Premiums Extraordinary

A Valuable Magazine Free!

We will send THE CECIL WHIG for 1874, from January 1st, and a copy of WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE, or a copy of THE JOURNAL OF THE FARM, for $2.00. Or for $2.30 we will send THE WHIG and WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE and a handsome Chromo YO-SEMITE FALLS, dimensions 14 x 20 inches. This is a beautiful landscape chromo, much superior to the majority of premium chromos.

Wood's Household Magazine is a first-class family periodical, published monthly, and any home circle receiving its visits for a year will reap many times the value of the entire outlay in pleasure and useful information. THE HOUSEHOLD is much improved and ranks among the best family periodicals of the day.

The Journal of the Farm is one of the best, neatest and most practical Agricultural publications issued from the American Press. It is published in Philadelphia, and we have selected the JOURNAL from a large list of agricultural papers as the very best one to supply the needs of the farmers of Cecil.—Every one who examines it will be satisfied that we cannot speak too highly of this publications. Both magazines may be seen at our office.

☞Send in your orders at once, ACCOMPANIED BY THE CASH, and receive a copy of the magazines.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The Mutual Building Association meets to-night.

—A new map and descriptive circular of the lands of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fee Railroad will be sent free from this office by mail to any person applying.

Change of Time Table.—The change for winter running on the Phila. and Balt. Central Railroad has been made. Trains will leave Philadelphia for Oxford at 7 A. M. and 4.30 P. M. For Chadd's Ford and Chester Creek Railroad at 7 and 10.30 A. M., and 4.30 P.M., and at 6.45 P.M. on Saturdays only for Chadd's Ford and Oxford.

Bond of W. W. Scott, Sheriff, approved; bond of J. C. Price, administrator of W. L. Hague, approved. Final account of Clinton McCullough, administrator of W. H. Ricketts, examined and passed; first account of Jos. A. and Samuel T Roman, examined and passed.

Letters of administration on the estate of Hannah Crawford revoked, will proven and letters testamentary granted to J. J. Buck on the same.

Thanksgiving.—Thursday the National Thanksgiving day was observed in Elkton with a Sabbath-like respect, particularly in the early part of the day. The stores and all places of business were closed, except the hotels and saloons. Service was held in all the churches, where Thanksgiving discources were delivered. Trinity Church was decorated very tastefully and appropriately with the fruits and products of the earth. In the evening a Thanksgiving Concert of sacred music was held at the M. E. Church, the singing being chiefly by home talent. The concert was a grand success, the church being crowed and the performance received the highest encomiums from all present.

Toys.—Why go further and fare worse, when by patronizing Adams & Brothers of Wilmington, Delaware, you can get just what you want in endless variety and quantity, thus saving railroad fare, freight, and time; while the saving in price we have no doubt would make an important item. These gentlemen are wonderfully enterprising, having determined this year to import from France and Germany such foreign made toys as were required to supply their customers. Hence those who buy of Adams & Brothers, will be sure of dealing with first hands after leaving the vessel, and will not be required to pay the profit which a jobber would add to the price. All Cecil county toy dealers should buy their toys and fancy goods from Adams & Brothers. See their Kriss Kringle advertisement in to-day's Whig.

Installations.—This week our newly elect county officers bonded and swore in.

On Tuesday last, Sheriff W. W.. Scott took possession of the jail and its appendages, animate and inanimate. His brother, A. J. Scott, qualified as Deputy. W. Wilson, J. H. Scott, C. W. Maxwell, David Scott, and J. W. Purner, stand bondsmen to the Sheriff in the sum of $25,000.

On Wednesday, Authur W. Mitchell, Clerk of the Court, elect, took the oath of office before Judge Stump, and entered on the duties of the office; Mr. Scott dropping the robes and baton and retiring to private life. W. K. Reckefus was sworn in as first Deputy and Henry H. Gilpin as second Deputy—both having acted in the same capacity with the late Clerk. Wm. Bowen, Dr. H. H. Mitchell and John Stump, are the new Clerk's bondsmen in the sum of $12,000.

The organization of the new Board of County Commissioners hung fire on Tuesday, which was the day quietly arranged for that important business, one of the elect, Mr. Gillespie, having failed to put in an appearance on that day. The members all met on Wednesday, however—Joseph Biggs, Dr. R. E. Bromwell and John E. Gillespie. The most important business in order for the new Board was the election of a Clerk. The names of Benjamine B. Price, of the Frst District; Henry L. Physick, of the 7th, and I. F. Vanarsdale, of the 9th; were placed in nomination. The number of aspirants were legion.—Elkton alone furnishing about half a dozen. Being but three Commissioners, only three candidates for the office could with propriety be placed in nomination, and only one elected. On the first ballot each of the three nominees received one vote, and on the second ballot Mr. Vanarsdale was elected—Bromwell and Gillespie casting their votes for him. Noble T. Biddle was elected counsel to the Board.

Mr. Jamar has not yet taken the oath of office as preliminary to entering on his new term as Register of Wills, thirty days being allowed in which to perform that important duty, after the commission is issued by the Governor. Mr. Jamar will bond on the 8th of December.

All the good things were not consumed on Thanksgiving day, as any one will be convinced who may be skeptical, by a visit to the GLASS FRONT, where you will find Fine Dress Goods, Fine Notions, Fine Gloves, Fine Hats, and almost everything al a mode.

A Fine Dairy House.—Jos. T. Reynolds, of East Nottingham township, finished a short time ago the erection of a first-class dairy house on his property. It is built of limestone, the milk house being 40 by 14 feet, with a churn house 14 feet square attached. The water trough in which the milk is set extending around the sides of the milk house, is raised some twenty inches above the floor; it is cemented and the water is pumped in from a telegraph pump. The ventilation of this house is by means of two terra-cotta pipes built in the wall and extended down under the trough to near the floor. During the warmest weather of the fall after Mr. Reynolds had finished the building, he found the temperature low enough for the milk without water. He uses a horse power churn. His dairy of twenty-five cows is doing very well, the butter being shipped to Philadelphia, and realizing a good price. —Oxford Press.

A Burglar Caught.—Thos F. Hyde, or a man who gave that as his name, was arrested at the depot in Havre de Grace, on Thursday morning, 20th instant, by Mr. R. Seneca, express agent, charged with breaking into and robbing the express office on the previous night. Mr. Seneca observed the fellow stepping about the depot with a pair of new boots on his feet, which resembled very much a pair he had lost. The agent immediately collared the thief and made him pull off the boots, which he immediately identified, together with other articles which he had stolen, and he was handed over to a Constable and lodged in Bel Air jail. A brace and bits were found concealed near the place where the robbery had been committed.

Mr. W. McClelland, of this town, whose store had been broken into a few days previous, in the same way the Havre de Grace office was entered, by boring out a panel of the door, was summoned to Bel Air to identify some of the goods in the burglar's possession. Mr. McClelland recognized several articles of clothing taken from his store and a razor case. And the burglar was committed for trial at the February term of Harford county court, and Mr. McClelland was enjoined to appear as a witness against him. A memorandum book was found among Hyde's effects in which he seemed to have kept a minute of his receipts, which was dated September and following the date was several entries of paper $—— specie——. Some intries amounted to several hundred dollars in "paper." He had driven a very profitable business, if his book was a true record of his gains, which is extremely doubtful. He had about $20 in his possession when he was arrested.

Port Deposit Items.

Petty Theft—Left Town—County Temperance Convention—Entertainment—Express Office—Oyster Saloon—Accident.

On the night of the 19th inst. the jewelry store of S. Beach was broken into; but nothing valuable was taken, as Mr. B. is prepared, having had such visitors before. The store of George Stebbings was entered on the night of the 21th and the drawer relieved of a small amount.

William J. Pusey, our printer, removed his press to Oxford, Chester county, Pa., A man should attend to his business punctually and serve the public faithfully if he hopes to succeed. J. T. Street, formerly keeper of the Bowling Saloon, has removed to Havre de Grace. A few more might be spared from our town and yet have enough.

The Cecil County Temperance Convention will be held in the Hall of I. O. of G. T. in this place, on next Wednesday, Dec. 3rd. Delegates are expected from the various Lodges in the county.

The Entertainment given by the K. of P. on Tuesday night last, was a success; the Hall was well filled and all went away apparently well pleased. We hope the Lodge will repeat the performance again before spring comes. The Port Deposit Band enlivened the occasion with excellent music.

Our Express office has again changed hands; it is now in charge of James E. Reynolds, and kept at the hardware store of Reynolds Bro.'s. James will have some cold winds to face this Winter; but we have no doubt his work will be done with promptness and accuracy.

W. A. Hill has opened in connection with the Washington House, an Oyster Saloon, where they can be had at all times to suit the guests.

On last Saturday evening about 6 o'clock while the accomodation train from this place was on its way to Perryville they came in contact with a man on the tressel works below here. He being a stranger and not knowing how to escape, either fell or was knocked off falling about 16 feet on the stone, seriously injuring his head and breaking his arm in two places. He stated that he had fallen down a stairway in Wilmington, Del. not long ago and received such a wound on the forehead that the physicians thought he would not recover from the loss of blood he sustained. His head was cut again in the same place. The train was stopped and he was taken to Perryville, where he was kept in the car until 2 o'clock Sunday morning. He was then taken to the Hospital in Baltimore. We learn since that he died on Tuesday morning. He was a printer by trade and belonged to the Printer's Union. He gave his name as Frank Devlin and said his relations all lived beyond the Mississippi river.

Rising Sun Items.

Cecil Lodge, I. O. G. T., have installed the following officers for the ensuing term: W. C. T., Charles P. Brown; W. V. T., Mary Pheney; W. S., Lizzie C. Kirk; W. T., Indie V. Cooper. The institution is in quite a flourishing condition.

Thanksgiving day was only partially observed as a holiday. The bank being the only public institution that closed. In the evening the good folks were thankful over oysters, ice cream, and "sich," under the auspices of the Mite Society of the M. E. Church. Proceeds to pay for furnishing the church.

The many snows, freezes and thaws have got our roads in fine condition to take the edge off a fractious horse, or the varnish off a new carriage. In describing these conditions, some very strong adjectives are occasionally used.

Several of our neighbors have lost horses this Fall. Aaron Headley lost a fine young mare. Charles Albertson, a horse. Wilson N. Brown, a horse. In some cases it was thought to be the epizootic returning.

Markets are quite dull and at present afford these prices: Corn old 56; new corn 45; wheat $1.42@1.50; oats 40 cents; potatoes froze out; beef by quarters 7@9 cents per pound; pork $6@6.25 per hundred.

Colora Items.

Farm work is mostly well advanced for the season, and the corn is nearly all in, but a week of warm weather would be acceptable.

Two new houses are being erected in the village by our enterprising young men that have taken partners.

Our new firm is gaining new friends by their recent improvements and additions to their store. At Colora you can get anything you want for comfort or convenience, or that is requisite to improve or adorn the home or the farm, in the way of fertilizers, farm implements, fruit or ornamental trees, and the best prices for farm produce.

TOWN POINT.

This name is as familiar to most Cecil countians as any household words; and although corporate pretensions and a cluster of dwellings are supposed always to attach to a place bearing the proud title of "town," if located south of Mason and Dixon's line, these features have long since departed, if the place was ever invested with them. This noted "Point" is geographically situated at the confluent of the Elk and Sassafras rivers, and is considered one of the best ducking points on the Chesapeake Bay. The farm situated on the extreme "Point" is at present owned by Mr. Foulks, of Philadelphia, who came in possession of the place some six or seven years ago, and has since that time made many improvements, and is still improving the property. Mr. Foulks, being fond of ducking has been fortunate in securing Town Point, where his family reside, while he spends most of his time in the city in the pursuit of his profession. Mr. Evans, and Mr. Hipple own the adjoining farms, and have handsome dwellings so located on the rising ground as to overlook both rivers and command a view of Turkey Point and the Chesapeake Bay. These farms, which were cultivated by their former owners in the customary slovenly style of the country, have, since falling into the present intelligent hands, been converted as fast as possible into fruit farms. The cultivation of peaches is not made the Alpha and Omega of their system by the present enlightened owners, but pears of the most approved varieties, and extensive vine-yards of the Concord grape are successfully cultivated.

The land is composed of a clay and gravel soil with clay subsoil which requires in many places considerable underdraining, and which would be all the better for a general system of draining by tiled ditches.

Experience has proven the soil and climate of these "necks" or points, which are formed by the converging of the North East, Elk, Bohemia and Sassafras rivers on the Chesapeake Bay, are admirably adapted to the cultivation of the most profitable fruits, among which are choice varieties of pears. Mr. Hipple was the pioneer in the grape culture of this section, followed by Mr. Evans and Foulks. The latter has also planted out a large plum orchard, which looks thrifty and if the curculio, the great insect enemy to the plum can be successfully combatted, the plum will doubtless prove a lucrative branch of fruit culture.

Mr. Evans put out 23,000 raspberry sets last Spring, costing $30 a thousand and lost all but about one thousand, by the very unusual drought of last Spring and Summer. Such discouragements are often among the experiences of the farmer, gardener and horticulturist. But by a well matured system, persistently and intelligently carried out, ultimate success is certain, nature never failing to finally compensate her faithful children by an overflowing bounty in return for persistent and intelligent efforts.

The steamers which ply between Philadelphia and Baltimore through the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, afford the owners of the land along those rivers, the cheapest and most certain facilities for putting their products into the markets in the very best condition; but the thousands of acres which overlook those broad avenues of commerce, are at present given up in great part to bushes; while the land under cultivation is almost wholly devoted to producing a meagre crop of grain, which reduces the soil to the lowest possible condition of fertility while year after year these unprofitable crops are taken from it.

Instead of grain and its rotating crops which have oppressed and beggard the soil of these necks for more than a century, if the entire region bordering the rivers was converted into fruit and grass farms, the proceeds would be counted in thousands of dollars where now it is told in hundreds. To carry out such a system of culture would require a much higher degree of mental cultivation than the average farmer can boast of, and also he who would possess a valuable fruit farm must be content to "labor and to wait" for several years, to drain and cultivate in the meantime carefully and intelligently; but when established he has a permanent investment, from which he is sure of a handsome annual income from camparatively few acres.—The gentlemen we have named are shaping their business with this object steadily in view, and having soil and climate both most favorable to their enterprise, failure is scarcely within the bounds of probability.

We hope to visit "Town Point" again in the not far distant future, when we will endeavor to give a more definite account of the vine-yards and orchards, which are beginning to attract attention and bring returns for the years of patient toil and abiding faith of their owners.

The open-handed hospitality of the proprietors, Mr. Evans and Mr. Foulks, must be enjoyed to be properly appreciated.—While Mr. Evans finds his chief delight in making two blades of grass grow where one grew before, or vines and improved fruits grow where more grew before, Mr. Foulks adds to these the pleasures and excitements of the sportsman, and finds unlimited opportunities to enjoy the passion for field sports, in the unsurpassed duck shooting from the points on the two rivers, and partridge shooting in the stubble over the finest trained setters that the country can produce. Partridges are generally very plenty in their season in all those necks. They seem to leave the higher country further inland when the cold storms of Autumn commence, and migrate to the milder and more sheltered thickets near the Bay and rivers.

We cannot close this article which is made up of digressions, without a meed of praise to the young naturalist Mr. O. D. Foulks, son of our host, and on whom devolves the principal care of the farm. This gentleman early manifested a love for the study of nature, and while attending college employed his holidays in procuring specimens of all the birds in that part of the country which he stuffed and mounted, and the result of his genius stands in the hall of their comfortable family mansion at Town Point, a handsome case containing a great variety of the birds common to this part of the country. There the foppish jay, the dandy of the feather tribe, stands perched on his native twig; the solemn owl looks through the glass at his inquisitive visitors, as wise as though he were in his native woods. The cardinal, the oriole, the scarlet tanager, the finch, blackbird, the modest unpretending robin, the friendly cat bird; that grave and reverend signior the woodcock, occupies one corner of the case; the meek eyed dove, ensconced among the bows at the top of the case peeps out at the passer-by, as natural as though she were alive and seated in her native brake. Dozens of other birds familiar to our woods and fields make up this beautiful collection; and crowning all a stately crane perches upon the top of the case, which, falling before the unerring aim of the young naturalist, was stripped of his skin to add to the numerous trophies that adorned his cabinet of curiosities.

We visited the "Point" ostensibly on a ducking expedition, but as is our luck, the ducks didn't fly that day. Perhaps it was wisely ordered so by providence, as the sordid reality in carrying home a load of ducks would possibly have blunted the ethereal pleasure of a welcome so cordial among comparative strangers, as to invest them with all the magnetism of old and tried friends, whose greetings and partings tug at the heart strings as though they were a part of our being.

LETTER FROM THE WEST.

BUCKLEY, Nov. 18th, 1873.

DEAR WHIG:—The elections are over and the "Grand Prairie State" has done bravely; the Farmers carrying the different counties by large majorities. 29 women ran for County Superintendents of schools, of which 11 were elected. Women belong to the "Granges" and take an active part in all of their transactions.

The Whig comes regularly and is as ever a welcome visitor, and one of its most interesting features for your correspondent is the reports of the Teachers' Association, which, I perceive, still holds its monthy meetings in the ancient and classical town of Port Deposit.

Winter seems to have set in in earnest to-day, leaving thousands of acres of corn to be gathered between now and Spring.

A dear little scholar left us to-day, so suddenly; yesterday she was with us bright gay and happy, to-night she is in Eternity, to be with us no more forever. A. A. C.

—There has been considerable discussion among the sewing machine agents in this county about the respective merits of the two Howe Sewing Machines which doubtless has served not a little to bewilder the public. Picking up a copy of the Lewisburg (Pa.) Chronicle the other day we noticed the advertisement of a Pennsylvania agent who offered both machines for sale, the Elias Howe and "also the A. H. Howe, or the so called Original Howe Improved, at $35." This is $5 lower than our friend Wilkinson offers the Improved for. It seems to be a very low priced machine.

ADVICE.

Never buy what you do not require
Because it is offered you cheap,
'Tis money thrown into the fire,
Where, then, is the profit you reap?
But should you e'er want to invest,
And want the best bargain of all,
Why, get yourself handsomely dressed,
In a cheap suit of Clothes at TOWER HALL.

For, though you may not require them at the moment, they will keep, and the prices are so very low that it will repay you to invest NOW. Bennett & Co., Tower Hall, 518 Market St, Philadelphia.

—At the recent election, both parties in Talbot and Queen Anne's counties agreed to find out the sentiment of the people on the question of a local option law. And the tickets were printed with the words "for" and "against" local option on them, The result in Talbot county was 200 majority in favor of such a law and in Queen Anne's 222 majority in favor of it.

If our enterprising Cecil Alliances had tried the strength of the cause here we would have seen what we would have seen. But large bodies move slowly and they didn't get up to time in this county.

HOW PERMANENT CUSTOMERS ARE MADE.—If you have never used Sapolio, the next time you send to your grocer tell him you want a cake; it will cost you only a few cents. Then look all over your house, and wherever you find a spot upon the paint, the furniture, carpets, or anything else, whether it be dirt, grease, tar, or whatever else, use Sapolio according to the simple directions. Then collect all the tinware, copper ware, knives, forks, kettles, etc., and polish them up. When you have done this once then ENOCH MORGAN'S SONS know positively that their Sapolio has won another permanent customer.

☞Chapped hands, face, rough skin, pimples, ringworm, salt-rheum and other cutaneous affections cured and the skin made soft and smooth, by using the JUNIPER TAR SOAP, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. Be certain to get the Juniper Tar Soap, as there are many imitations made with common tar which are worthless. [28—4

—Wm. M. Tweed was sentenced by Judge Davis, in New York, on Saturday, to twelve years' imprisonment and $12,750 fine. All efforts to obtain a stay of proceedings failed. Tweed's offense was styled "misdemeanor," and he in consequence escapes the penitentiary and will be imprisoned at Blackwell.
