The Cecil Whig

ELKTON, DECEMBER 6, 1873.

PREMIUMS! PREMIUMS!

A Valuable Magazine Free!

We will send THE CECIL WHIG for 1874, from January 1st, and a copy of WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE, or a copy of THE JOURNAL OF THE FARM, for $2.00. Or for $2.30 we will send THE WHIG and WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE and a handsome Chromo YO-SEMITE FALLS, dimensions 14 x 20 inches. This is a beautiful landscape chromo, much superior to the majority of premium chromos.

Wood's Household Magazine is a first-class family periodical, published monthly, and any home circle receiving its visits for a year will reap many times the value of the entire outlay in pleasure and useful information. THE HOUSEHOLD is much improved and ranks among the best family periodicals of the day.

The Journal of the Farm is one of the best, neatest and most practical Agricultural publications issued from the American Press. It is published in Philadelphia, and we have selected the JOURNAL from a large list of agricultural papers as the very best one to supply the needs of the farmers of Cecil.—Every one who examines it will be satisfied that we cannot speak too highly of this publications. Both magazines may be seen at our office.

☞Send in your orders at once, ACCOMPANIED BY THE CASH, and receive a copy of the magazines.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—A new and very heavy and strong safe and vault is being placed in the Elkton Bank.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church intend having a supper for the benefit of the Church, on the evenings of the 29th and 30th of December.

—The Mutual Building Association of Elkton sold on Saturday night last $500 at 193 cents premium; and $600 at 191 cents premium.

—The new M. E. Church in Delmar, where Rev. Joseph Dare is now located, was dedicated on the 30th of November, and $1,000 raised, which paid off the debt.

—A slip of the pen and types made us locate Town Point, last week, at the junction of the Elk and Sassafras rivers, in place of the Elk and Bohemia rivers.

—A new map and descriptive circular of the lands of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fee Railroad will be sent free from this office by mail to any person applying.

—Mr. D. G. Kidd informs us in a private note that he and his brother, G. W. Kidd, have lately completed a sale of Texas lands to an English colony which brought the snug little sum of $1,500,000. None who are cognizant with the well-known veracity of O. G. K. will doubt the truth of this wind fall. O. G. has leased the Rock Springs property for five years, and talks of purchasing it. If he puts two feet of Texas soil on top of it the place would be valuable.

Exhibition.—An exhibition of the Elkton Academy will be held in the Odd Fellows' Hall, on Friday evening, the 19th instant.

Stormy.—Tuesday last was a thoroughly disagreeable day. Snow, rain and sleet, conspired to make up a winter scene which is considered among the most disagreeable of winter experiences.

Court.—The December term of the Circuit Court will commence on Monday next. This will afford an excellent opportunity for those of our subscribers who attend Court to renew their subscriptions to The Whig and select the premium they like best.

Sale of Real Estate.—W. J. Jones and L. M. Haines, Trustees, sold on Tuesday the property of James Kirk, situate at Pivot Bridge in this county, and consisting of a lot containing sixteen and a half square perches, with good dwelling house. Mr. John West of Wilmington, Del., was the purchaser, at $375.

Struck with Paralysis.—Mr. Enoch Ferguson, keeper of the Railroad Hotel, on North street, Elkton, was stricken down by a paralytic stroke on Monday morning last. The left side is paralyzed badly. Mr. Ferguson is an old man and the chances for his final recovery are against him.

Burglars still at Large.—On Thursday night an attempt was made by burglars to enter the jewelry store of W. J. Alrich and the clothing store of Mr. Goodman, adjoining, both under the Howard House. They commenced boring at Mr. Alrich's door with a half inch bit, but only penetrated a few turns of the auger. Two holes were started in Mr. Goodman's door and the panel penetrated about half an inch. Mr. F. Price saw two men about the place at 12 o'clock at night, who ran off at his approach and turned up Bow street.

Alf. Burnett.—Prepare for a hearty laugh. Alf. Burnett is coming. In fact he is here, and will appear in the Hall to-night. All Elkton knows Burnett. He came near ruining the town on the occasion of his last visit. Our grave citizens did not get over laughing for weeks after Alf. left. In fact some of them are laughing yet. And it was reported that numbers died laughing at Burnett's humorous antics. Certain it is that numbers have departed this life after a hearty fit of laughter at Alf. But it is useless to attempt any description of Burnett's indescribable performance. Alf. and Miss Nash will act the "Widow vs. Bachelor," and those who have seen them in "Mrs. Candle" will be prepared for something exceedingly amusing.

The bills also promise a fine musical treat by Mr. James W. Sharpley, whose performance on the concertina, it will be remembered, was received with storms of applause. We predict a full house to-night if the weather is favorable; for every one who has heard Alf. will want to enjoy a similar treat.

NEW SCHOOL REPORT.

The new Report which will be used in the Public School, the present term, will explain itself. Our object is to let parents and guardians know just what their children are doing. If the progress or conduct as reported by us is not satisfactory, we will be glad to confer with them as to ways and means of improving it. We are willing to accept our full share of responsibility in the matter, but we cannot accept it all, when so many of the conditions of entire success rest with the parent. Parents or others who are at all dissatisfied, or who have any complaints to make, will confer a polite favor upon us, by letting us know it.

P. P. S.

Mormons in Elkton.

—Last week Mr. John Young, youngest son of Brigham Young, the high priest of Mormonism, and wife visited Elkton. The way this visit came about was this: Mrs. Young, some seven years ago when she was Miss Lizzie Canfield, lived in Elkton, a very pretty, cultivated girl was she in those days, and stood in the millinery store of Mrs. Brown. Miss Lizzie Canfield was a second cousin of young Brigham, her mother and old Patriarch Brigham Young's first wife being first cousins. Miss Lizzie's parents resided in Philadelphia. What acquaintance existed between the young folks of the Young family of Salt Lake and the Canfields we do not know; but Miss Lizzie after leaving Elkton, started on a trip, accompanied only by a younger sister to visit the Youngs of Mormon notoriety, and also for the purpose of marrying John. This was a deliberate undertaking which required no little nerve for a young, well-educated, accomplished Philadelphia bred lady, but Miss Lizzie was equal to the adventure. Now this undertaking will appear the more risky and formidable, when we take into the account, that young Young had already two wives. What immediate family arrangement took place we are not advised, but the two first wives had to be discarded to satisfy the fastidiousness of the coming woman. One of the two, the first we believe, was divorced and the second was discarded, turned away with the arrival, or previous to it, of the young queen. Whether the two who had prior claims took this treatment kindly, and as a religious duty, or rebelled, we know not; but the young queen would be satisfied with nothing less.

Some four years ago or "threabout," it will be remembered that matters at Washington assumed a threatening aspect for the latter day saints, and the Salt Lake Prophets sent a delegation of their picked women to the Capital to make an impression at the seat of Government, favorable to the institution of Mormonism. Mrs. John Young, the subject of our narrative, composed one of the delegation. It was noticed that when the Mormon ladies held a certain reception or audience at which Mrs. Creswell was present, that the handsome wife of the youngest son of the Prophet, feigned sickness, or at least did not appear. Mrs. C., however, chanced to meet her afterward, and seemed to have an impression that she had met her somewhere before. When Mrs. Creswell returned to Elkton she was reminded that the wife of young Young was the former Miss Canfield who used to trim and sell bonnets in Elkton, and the young wife's reluctance to meet her at the Capital was explained.

Some time ago—we are not aware how long since—two Elkton ladies were going to Philadelphia in the cars, and in the seat just in front of them two gentlemen were seated who were talking about Salt Lake, and mother Eve's curiosity getting the better of the ladies, one of them plucked up courage and asked the gentlemen if they knew young Mr. Young, and his wife, &c., who had formerly lived here and was an acquaintance. They replied they did, and would deliver the lady's card to Mrs. Young when they reached Salt Lake.

Mr. John Young all agree is a very handsome and refined—in the etiquet of the world and good society—gentleman, and was lately on a voyage to Europe. His wife came from Salt Lake, East with her three children, to meet him on his arrival, staying at her mother's till he landed.

The card which her Elkton friend had sent all the way to Salt Lake to her, had been running in her mind all these months, and it gave her real joy to think that her memory had not been banished, and that she was still remembered by one at least, in the little town where her young heart had woven these delightful dreams of romance which developed in such fearful danger; so when her lord returned to New York from across the sea, she had her heart fixed on coming to Elkton and bringing him along; and on Wednesday evening of last week the lady who had sent the card to Mrs. Young at Salt Lake, received a message from the Howard House that a lady requested to see her. She immediately repaired thither, and in the parlor the two ladies met face to face. Time alas, had wrought great changes in both these outward tabernacles, and they stood regarding, but not recognizing each other. The wife of the young prophet, that is to be, when Brigham's mantle rests upon his shoulders, was the first to speak, "Is this Mrs.—" "Yes." "I am Mrs. Young, Lizzie Canfield when we were younger." All reserve was at an end, and the two friends, which time and untoward events had threatened to place an impassable gulf between, rushed into each other's arms.

The Mormon wife and her husband had numerous calls while they remained at the hotel, and she related the chapter of her life to those who had thus kindly remembered her. She had insisted, and carried her point it seemed, on being the sole wife of the man she had braved such danger for, and not satisfied with this she insisted on a marriage in the States in the old style she had been taught in her girlhood to honor, and "John" had to succumb, before she would leave Salt Lake, declaring that she could never face her former friends unless she was married by the ceremony acknowledged by them to be proper. And thus she had heroically attempted to repair the rude shock she felt her moral character had received by entering the community of the Mormons, and giving herself a sacrifice to the monstrous crime of poligamy. Her fine female sensibilities, her education, all of that better nature rebelled against her act when the first wild dream of romance was broken. Who can tell of the anguish and tears that young wife has doubtless suffered? They can only be computed by the joy of discovering that some of her girl-day friends still remember her with the old time affection. But what of the two wives whom she has supplanted? Who will bind up their broken hearts? And that ever-haunting spirit which will not down, but constantly whispers to her that she too, may some day share the fate of the discarded wives, for some younger form and fairer face. The avenging Nemesis is ever heard following those who have once drawn that sloth hound of conscience on their track.

THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE.—The President has nominated George H. Williams to the vacant seat on the Supreme Court Bench.

☞We have on hand for Christmas week a nice little story written for The Whig by A. G. De Barry, entitled "Uncle Ned's Christmas Gifts."

—"Keep Your Farms," by "Zimmerman," is an interesting article to farmers, by one of their number, which will appear next week.

THE FARMERS MUTUAL OF YORK, PA., is acknowledged to be one of the safest Mutual Fire Insurance Companies in operation. Its Agents do a large business in this county. Risks on farm property taken at low rates.

E. E. EWING,
Agent at Elkton.

☞It is no wonder that invalids loose faith in all specifics, when so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases: but which, when tried, are "found wanting." We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary disease.

Port Deposit Items.

Amusements—Assault—Cold Weather—Temperance Convention.

These panicky times do not have a stagnating effect upon amusements, as itinerant venders of these delectable dishes, are perambulating the country. On last Friday and Saturday nights, we had the panoramic exhibition, called "Over Land and Sea," which is a really entertaining and instructive exhibition. On Friday night, 5th instant, the inimitable Alf. Burnett, is to give us one of his unapproachable performances.

Two of our colored male population were arrested on Wednesday, by Constable Burlin, charged with an indecent assault upon a white woman. One was admitted to bail in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for six months. The other was released from want of evidence.

The advent of cold weather has almost closed navigation in the canal. The Susquehanna still remains free from ice. The weatherwise predict not much ice, and a mild Winter. We trust the prediction will prove true, and that our coal dealers will not enhance prices of coal very much.

The County Temperance Convention held its quarterly meeting on the 3rd instant, in the lodge room of Granite Lodge, I. O. of G. T. The various Lodges of the order throughout the county were represented. The meeting was called to order, at 11 A.M., by Rev. T. E. Martindale.—After transacting some preliminary business, they adjourned until 2 P.M. The representatives were assigned places among the members of the order in this place for entertainment. The transaction of necessary business and the discussion and adoption of resolutions occupied the afternoon session. The meeting at 5.15 o'clock adjourned, subject to the call of the Executive Court.

Chesapeake City Items.

Miscellaneous—Temperance—School Closed—Fogs—Disease Among Hogs—New Lime Kiln—Markets.

The colored citizens are erecting a fine church in town. The corner stone was laid about two weeks since, when they collected about sixty dollars, principally from the white part of the audience.—They are now making arrangements for holding a fair and festival about Christmas holidays.——Religious entertainments are becoming popular with us. The Presbyterians gave us (for 50 cents each) a hot supper on Thursday night last, and the Methodists are going to hold a fair and festival soon, for the benefit of their church.

The Rev. Mr. Bristor and Mr. Charles Brooks attended the Temperance Convention, held at Port Deposit on Wednesday last, as delegates from Chesapeake Lodge.

The High School closed last week. We understand on account of not being able to procure a teacher, the Rev. Mr. Bristor having resigned the position as principal.

The heavy fogs of Tuesday night, detered the progress of the boats so that the passenger boats did not go through the canal until Wednesday afternoon.

About one hundred hogs died on Monday last from affection of the throat.

Another lime kiln is being built within the limits of the town. The odor from such places is very unpleasant.

Coal per ton $7.50; flour per barrel $9; buckwheat 3 cents per pound; hams 15 cents; butter 35 cents; eggs 23 cents; lard (new) 10@12 cents; turkeys 15 cents; ducks 12½ cents; chickens 12 cents; oysters 50@65 per bushel.

North East Items.

Sale of Farm—Suspended—Big Hogs—Building Association—New Office—Public School.

Mr. Ogden has sold his farm near Charlestown, known as the de Figaniero property, to H. Diston, of Philadelphia, for club house purposes; price $9,000.—Mr. Ogden emigrates westward to seek a more congenial clime.

McCullough Iron Co.'s works have stopped operation, or at least in part, on account of the stringency of money matters. They propose running at reduced wages; but as yet the men or a majority of them have not consented to work. We hope the matter may be satisfactorly arranged, as a great many of the employees need constant labor.

The big hogs raffled off at Gilbert's hotel weighed some 700 lbs. We have not heard of the lucky winner. I see one in G. W. Barnes' pen at Carpenters Point, I think will beat it.

Money sold at the Building Association, on Wednesday night, at 4½@4¾ per cent premium.

Charles W. Simpers has erected a neat little office, on Main street,—not a sheriff's office—but an appendix to his livery stable.

The Public School has resumed operations, the old term ending on last Saturday. The attendance good, and the children are making good progress under our efficient ex-member of the Legislature.

Rising Sun Items.

Sale of Money—The Weather—Oyster Supper—Concert.

Money sold at the last meeting of the Building and Loan Association for 9@9¼ per cent premium.

The first, second and third of this month are said to rule the next seven weeks, and several weather-wise folks predict mushy times coming. Our roads are soft enough now; how will they be at the end of the spell?

The oyster supper given by the "Mite Society," was a grand success. Although the table did not groan with all the delacacies of the season, several of the participants are said to have groaned through the night after it. Everything in the oyster line was abundant and well served; chickens, cakes, and other fixings, enough to give each ticket holder his money back and a fair margin over. It realized some $40 to $50.

On Thursday evening the Hayps' Quartette gave a concert in the Public Hall. Although this is their third visit here and they are considered extra good singers, hard times and bad roads, precluded a fair turn out.

Woodlawn Items.

Hopewell Church—Battle Swamp.

The Trustees of Hopewell Church have just had it repaired and new roofed; it is certainly a very creditable job and reflects great credit on the architects, Messrs. West & Vannort. This is one of the oldest M. E. Churches in the country and has a large congregation. It has a large cemetery attached which is kept in fine order. There are a number of very fine monuments in the different family burial lots. Mr. Cook is the present Pastor. He is a more than an ordinary speaker.

This place has a store and hotel and is celebrated for its fox hunters and fine hounds. There is always a fox or so on hands and the lovers of the sport can always indulge in that pastime by a ride to the corners. The roads around here are always in good condition; there is not a fairer locality for fox hunting in the State.

Renovated.—Mr. Perry Litzenberg has been pushing the work of "rejuvinating" the old dingy Court room, and when the Court and country side assemble on Monday next, a most agreeable surprise will meet their eyes. The wood work has been painted a light sky blue color, trimmed with white, to match the blue pearl tint paper which covers the walls. The ceiling has had a fresh coat of whitewash, and about four inches and a half of street mud, mixed with tobacco juice and chewed ends of the weed, have been removed by the aid of hot suds and scraping tools from the floor. The old desks have been thrown out and longer tables placed in for the accommodation of the bar. The bunks which are erected for seats in that part of the room devoted to the public have had the backs cut down to six inches, which will make it ever so convenient to step over and mount to the highest benches in this temple of Justice. They should have all been torn out, which would have made plenty of standing room for the spectators. A door has been hung closing the entrace to the public by the back way connecting with the Clerk's office, and another bailiff will be necessary to guard this door, while still another is to be employed to keep order outside, and prevent the crowd from placing their feet on the newly painted benches and spitting on the bright new paint on the pillars. If this extra force is put on there will be seven bailiffs in place of five as at present, which every body acknowledges is too small a force, and they will have a hard task watching tobacco chewers, and guarding the new paint from their vile spittle; and compelling the countrymen to scrape and wipe their dirty boots before entering the Court room; and preventing them from climbing over the seats.—Altogether the ancient Court room looks quite "nippy," and is plenty good enough to try niggers for stealing chickens and "sich," for such cases make up the bulk of our Court proceedings. And so the county will have no need to make a debt to build a new Court House. The present Board will have an opportunity to follow up the good work began by the late Board, and invest the surplus taxes in making roads across mill dams, which some inconsiderate correspondent of The Democrat complains of last week.

Pilot Town and Vicinity.

Improvements—Sale of a Store—Died—Conowingo—Rock Springs—Pleasant Grove.

Mr. David Love is building a dwelling house on the Conowingo road. Mr McCummings has just finished erecting a barn at the corner.

Mr. McCullough has sold his store at Oakwood, (formerly Mount Pleasant) to John J. Bennett, Esq.

Emanuel Adams, the child who fell into a well 57 feet deep some twelve weeks ago, died from the effects of the fall last week.

Business is brisk in Conowingo. Mr. Frank is doing a heavy business for a country place. The mills are running up to their full capacity. Mr. Cutler has a number of orders to fill for slate and soapstone. Mr. J. C. Bell is building an addition to his mansion on the hill.

Nothing new at Rock Springs. Andy gave a free entertainment on Thanksgiving day. Everything was lively. O. G. Kidd has rented the store house and dwelling; he intends starting a fancy store.

The Haines farm and store house at Pleasant Grove, has been sold by the heirs for $13,500; Mrs Brown, one of the heirs, purchaser. It is a splendid property, and an old store stand, and elegantly fitted up for the purpose of a store.

—Just when we supposed that the Virginus affair had been definitely settled, and all danger of hostilities between the United States and Spain had passed, the war cloud suddenly looms up again above the horizon. A despatch from Havana shows that the Cubans are in a bad temper, and are determined not to comply with the terms of the protocol agreed on between the two Governments. When the news of the settlement reached Havana, the people gave themselves up to fierce indignation, in the presence of which the Spanish authorities were powerless. Captain General Jovallar had not the nerve to meet the emergency. He wished to be loyal to his Government, but he could not face the excited populace, so he resigned. Other high officials did likewise. The sentiment of the people is unanimous that the Virginus must not be given up to the United States. They profess to be willing that the vessel should be surrendered to some neutral power, to be held until it is decided whether she had a right to carry the American flag or not. In the meantime they are preparing for war, the first move being the subscription of money by the Havanians for the fitting out of privateers to prey on our commerce. The pugnacious Cubans had better moderate their rage. Congress is in session now, and the American people are in no mood to be trifled with.

Splendid Winter Cassimeres at the GLASS FRONT.

☞Go into a store in Cecil county on a wash day and sit one hour, and you will hear enough calls for more of MOORE'S "Wilmington City Soap" to make you dream at night, you are making soap in a tin pan with a tea spoon for a ladle. Try it. 2

☞This piece of useful information is given to those who have not bought their winter clothing. We are now selling off our entire stock of reliable winter goods, and persons who have delayed purchasing, will find this the best opportunity ever offered for getting splendid clothing very cheap. The goods must be sold, and, to secure purchasers, WE HAVE REDUCED THE PRICES SO VERY LOW, that they are now far below any others, even where inferior goods are offered. Now is the time to buy cheap. We have a large stock, an unbroken assortment of durable, reliable, and satisfactory goods, and every garment is guaranteed as represented. Such genuine bargains were never offered, and it will repay any person to invest a few dollars at this time. Bennett & Co., Tower Hall, 518 Market Street, Philadelphia.

Try our 25 cent Coffee and 50 cent Tea. McCREERY & BOULDEN.

MR. EDITOR:—You published last week that a sewing machine agent at Lewisburg, Pa., is selling the A. B. Howe Machine or so-called Original at $35 each. You accuse me of charging $5 more. I admit I sell them at $40, and if you are not satisfied, you ought to buy from those who peddle them over the county and you would have to pay $65 for the same kind of a machine. I think you understand printing better than the prices of sewing machines.

OATS	40@45
RYE	65@75

Baltimore Markets.

FLOUR.—The market for Flour is quiet, and hardly as buoyant in feeling as during the early part of the week. Western extra $6; choice do. $6.75; family $7.25. Corn meal, city mills $5.50; Western $5.20@5.30.

WHEAT.—Southern white 165@185 cents for fair to choice; do. amber 185 cents; do. good to prime red 170@180 cents, and common to fair 150@160 cents; spring red 140 cents.

CORN.—New white 60@67 cents; new yellow 62@70 cents, and old do. 75 cents. Western mixed is less firm.

OATS.—The receipts are less liberal and the market is firmer. Southern 50 cents; mixed Western 46@48 cents.

RYE is in active demand, and the market is firm at higher prices. Fair 86 cents, and prime 90 cents per bushel.

BALTIMORE HAY AND STRAW MARKET.—The market for Hay continues to drag, without, however, any further change in price. The supply is ample and demand moderate. We quote Maryland at $20a23 per ton, latter for prime Cecil county, and other descriptions at $18a22 per ton. We quote Rye Straw at $16a17, and Oat at $15a16 per ton, but there is little doing.

Philadelphia Markets.

REAL ESTATE.

TRUSTEES' SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Cecil county, sitting in the case of Jacob Penn vs. Benjamin F. Hance and wife and others, the undersigned, as Trustees, will offer at Public Sale, at the Court House door, in Elkton, Cecil county, Md., on situate, lying and being in the village of WARWICK, Cecil county, Md., and described in said mortgage, as Lots Nos. 3, 7 and 10, and part of Lot No. 8—marked P. C. and D.—and all as described on a plat of said property, filed among the chancery proceedings in the case of John F. Stephens vs. Elizabeth Bolton, in the Circuit Court of Cecil county, in chancery.

Tuesday, December 16th, 1873,

AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M., ALL THAT

Lot No. 3. Fronts 100 feet upon the northerly side of Church street; contains 12,344 Square feet, and is improved by a Two-Story FRAME DWELLING HOUSE.

Lot No. 7. Lies on the southerly side of Main street; fronts 85 feet thereon, and extends back 207 feet. It contains a little over Five-Eighths of an acre. Is improved by a very fine FRAME DWELLING, in complete order. It is one of the most desirable places in the village for a residence.

Lot No. 10. Lies on the South side of Main street—a road leading from Middletown to Head of Sassafras—nearly opposite to Mr. Gillespie's Hotel. It fronts 113 feet on said street, and is improved by a good Two-Story FRAME HOUSE. This lot would make two very fine lots.

Lots B. C. D.—part of Lot No. 8—lies on the southerly side of the Main street. Each Lot contains 1 ACRE—each fronting on Main street.

☞The above lots will be sold as a whole, or separately, as the Trustees may think most advantageous.

TERMS OF SALE, as prescribed by the Decree:—One-third of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale; the balance in equal instalments of Six and Twelve months, to be secured by the Bonds of the purchaser, with approved security, and to bear interest from the day of sale.
