Investing in Real Estate. - Mesers. W. D. Alexander and T. T. Woollens, of North East, have recently purchased of Mr. W. S. Kirk, six 50 feet lots in the village of Oxford, Pa. Price $4.00 per foot. The lots extend from Central Avenue to the Railroad. Our men of enterprise go to a neighboring village in an adjoining State to invest in business stands. Real Estate holders will sell there at such prices as business men can afford to pay, and they consequently buy and improve. Are those of Elkton too old to learn? or will they continue to hold on like grim death to the defunct colored person, till the sheriff or administrator is called in to effect the Cold Weather. - We have been treated to some of the coldest weather, this week, that the denizers of this latitude have experienced for a year past. Commencing with Sunday, when our exchanges report the thermometer at 9-the mercury doesn't get so low here. We have had a continu. ation of the Arctic temperature, with snow, hail and sleet, fit accompaniments. It is unusually cold weather for December, and such as to make the poor shudder for the future of the Winter. The shrill whistle of the north wind, bearing on its wings the cutting sleet, appeals to the sympathies of those who are blessed with comfortable homes and warm, cheerful fires, to remember the poor and destitute; especially the helpless little children, brought to destitution and want, through the fashonable bane of strong drink, which the State traffics in on a larger scale than any other deal- of the compass.

Sleigh riding is doubtless a great pleasure, with the merry bells ringing, while ure, with the merry bells ringing, while the sleigh glides over the smooth, crisp snow, but the gatification is attended with considerable expense.
