RECEPTION. A very interesting reception came off on Thursday evening, January 31st, at West Nottingham Academy, under the supervi sion of Geo. K. Bechtel, Esq., Principal of the Academy, which was in the highest degree creditable to the Students and Professors. The audience room of the building was very tastefully ordered and arranged for the occasion. The stage being hand. somely decorated with flowers and evergreens, prepared by the ladies of the village, which evinced a high degree of artistic taste. The exercises of the evening, consisted of Music, Select Reading, Dialogues and Speeches. The students acting their parts well, and with such ease and grace as to elicit great applause from the udience. The most interesting features of the occasion, were the original speeches delivered by Messrs. White, Warburton, Stuart and Kirk, which evinced a high degree of original talent. The house was packed with a large audience, who doubtless returned to their homes well satisfied with their visit to the time-honored institution. This is one of the oldest Academies in the State, and has played an active part in the cause of education. Some of the most prominent men in the country owe their education to this humble school. May it prosper in the future.
