN BALTIMORE AND PANDEMONIUM (and I hope they are wide apart) could not cause or induce me to vote for Horace Greeley for any place whatever. Under no conditions of things which my mind's eye can observe as likely to happen could I be induced to do an act so degrading.

I am sure you would not, nor would those who met in council with you in Baltimore, and I sincerely trust and hope that millions will act with us before and at the November Presidential election.

Even those Democrats who have placed their party in this horrible dilemma by their unexampled and monstrous desertion I would beseech to shrink back from their idol—the veiled prophet of Chappaqua—who, like the veiled prophet of Khorassan, may sneeringly think and say:

'There, ye wise saints, behold your light, your star;
Ye would be dupes and victims, and ye are;
Is it enough? or must I while a thrill
Lives in your sapient bosoms cheat you still?'"

A Rooster for Sale.

Our Democratic cock is for sale. Under the management of Senator Sumner and Uncle Horace, he is no longer reliable as a political chanticleer. As a Chapman he crows in season and out of season—especially out of season, as instanced by his loud crowing on last Saturday morning, when he waked us all up at an uncomfortably early hour, crowing 15,000 for North Carolina. The bird is no longer useful to us since we have enlisted under the "black Republican" banner of Charles Sumner; especially as he inclines to stick to his old Democratic teaching, of crowing big majorities were there is nothing, and waking up the whole camp before it is light enough to see the figures. Our cock is for sale cheap for cash, with Sumner's speech before the Philadelphia Convention met, and Greeley's letter of acceptance "over the bloody chasm" before the North Carolina election, thrown in. Signed,

G. W. CRUIKSHANK,
Editor of the Democrat, the black Republican organ of the Sumner-Greeley higher law party.

P. S. We will sell the wretched bird for a Greeley song, with Sumner's letter to the niggers thrown in, in addition to the other documents. G. W. C.

THREATS TO CONTEST THE ELECTION BY THE DEMOCRATS.

THE GREELEY HUMBUG 'BUSTED.'

The latest returns give Caldwell, Republican, 1,000 majority. The whole Republican State ticket is elected, with three members of Congress. The State was jeremandered by the Democratic Legislature so as to prevent the Republicans from carrying a majority of members of Congress.

The Legislature of last year stood, Senate, 14; House, 38 Republicans. It now stands, Senate, 19; House, 59, a Republican gain of 26 members on joint ballot by the Republicans in the late election.

The Republicans are firing cannons and rejoicing while the Democrats threaten to contest the election before the Legislature. We would not be surprised if Greeley is dropped by the Democrats and a straight-out ticket nominated.

MOSBY ON THE STUMP.

Col. John S. Mosby of guerrilla fame, opposed to the Greeley "bargain and corruption" which his party has entered into and got up a meeting at Salem, Fauquier county, Va., to publish his reasons for preferring Grant to the old man of the white hat. We give below some extracts from the witty guerrilla's speech:

"Those with whom I have heretofore been politically associated were seized with an unaccountable panic at the very moment when their prospects were brightest, from division in the ranks of their adversaries. They struck their colors! abjured their faith! renounced their principals and deserted, not to the Grand Army, but to a staggling band of foragers from the camp of the enemy. They took for their great chief old Horace Greeley, whose press (the New York Tribune) has for the last thirty years been a perfect Vesuvius, bleaching fire and brimstone on the heads of the Southern people. This man is now selected as the avenger of Southern wrongs. We often hear it said that the Democrt party could not afford to be beaten again, which only means that the Democratic party connot afford to be honest any longer. Those of you who have read that charming romance of Bulwer's—'Paul Clifford'—in which is portrayed the life and character of that celebrated highwayman will remember the advice of Tom Clifford to little Paul, when she sent him out to seek his fortune: 'Read your Bible, Paul, and talk like a pious man; if you want what is not your own, try and get it without it, and if you can't do with it, take it by insinuation, not bribery. They that swindles does more and ... less than they as robs.' On this ... Paul had a most successful career ... the Greeleyites would say, for he got a

GREAT DEAL OF PLUNDER

although he finally ended his life, ... of Paganini's tunes, on a single string. Now this comprehends the whole morality of the Greeley movement; to get insinuation—as the worthy dame says—what you can't by an open declaration of your purpose. According to this class of philosophers all those men who have made their lives sublime, struggling against odds for truth and justice, were ... the three hundred Greeks, who won immortal fame, dying for their faith in the mountain pass of Thermopylæ, would have done a much better thing for themselves at last if they had betrayed the fortunes of their country to the enemy on his promise to share with them some of the gage and plunder of his camp.

THE LIBERALS

A Liberal Republican! Do you know what a Liberal Republican is? ...hy whenever a Radical gets disappointed in getting and office or gets kicked out for his rascality, he instantly assumes the ... one of that self-righteous Pharisee who ... ked God he is not "as other men are," talks with an air of indignant virtue of ... m in government, purity in politics, nepotism and gift-taking, and calls himself a Liberal. Liberal in what? to whom? to nobody but themselves. Who are they? Why, the author of the impeachment resolution of Andrew Johnson, who was turned out of office for malpractice; Kilpatrick, also, as Minister to Chili, brought scandal on the Government that General Grant ... called him; Dana, who went down to Fort Monroe to witness the agony of Jefferson Davis, when the chains were put on him; Banks, Jackson's commissary, all know who he is; he justly earned the title of Liberal Republican in the Valley of Virginia, for he not only furnished him men with rations but the Confederates also with enough to last them six months.

CORRUPTION AND DEFALCATION

General Hunton has read a ... of defaulters. I have no doubt there are many of them, but I learn that most of the largest defaulters were commissioned by Horace Greeley. He has spoken in severe terms of the abuses and corruption of the Administration. I've no doubt there is a great deal of truth that.—But it isn't the corruption that these Greeley men object to. Oh no; they it is to be corrupted themselves. This reminds me of a story I have heard the ... ture of a town in Spain by the French. ... wful things had been told of the ... nse ... mitted to soldiers on such ... sions; some old maids who had heard ... tales ... confessed themselves and waited ... day to receive company.
