Will he deny that the tax-payers, already overburdened, do pay $7,500, instead of $2,500 to the judges on this judicial circuit? Will he pretend that the three judges receiving as salary $7,500, do more work, or work more satisfactorily than the one judge who received $2,500? As learned as the present Bench is, does he expect the people of Cecil will believe that they have more learning or legal ability than Judge Constable or Judge Price? If $2,500 supplied our Bench with such judges as these two, why should the tax-payers be compelled to pay an excess of $5,000 for judges, who, to say the least, have not more of the qualifications needed than the two judges above named? If $2,500 gave us judges as good as we Let tax-payers ponder these questions. If the farmer can purchase lime for 20 cents a bashel, why should he be anxious to pay $1.00 for an article no bet-
