The Cecil Whig

ELKTON, JUNE 7, 1873.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Money sold at the Mutual Building Association last Saturday night for $1.55 premium.

—The steamer Cyrus P. Smith now leaves the Landing at 7 o'clock in the morning, instead of at 8 o'clock, as heretofore.

—H. R. Torbert, Esq., has placed handsome awnings over his second story front windows, which are a great improvement in both appearance and comfort.

—Now is the season when editors will say, "We are deeply grateful to Mrs. G. for that basket of exquisite strawberries we found lying on our table last week."

—Prof. Seelve says the ornaments of the Hindoo women are estimated to be worth $500,000,000. Children that wear nothing else wear ornaments, and all the girls and women wear nose rings.

—Our seines have all out out, but our gillers are still catching a few shad. The law for fishing with seine or net, expires by limitation the 10th of the present month.
Havre Republican.

—President Grant and party passed through Elkton on the afternoon train north, on Thursday, on their way to Long Branch. The Presidential party occupied the splendid palace car, Pennsylvania.

—A Paris beggar, on being traced home, was found to be worth 1535 francs, and several suits of good clothes, in which he used to disport himself at night on the boulevards like any other gentleman.

—The Alphas of our town will play a game with the Newark College Club to-day at 2 o'clock; and on Wednesday next the Active of Wilmington at the same hour. The games will be played near the lumber yard of Davis & Miller.

—Alderman Bennett had his Democratic guyes-cutes on exhibition last Wednesday, in front of Dunbar's saloon. The animal got into such a frenzy that Judge Brown had to threaten to lock it up, before the keeper stopped the performance.

—The P., W. & B. Railroad Co., are burnishing up about the Depot—relaying the brick paved court, and resetting door sills, etc. The culverts on the road—there are several in this vicinity—are also being thoroughly overhauled and repaired.

—A fight between two boys—one yellow and the other white—took place in the street near Frazer's Drug Store, on Thursday night last. An organized company of young roughs of the town, we are informed, are cultivating the graces of rowdyism nightly.

—A Strawberry Festival will be held at Cherry Hill, by the Knights of Pythias, on Saturday next, 14th inst., at which time the Corner Stone of their new Hall at that place will be laid. Particulars of the Festival and ceremonies will be found in our advertising columns.

—A fashion for handsome yards has developed itself this Spring in Elkton.—We hope it will extend and increase.—Nothing is more attractive than green lawns, gravel walks and beds and urns of choice flowers. Flowers are, humanizers, civilizers and christianizers.

—Mr. John Du Bois is putting another large wing to his Sash and Door manufactory. It ought soon have enough to fly, but we hope its flying will consist in the increase of flying wheels and busy saws.—Mr. N. W. Noland,—the gentlemanly Superintendent,—is pushing this branch of Mr. Du Bois' business.—Havre Republican.

—W. S. Evans, attorney for mortgagee, sold the undivided third of the late John A. Johnson farm, situated on the old plank road, two miles from Elkton, on Tuesday last, at the suit of the Cherry Hill Building Association, against Howard Johnson, mortgagor. The society bought the property for $1200, subject to two prior mnortgages.

—The bridge over the mill race at the "Far Creek" will be in the water if the road is not filled up in the middle, and the water from heavy rains turned off. An expenditure of one dollar in season would have saved the county ten, as the case stands at present. If deferred awhile longer the bill against the county will be a hundred dollars. And this is a fair specimen of the fruits borne by our "road system."

—Mr. W. H. Eder, postal-car clerk on day line of P. W. & B. Railroad, had a narrow escape from a broken arm last week. The train which he runs on passes Elkton, south, about two o'clock P.M. and runs at the rate of forty miles an hour; while passing this station, Mr. Eder was waving his hand out of the car as a signal, when passing the water-tank and was struck by the projecting hose. The shock was very severe, and for a few moments he thought his arm was broken. Danger and death are ever near to them who run on the cars.

—An unfortunate culprit was recently brought before an Iowa Justice charged with assaulting and battering a maiden. Investigation showed that the defendant had merely saluted the damsel against her will. She was in court, and gave her testimony looking so very beautifully that the Judge was compelled to make a special ruling. He could not, he said, in conscience fine the man for doing what was done; for, said His Honor, "I have been obliged to hold on to the arms of my chair to keep from kissing the complainant myself." Never did a Judge give a more rational decision.

—We hear a rumor that the Town Commissioners are resorting to various expedients to evade the plain provisions of the law, in valuation of property and levying of town taxes thereon. In case over 30 cents is levied, a rate to which the law plainly limits, a number of citizens will refuse to pay the tax. Some of our citizens would like to know to whom was paid, and for what purpose, the $913.35 stated as disbursed by the last board. Besides $319.68 is charged to G. W. Denny in the statement, and we are informed that Mr. Denny shows receipts for nearly the whole amount, and the great question of the town is: what has become of these two sums?

—Messrs. Mason & Warner propose extending their business of making shoes by machinery. They now turn out a handsome and superior article of children and Misses shoes which sell at about two-thirds of what shoes of the same quality made in the old way, sell for. If our merchants would patronize them more liberally, and help to increase the manufacture, and keep the money at home which they send to the city for shoes no better or cheaper, it would result in increased advantage to the stores, as well as to the whole business of the town. If we had an establishment that would earn a thousand dollars a week in making up goods that are brought from a distance to sell here, the advantage to seller and buyer would be greatly enhanced. The money invested by the merchants at home would be returned to them for goods of various kinds in a few days. When they take it away to buy goods it never returns, but the vacuum has to be supplied from other sources of industry at home.—When the manufacturer and consumer can be placed side by side, the greatest benefit accrues to both. The cost of freights and exchange are saved.

Obituary.—Mrs. Millicent Brown, relict of the late Rev. Joseph T. Brown, died at her residence, Cherry Hill, on Wednesday last. Her late husband was Chaplain of the 6th Maryland Regiment, and was incarcerated for months a prisoner in Libby, from the effects of which he died.

The Moonlight Excursion, mention of which was made last week, takes place Wednesday evening next, June 11th on the steamer C. P. Smith. It is a private affair and all those receiving invitations will please be on board the boat, at Elk Landing at 7 o'clock. The Elkton Band has kindly volunteered their services, and a pleasant time is expected.

An Important Case Decided.—The case of James H. Smith vs the County Commissioners of Cecil county, to recover extra compensation for building the bridge over Little Elk, on the new Elk Neck road which was removed from this to Baltimore county, was tried this week, at Townsontown, and decided in favor of the defendants. The sum claimed was some two thousand dollars, which was marked to the use of Isaac R. Trimble.

The case occupied four days, and was argued by Jas. T. McCullough and Richard J. Gittings, Esqs., for Cecil county; and by Judge Emory, John T. Ensor and J. H. Kenne, Esqs., for plaintiff.

Anthropology.—The lecture on this subject by Rev. J. H. Johns, at Zion, Md., on Wednesday evening last, was a good one. It was an able exposition of the unity of the human race, and refutation of the attempt by some modern theorists to prove that the human family had not the same origin, or that it was descended (or ascended) from the lower order of animals. The manner in which Mr. Johns handled his subject showed that he had made deep and careful research after the truths of science and his deductions and conclusions were logical and convincing. The lecturer held his clever audience for over an hour and a half in rapt attention to the close, there being a number of persons present from a distance. Mr. Johns delivered two lectures on the same subject in Delaware College, Newark, on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week.—Oxford Press.

The lectures ought to be delivered in Elkton. Apply the antedote where the poison has been so profusely spread.

Arrested for Murder.—The letter of our Chesapeake City correspondent gives an account of the arrest of two colored men for murder on Sunday night last. The names of the parties charged with the murder were Lawrence Woodey and John Cooper. Ned Taylor was murdered on Monday night, 26th of May, at Richmond and his body thrown into the dock.

On Wednesday last two detectives from Richmond, W. F. Knox and John Wren, came to Elkton with a requisition for the prisoners, recognized the men in custody of the sheriff, and took them in charge. They said the younger of the two had committed the murder by knocking his victim on the head. The murder took place in a groggery. The culprits were aged 18 and 23, respectively, and it was the opinion of the detectives that one of them was pretty sure to stretch hemp.

Lodged in Jail.—A colored man named Alexander Johnson, whose habitation was Water street, was arrested on Wednesday night, by deputy-sheriff T. White and lodged in jail, charged with stealing goods from the auction room of G. K. Collier, some three weeks ago. Aleck had been dodging the officers for some time and was very shy, and it required some stratagy to secure him. The deputy-sheriff discovered himself and laid in wait near his dwelling place. About eleven o'clock Alexander made his appearance, when the officer rushed upon him, but he succeeded in eluding the officer, when a race ensued, officer White firing a shot to bring him to, but it served only to accelerate the fugitive's speed. Aleck was headed by sheriff Thomas, who was stationed on the bridge in the course he was attempted escape, and in his efforts to run up Bridge street the officer over-hauled and secured him.

Installation of Rev. W. W. Heberton.—On Tuesday last the day set apart for that ceremony, the installation of Rev. W. W. Heberton, as Pastor of the Elkton Presbyterian Church, took place. The day was one of the brightest of this pleasantest season of the year. The sun shone in his summer splendor; the trees and shrubs were clothed in richest green; the birds sang merrily in the boughs; and the perfume of thousands of blossoms and flowers blooming in every field, garden and hedge, filled the rustling summer breeze with the sweetest fragrance. The ceremonies were performed in the chapel to the unfinished church, and commenced at 2 o'clock P.M. The attendance was small for an occasion of the kind, the chapel being no more than comfortably filled. The room, we should judge, has not a capacity to seat more than one hundred persons without crowding. Rev. S. A. Gayley, of West Nottingham Church, presided, and proposed the customary questions to the candidate for installation. After this ceremony, Rev. G. L. Moore preached an able and impressive sermon.

Rev. John Crowell, D. D., performed the ceremony of giving the charge to the Pastor, in a very neat and appropriate manner, reciting the duties and grave responsibilities which devolve upon the shepherd in his care of the flock placed under his charge.

Rev. Justus T. Umsted closed the services by reminding the congregation of their duty toward their Pastor, and exhorting them to the faithful performance of it. His closing remarks were full of wisdom, and pertinent to the subject, in which he impressed the duty of allowing the Pastor entire freedom in his manage of his domestic affairs, and his choice of tradesmen, doctor, etc. He also reminded the congregation that the habit of making presents to their minister, though ever so small, was a bond of union which served to strengthen the attachment between Pastor and people. Mr. Umsted, at the conclusion of his remarks, stated that it was customary on occasions of installing a new Pastor, for the congregation, great and small, as a mark of their cordial welcome and esteem, to take the minister by the hand, with a good wish for his future happiness and success in the work he had undertaken; and for the greater convenience and facility in performing this kindly office, the minister would take his stand at the door of the Church, where the congregation would all have an opportunity of greeting him as they passed out. Mr. Heberton accordingly did so, and received the congratulations of the congregation as they withdrew.

The music by the choir was not the least interesting and pleasant feature of the ceremony. The anthem at the opening services, "The Lord in His Holy Temple," and "Cry aloud, Spare not," immediately after the installation ceremony were very fine. Mr. George A. Blake presided at the organ and executed the pieces with remarkable beauty and expression.

CAUTION.—Purchasers of the Peruvian Syrup (a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron) are cautioned against being deceived by any of the preparations of Peruvian Bark, or Bark and Iron, which may be offered them. Every bottle of genuine has PERUVIAN SYRUP (not Peruvian Bark) blown in the glass. EXAMINE THE BOTTLE BEFORE PURCHASING.

Quarterly meeting at the Charlestown, M. E. Church next Sabbath.

Strawberry Festival in the basement of the C. T. Church on 13th and 14th, inst., for the benefit of the Sabbath School.

New house in Perkin's Town by Jacob Minker; one in summitville by J. S. Simcoe, B. Simcoe, contractor. Painting and whitewashing, in the town, is general.

The return game between the West Nottingham and North East clubs was played on Saturday last, on the latter's ground and won by the former. Each club has won a game; another will be played.

Sailing excursions are very popular these moonlight nights, on the North East river. The boys and girls are said to enjoy them muchly. A good opportunity is afforded them for a little courting; they leave the old folks at home.

On Wednesday afternoon two young men, operators in the N. E. Cecil Fire Brick Company, got into some difficulty, on account of the discharge of one of them, resulting in a knock down, which was retaliated by several cuts in the arm, by a pen knife, which proved to be painful, but not dangerous. The parties were bound over, I hear, to keep the peace.

The tree man, the tobacco man, the shoe man, the cattle eating up the shade trees and the swine of the masculine gender, rooting and defacing paint on fences, are around; where is the bailiff?

Filthy water in the cellars up town, and hog pens on water street, if not removed may cause a visitation of cholera before the Summer ends.

Removal — Machinery Sold — Distinguished Visitor—Sale—Fine Wheat.

The Post Office has been moved from the Abraham's building to the room formerly occupied by Rambo's hardware store.—This is certainly a very wise move, as peaceable persons can have some room to keep out of the way of those pugilistic gentlemen who infest the Post Office, while the mail is being opened.

Reynolds Bros. have disposed of the machinery in their sash factory, to the company now erecting the new car shops, at Oxford, Pa.

Our friends will no doubt regret to learn that the wife of Hon. Jacob Tome, is lying very ill at present. There is much doubt expressed of her recovery. She has a large circle of friends who extend every assistance that science or care can render.

Postmaster-General Creswell visited this, his native town, on Monday last. We were pleased to see him looking so well; from his appearance he will stand a good many hard battles yet with those who seek to oppress his department.

The saw mill property and a number of leasehold lots belonging to the estate of late Col. J. J. Heckart, were sold at public sale, on Wednesday the 4th, inst. The mill and machinery was purchased by John J. Buck, Esq., who has managed the estate since Col. Heckart's death. The lots were bought by F. M. Allen, Esq.

We noticed a field of wheat belonging to J. J. Abrahams, fully shot, more than a week ago. It appears that harvest is rapidly approaching, notwithstanding the backwardness of the weather. Many favorable reports are made respecting wheat, but some doubt is expressed regarding the supposed favorable prospect for grass. A party driving from this place to the "Buck," in Lancaster county, a day or two since, reports splendid prospect for both these crops in that vicinity. He says there is no sorrel there and attributes it to the frequent and liberal use of lime. Sorrel has become a terrible nuisance in this county and if lime will kill it why not use it more freely?

Arrest for Murder—Temperance Convention—Pic-nic—Improvement—Bailiff.

The quietude of our town was considerably disturbed on Sabbath evening last, by the arrest of two negro men. Several days previous a telegram was sent to constable Vandegrift from Richmond, Va., authorizing the arrest of two negro men of the schooner John Baily, on suspicion of murder. The vessel did not arrive here until Sunday evening, at which time the men were arrested, taken before Squire Christfield, and committed to Elkton jail.

The County Temperance Convention was held on Wednesday last. The assembly convened at 10 o'clock A.M., public business for the advancement of the cause was conducted in the afternoon, and public meeting in the Masonic Hall at night. A large audience was in attendance. Speeches were made by Mr. Manner, of Baltimore, Revs. T. L. Poulson and Pennell Coombs.

As Whit-sun-tide is a great holiday among the colored folks, it was generally observed in the usual manner by a pic-nic, which was held in the woods, near Back Creek. We are informed upwards of five hundred were present; and creditable to say we hear of no disturbance of any kind on the ground, throughout the day.

Our town may still be numbered on the improving list. Mr. Thos. Conrey has commenced his brick dwelling on Bohemia Avenue, and Wm. Barwick the foundations for his dwelling; both to be fine buildings. Other improvements are continually going on.

The appointee for bailiff has not yet been settled upon. It appears that our Town Commissioners elected two bailiffs by a slip, and it has not been settled who shall wield the baton of office.

Improvements — Diseases Among Horses — Sale of Money—Installation.

Miss Sarah Reynolds has been improving her yard and garden with new fences. Dr. E. Hestor is placing a new fence about his premises. J. W. Caldwell has fenced and otherwise improved his property. Basil Haines has the foundation for his new house well under way.

Wm. Terry had a valuable horse take suddenly sick, when near Samuel Haines' residence, several days ago and has been unable to get it home; but now has some hopes of it getting well. Horace Duyckinck near B. M. House, had a fine mule die a few days ago. John P. Wilson had a fine mare die also. Each of these parties have other animals sick. Farmers and horse owners are getting rather nervous at the prospect of another "spell" among the horses.

At the last meeting of the Building and Loan Association, 3 shares were sold at 11 per cent premium.

Cecil Lodge No. 40 I. O. G. T., have elected and installed for the present term: W. C. T., Edwin Hunt; W. V. T., Martha Bird; W. S., Charles P. Brown; W. F. S; Thos. Riley; W. C., Amelia McClure; W. M., Jacob Kirk; W. I. G., Maggie Mahan; W. O. G., Job Marr. The Lodge is in quite a flourishing condition, and receiving many new members.

—The high character of the gentlemen having the Public Library Gift enterprise in charge, and the scrupulous fidelity with which the previous drawings have been conducted, relieve the Public Library from the stigma which usually attaches to advertisements of a speculative character. There is every reason to believe that all their engagements, as heretofore, will be carried out to the letter.

THE PREMIUM BUSINESS.—In another column will be found a new announcement from the publishers of the popular family and story weekly, OUR FIRESIDE FRIEND. This paper is endorsed by the prominent papers of Chicago and other places, and is evidently a grand success. They announce that their second annual distribution will positively take place on the 20th of August next. Their chromo is a beauty, and all they claim for it. Read their advertisement, it will give you full particulars.

—George Smith, of London, in his diggings into the ancient city of Nineveh, has unearthed the recently missing fragments of the old Assyrian record of the Deluge; and, better still, he has found a library in stone of an Assyrian king. But these are nothing to compare with the Rich Fabrics to be seen every day at the GLASS FRONT.

Communicated.

To Ye "Town Fathers" of ye Wholesome and Goodly Town of Elkton.

Being a citizen of the town and one that has always paid his tax, I wish to offer a few suggestions to the new Board of Town Commissioners:

Water will run in a ditch 3 feet deep when the bottom of the ditch has an inclination of six or eight degrees, and consequently it is not absolutely necessary to pay a man for scraping out the ditch; without it is your intention to have the water wash a gully that you or your successors may have a chance to pay for filling up gully again.

I would further suggest that inasmuch as the season is close at hand, when former boards in years past begun the grubbing process for the cultivation of weeds, and inasmuch as that process is laborious, oppressive and tiresome, that you gentlemen procure one of Jacob's hand-plows, and if the ground should be hard to work along the lanes, by-paths and out-of-the-way nooks and corners, that you authorize the bailiff to confiscate, or impress a stumpy-tailed mute that for some time past, has been grazing along High street, hitch the mule to the hand-plow and let him propel it. And it would, I humbly suggest, be a great improvement on the way things have heretofore been managed, and at the same time show your appreciation of the inventive ingenuity of the patentee, if you would procure for the use of the bailiff the revolving harrow that has been standing against the Academy fence for some time (the harrow is said to be a failure, but so much the better, it will illustrate the enterprise and thrift of the town.) Jacob, I venture to say, will be glad to part with it; and the bailiff can propel it by the aid of the mule, and if the bailiff should have a mechanical turn of mind, he may possibly discover the cause of the failure in the harrow and remedy the defect, obtain a patent for the improvement, and make a fortune.

I would like to state for the benefit of the bailiff that, though the utensil is called a revolving harrow it somehow refuses to revolve, and is but little better than a common drag harrow.

It is believed that this method of cultivating weeds, is better—I know it is more scientific—than that usually pursued in this town. I commend it to your serious attention, let me persuade you to try it, and if you do, I pledge myself to give you —if in my power—some equally valuable suggestions about the collection of the town tax and many other things of very great importance.

For The Cecil Whig.

ANTHROPOLOGY.

MR. EDITOR.—"R" has explained one thing to us. Until his last letter appeared we could but wonder why a person living at this day, could give vent to such absurd ideas as he has advanced. His last letter, however, explains the matter, for he informs us that his training in the sciences is not very recent; in other words is quite ancient.

"R" is indeed behind the age—truly he must have been trained "in the days of old lang syne,"—that remote period when men spun bombastic nothings from their heads without regard to fact. Perhaps like Rip Van Winkle (does "R" stand for Rip?) "R" has just roused up from a long, long slumber and imagines himself to be in another generation.

His memory must be failing him; for, certainly, one whose ideas stand so far back toward the Adamic age, ought to have written better by his memory of Adam and our progenetors, than "R" has done. I notice that he objects to my authorities though I quoted the best now living—and that he mentions not a single one—relying, we suppose, on his memory. All I have to say is that I will stake my authorities against his memory—however ancient—any day.

"R" must widen his ideas as to what a discussion on Anthropology consists of.—A proper treatment of the subject includes a view of it taken from the stand point of every science now known to man. Any other method is narrow, weak and short-sighted, and he who enters the contest without such a coordination of the sciences at his command is sure to make himself an object of ridicule, after his first puny effort. The latest results in every science from Theology that treats of God, the cause of man's origination, to the study of the smallest particles of unorganized matter, must be brought in—and more especially a "recent training in Geography, History, &c.," which "R" confesses he has not—his article sustaining him in the confession.

When he hears of any more continents being "hove up," the world would be glad to learn from him. Perhaps the reason why "R" has succeeded so badly with the origin of man is, because he has been of late giving more attention to the study of the gentler sex; and as he failed so completely on the other subject, we suggest that he write us an article on the origin of Eve. G. A. B.

LOCAL OPTION.—The great advantages of the temperance rule under the "local option" law have been very apparent in Chester county, since the law went into effect on the first of April. The jail at West Chester has fewer occupants now than ever, while there is a remarkable freedom from fights and brawls in that and all other towns of the county.

In our own Borough of Oxford a drunkon man is a rare sight and, to our knowledge, not one has been seen on our streets since the temperance reign began. Men who formerly loafed away their time around the taverns and spent their scanty earnings at the bar, are no more seen in their old haunts but may be found, if searched for at some honorable employment. The fear of some and the cry of others that if the license was denied the hotels that the general business of the town would suffer, grass would grow in our streets, our houses deserted, etc., has been proven, as we knew it was then, the simplest bosh. No business has suffered except (as it should everywhere, instead of its victims,) the liquor traffic. Indeed, considering the general dullness of the times, all business is now in a flourishing condition, and in some respects far ahead of the last few years. The statement that more liquor would be drunk, being sold clandestinely, jugged and smuggled into the community, than while it was sold with legal sanction, has also proven utter foolishness.

Such has been our experience under the temperance rule, and we know that we express the sentimouts of nine-tenths of the citizens of this community, at least, when we hope that the temperance law may long remain in fell force and virtue.

—No Pill in the world ever had anything like the circulation of AYER'S PILLS.—Throughout these States, Mexico, and the Central American republic, down the slopes of the Andes, and across the pampas of South America, in negro villages, amid the fervid wilds of Africa, throughout the jungles of India, and the steppes of Interior Asia, over the continent of Australia, and the islands of the Pacific, these PILLS are known and everywhere used as family remedies for diseases. With distant nations, their wonderful cures attract more attention than they do at home; for the sentiment of wonder takes a far deeper hold on their minds than the results of a higher scientific skill with us. The amount consumed require seventy-five thousand doses a day to supply it. An inspection of the manufactory showed us how this enormous demand is made and sustained. Added to the consummate skill of their composition, is an extreme care in their manufacture, which at once secures the most perfect material and their most accurate combination. The consequence is power and certainty in controlling disease which other remedies never attained.

—Another destructive fire broke out in Boston, on Friday morning 30th, ult.—Nearly all the buildings on the west side of Washington street from Avery to Boylesten street, and on the east side from Essex to Hayward place were destroyed, besides several buildings on Essex street. The loss is estimated at $1,250,000. Many large business houses were destroyed.—Chickering & Son.'s, piano makers, lose $100,000.
