By Order of the Republican Executive Committee of Cecil County.

The Duty of the Republican Party. A grave duty devolves upon the Republican party to-day in the Primary Meetings, which is an earnest of what will be done on Tuesday next, in the County Convention. Let the friends of reform turn out to-day with a determination to stop "ring" rule in this County, and organize the campaign by sending their most experienced and discreet men to the County Convention, which has a most momentous duty to perform. We want only those to be sent to Elkton as Delegates who feel the weighty responsibility that will rest upon that Convention, of selecting the very ablest men for candidates that can be found. Let no delegate for one moment think of personal favorites for any office. No man has any claims on the party: the people have claims for public service on every citizen, and let the public good alone be consulted. If any delegate enters that convention with pet plans to gratify, or with a slate made up, they are doemed to be smashed. The collective wisdom of the entire Convention must be consulted as to the fittest candidate for each place, and the most rigid impartiality for personal preferences maintained. The Republican party, and the people en mass, demand men of integrity, intelligence and business qualifications to represent them on the forthcoming
