The Cecil Whig

ELKTON, JUNE 6, 1874.

Local Affairs.

—Behind time—Last week's North East items.

—George W. Wallace lost a fine cow by death on Wednesday night last.

—A good horse wanted at The Cecil Whig Building, Elkton. J. WILKINSON.

—The Express office for Elkton has been removed from McClelland's to E. Brown's store.

—The Mutual Building Association sold $1,700 on Saturday night last at $1.52 premium per share.

—There will be peaches in Sassafras Neck sufficient to load a steamer daily during the peach season.

—The Oxford Press sounds the alarm. The Colorado potato bug has made its appearance in that neighborhood, and Paris-green is invoked to exorcise the formidable bug.

—A Festival for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held in Cecilton, Md., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 9th, 10th and 11th of June.

—Edward Buckley got his foot under the car wheels at Rising Sun last week by falling on the track. The member was badly crushed, Dr. L. R. Kirk having to extract several bones while dressing the wound.

—Buy the Labor-Saving Sewing Machine from J. Wilkinson. Call at the office any Saturday at Elkton, as the most of his time is spent in the country the other days of the week. Letters at all times promptly answered, and orders filled.

—The Blackberry storm.—This periodical storm, known by the above title, made its appearance on Wednesday last, and the steady moderate rain for several hours was a welcome God-send to the gardens and corn fields, which had become very dry.

—Six grog shops have shut up in the 1st District. Cause—no funds to invest in license. A great reform in the matter of dram drinking is reported in that section, and the farmers say labor is plenty since the rum mills on the corners have closed.

—The Teachers' Institute to be held in Elkton next week, commencing on Thursday, will be a meeting of unusual interest and should attract the people from all parts of the county. We sincerely hope for the cause of education that the meeting will be numerously attended.

—The Strickersville Association for the detection of Horse Thieves and the recovery of Stolen Property held their annual meeting for election of officers on Saturday last. Joel Thompson was elected President and Treasurer of the Association and Richard M. Chambers, Secretary.

—A Strawberry and Floral Festival for the benefit of the Presbyterian church at Elkton, Md., will be held at Jones' Hall, the new building on North street, opposite The Whig office, on Thursday and Friday evenings, June 11th and 12th inst. Admission, 10 cents.

BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

—Dr. Hutchison died at his residence in Oxford, on Friday of last week. The deceased had been at the fishing the night before and arrived home the evening previous to his death, in apparently good health. He was considered a very skillful physician and was known to many of our readers as a political speaker of much ability and eloquence.

—Charles Carter was committed to jail by Squire Chrisfield of Chesapeake City, for riotous behavior, such as some men indulge in occasionally when they partake freely of the "staff of life." The prisoner was brought before Justice Brown of this town on Tuesday last, and released on bail to appear at the September term of Court, and keep the peace in the mean time.

—The Presbyterian Manse Society of Port Deposit, will hold a Strawberry Festival and Supper, in the Odd Fellows' Hall, on Tuesday, June 16th, commencing at 4 o'clock P. M. Proceeds to aid in the purchase of a Manse. All ye lovers of a sumptuous meal temptingly served with a dish of the ruby-colored fruit for dessert, don't fail to be there. Remember June 16th.

—The corner stone of the colored M. P. Church, at Cedar Hill, will be laid on Sunday, the 7th, at 2 o'clock P. M. The services will be conducted by the President of Southern District, the Rev. E. W. Scott. There will be preaching at 10 o'clock A.M., by the Rev. P. E. B. Hazzard, of Kent county, and also at 3 o'clock P. M., by Rev. C. H. Williams, of Baltimore county. The choir of Providence Church, Elkton, will be present to assist in the singing.

—The temperance prayer meeting in the M. E. Church, on Thursday evening, was fairly attended, and quite interesting. Rev. Mr. Hutchins, the agent of the Conference Academy at Dover, was present and made some very profitable remarks, in which he urged a united effort on the part of all christians by prayer and personal effort to help those who are enslaved by the terrible vice of intemperance, and to save the young from falling into the snare. Earnest prayers were made for the several classes connected with the business. There is considerable interest here on the subject, and a little effort would unite it into a mighty power for good.

—Farmers buy you Machinery now at the Agricultural Ware House, corner of North and High streets, Elkton, Md. Mr. P. C. Strickland, so well and favorably known over the county, is the general Agent. His many friends will continue to patronize him, while Ash with his 18 years' experience, sells them and follows them right up to see that they work right, and can sell you almost anything you want from a 1 cent rivet to a $2,000 machine. Don't forget the Leading Reapers and Mowers, Champion Single Mower, Self Rake or Dropper, and Excelsior Dropper, also Horse Rakes, Cultivators, Cutting Boxes, Cornshellers, Lawn Mowers, Threshing Machines, with 1, 2, or 3 Horse-tread, 4, 6, or 10 Horse-sweep, or Steam Power for same, and the beauty of it is they guarantee what they sell as represented and can furnish you with Castings.

—John Hammond, a traveling stranger, who carried a written statement that he had been shipwrecked and appealed to the public for charity, was bought before Justice Howard on the 27th of May, charged by R. H. Bell with the larceny of a valuable pruning knife. Hammond had stopped at Bell's store and Mr. Bell had seen him cutting a piece of tobacco with the missing knife, soon after which Mr. Bell came in from the garden and missed the knife. Hammond had left before this, and Bell accompanied by two colored men went in pursuit, and overtaking him on the railroad, brought him back to town. The colored men testified that Hammond had told Bell that if he would not prosecute him he would tell him where the knife was or give him information by which he could recover the knife. On this evidence the magistrate felt bound to commit him. Mr. Bell offered a reward of a dollar, we are informed, for the recovery of the knife, and a colored boy produced the missing knife in a short time, and said he had found it some where about the street in the neighborhood. Hammond is still in jail, and the matter is likely to cost the county the price of several grosses of knives if he stays there till September next, when he will be set at liberty of course, there being no sufficient testimony to convict him.

The Dead Lock Broken.—The dead lock which held our worthy Board of Town Commissioners for three weeks, in fruitless efforts to elect a bailiff, was broken on last Monday night by the election of Mr. Timothy White ex-deputy sheriff. Mr. White was recently appointed a member of the Baltimore police, but on account of his health, was compelled to resign that office. Mr. W. will make a good bailiff; and we trust his past training as sheriff and police officer will be found useful in putting a stop to the disagreeable scenes that occur in our streets very frequently.

Decoration Day.—The 30th of May is the day appointed for the decoration of the graves of the soldiers, but arrangements could not be perfected by the Elkton Division of the Grand Army of the Republic on that day, and the ceremony was postponed till Wednesday, when it took place. Two men, Mr. Charles Smith and William Drew, performing the services, assisted by three ladies. As our braves have allowed the service to degenerate into almost a farce they had better make no pretensions in the future.

Notice to Traders.—The Clerk of the Circuit Court publishes an important notice to parties who are trading without license, which they had better attend to at once. The Clerk must return a list of all annual licenses taken out for 1874, to the Comptroller's office on Thursday next. All persons doing business requiring a license who have not taken out the same, will have an opportunity to do so, if they apply before that day. The list of licenses taken out is to be published by Districts this year, and all parties found trading without license will be returned to the Grand Jury without fail. We learn that numerous traders have been evading the license in part or whole for years, but they are to be sharply looked after this year and brought up with a round turn.

Rising Sun Butter and Cheese Factory.—Mr. William Brown, proprietor of the above named institution, has everything about his factory fixed up in good style, for carrying on the business successfully, though not on a large scale, as there are not dairies enough in the neighborhood to give a large supply of milk. His arrangements for receiving and weighing the milk, conveying it to the cheese vat, and also to the pans for the cream to rise, are very good. This place is certainly a great benefit to the community, and should be well patronized. Mr. Brown buys all his milk by weight and thus avoids trouble about the measurement. He takes his own butter to Philadelphia market and saves the commission and losses.

—"To Arms—to arms!
The foemen storm the wall!"

A meeting has been called for next Wednesday evening of all lovers of the noble art and science of war, the object of which is to take initiatory steps for organizing a volunteer company in Elkton to be called the Groome Guards. The Governor, in honor of the compliment, will equip and arm the company. The outfit will include a complete uniform as well as standards and arms and a hall to drill in. The prominent candidates for the captaincy are Messrs. Edward Sweetapple, the manager of the Ledger paper mill at Marley, William G. Purnell and H. D. M. Howard. Dr. Frazer appears to be the coming man for surgeon of the company, who will dress their wounds after battle, and exercise a general hygenic supervision over the company. The prospect is favorable that Elkton ere long will be waked up from her chronic lithergy by the piercing squeel of the martial fife, and clatter of the kettle drum, and the steady step of the soldier, "keeping time to the music of the union."

Last week the boys of Bowdoin College rebelled against military drill. It is plain that these effeminate sons of cold blooded Yankee sires had none of the chivalric fire of Elkton's martial youth in their veins.

Sale of Real Estate.—H. W. Archer, Esq., Trustee, sold the Pennington property, containing 480 acres, situate in Sassafras Neck, on Wednesday last. The property was offered as a whole and in divided parts, and sold under the latter arrangement. W. L. Potter bought 280 acres for $50 per acre; and Mrs. Pennington the balance, 200 acres, for $2,500, subject to certain legacies. The property is in fine condition and handsomely situated on the Sassafras river, and at a time not very remote in the past would have sold for perhaps double the amount it was knocked down at.

SALE OF THE OAKINGTON PROPERTY.—The Maryland Land and Immigration Company sold at public auction, on Wednesday, all their real estate at Oakington, Harford county, except four small tracts on which their large saw mills are located. The Belleview farm, on the bay shore, containing 311 acres, was bought by Mr. Griffith Davis at $39.60 per acre, cash. This farm is well improved, and the price paid represents scarcely half its real value. The Oakington farm, containing 430 acres, was bought by Mr. Henry James (one of the corporators of the Company) at $22 per acre. The Plum Point farm, containing 200 acres, was bought by Mr. James at $35 per acre. Mr. James also bought a small tract containing about seven acres, known as the Distillery property, the price paid being $1,425. There are four dwelling houses on this tract. A narrow strip of land containing 13 acres, binding on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, was sold to Mr. Hoke for $467.50. But few bidders were present at the sale. These are admirably adapted to the dairy, and the tenants are now sending 150 gallons of milk to Baltimore. The growing crops look very well, and it is difficult to understand why the land did not bring a larger price unless it was because the tracts are too large. There are fishing and ducking shores on all of them, and the improvements are first-class. The Oakington and Belleview farms are approached by a long avenue, lined with locust trees, as fine as any in Maryland.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.

PORT DEPOSIT, June 2nd, 1874.

MR. EDITOR:—As we came very near having a serious affair in regard to swimming here on last Thursday afternoon, May 28th instant, I will proceed to give you the particulars of the same.

It appears that E. N. Baldwin, of this place, accompanied by his brother Edward and another gentleman from Harford co., started from here on the above-named evening in a row boat to spend the afternoon fishing with hook and line off of "Perch Rock." They rowed direct for "Spencer's island," and whilst Edward got out of the boat there to take a bath, the other gentlemen rowed down to the noted Perch Rock to pass away the time in catching some of the "finny tribe." As they were so much taken up with fishing, they had almost forgotten the swimmer until they heard a cry of distress, and looking toward the island they beheld their comrade battling for life with the water, and in tones of agony, crying, "Bring the boat." With all haste the boat was shoved from the rock, but before getting half way to where he had been seen, he had gone down beneath the angry waves. When he again came to the surface the boat was at hand and he was taken in and was safe. Had he gone down again, he could not, in all probability, have been saved.

We hope this will be a warning to our boys, not only of Port Deposit, but any place in the county. Though they may be experts in this grand art, may they remember that they are liable to take the cramp, or become exhausted, and if in deep water, and timely aid is not at hand, they run the risk of gaining the much dreaded "watery grave."

Robbery Suspected.—Samuel Stephens was brought before Justice Brown, on Tuesday last, on the complaint of Alexander Malcolm, charged with robbing the latter gentleman. There are a number of suspicious circumstances connected with the affair, which we will briefly narrate: Mr. Malcolm, who alleges he lost fifteen hundred dollars, arrived at Elkton, on the Friday evening train, direct from Ohio, where he has resided for upwards of thirty years. He was originally a resident of Caroline county, on the Eastern Shore of this State, and was on his way to Greensborough in that county, where, we understand, he has relatives residing. After leaving the cars on Friday night at 9½ o'clock, he went to the Felton House and asked for lodging for the night, and was shown to a room immediately. The next morning, feeling unwell, which feeling he attributed to the change of water, he asked for some ginger brandy, and drank a small quantity at the bar. He made it known that he wished to go to Greensborough—and here the most singular part of the transaction appears. In place of directing him to take the train for the Delaware Junction and the Delaware Railroad, which would have placed him at his desired place of destination in two or three hours, a carriage was hitched up at Mr. Marritt's livery stable and the old gentleman sent to Warwick, in the First District of this county, and left at the hotel of Mr. Samuel Gillespie. When he reached the hotel of Mr. Gillespie, the old gentleman was so much intoxicated as to not know much of what was going on, the party having stopped to "liquor" at Chesapeake and Cayotte's "corner" on the way.

The driver, Stephens, who is now in jail, under the charge of robbing Malcolm, told Mr. Gillespie that Mr. Falls, of the Howard House, had sent him there, and for him to take good care of the old gentleman—that he had plenty of money. When he waked up the next morning in his sober senses, he told the story, as we have related, and that he wished to go to Greensborough. He also discovered that he had only 55 cents—the bulk of his money having disappeared.

Mr. Gillespie's son hitched up a carriage and brought the old gentleman back to Elkton, where he arrived about 9 o'clock on Saturday night, and stopped at the Howard House. The stranger alleged that he had been robbed of fifteen hundred dollars, and charged Samuel Stephens, the driver, who had taken him to Warwick, with the robbery. The State's Attorney was sent for, but being unwell, his father, Hiram McCullough, Esq., attended to the business, and ascertaining as many facts as he could gather on Saturday night, got Judge Brown to issue a warrant for Stephens, who was committed to jail.

On Tuesday a further hearing was heard, when Mr. Clemson, proprietor of the hotel, and Mr. Marritt, testified that the complainant had $40 or $50 dollars, which they saw, before he was started for Warwick; but what motive they had for sending him to Warwick in place of putting him on board the cars, did not appear in the course of the examination. The prisoner had been seen with $15 after his return from Warwick, but none was found on his person when arrested.

Before the examination on Tuesday, the old man, Malcolm, had disappeared from town, and when the witnesses were questioned on this point they testified that he had been sent by the same livery conveyance to Warwick or some where else on Sunday night.

Information gathered from other parties was to the effect that the old gentleman had been seen walking round about the street and at the depot, with his money out exhibiting it, in an intoxicated condition on Saturday morning. In addition to the amount in his pocket book, he said he had a roll of notes, the bulk of his money, folded in a newspaper which he carried in his pocket under his pocket book. In regard to his drinking the Jamaica brandy, he said that before he started in the carriage that he took some more, and as the host and guests had been very kind and sociable, he asked the company present to drink with him, that he was not in the habit of drinking, not having drank anything for ten years before. He also said that soon after drinking the liquor, he in a measure, lost his consciousness and became confused. Efforts on Thursday, at the time of this writing, were being made find Malcolm, and the case held for further investigation before the magistrate.

Report of Elkton Public School.

The following Report is for one month, ending May 29th. The averages for this month are taken partly from a monthly examination, instead of wholly from the class register, as heretofore. The averages may be slightly lower on this account, without indicating less progress. The attention of parents is called to the fact that the home study of pupils, as reported by themselves, has decreased considerably within the past few weeks.

Raft of Logs—Hay—Deaths—Building and Loan Association.

A raft of logs was received by Davis, Pugh & Co., on Monday week direct from North Carolina, all yellow pine, some six hundred thousand feet.

The same firm has been shipping to Baltimore heavy cargoes of fine quality of timothy hay, per steamer C. P. Smith.

Newton Owens and John Heverin (the latter a stepson of Geo. W. Barnes) died about two weeks since. These were exemplary young men, whose untimely end will be much regretted by all who knew them.

Building and Loan Association, sold on Wednesday night, 27th ult., thirteen hundred dollars, at 1[illegible]2½ per cent premium. They also amended their constitution by allowing members who wish to withdraw from the Association 10 per cent interest on the amount paid in.

"Decoration day" was not forgotten in our little village, the few soldiers' graves here being strewn with flowers by the kind hands of fair friends, who remembered with love and gratitude the fallen defenders of their country. Though the assemblage was not so great as those seen in our larger towns and cities, the few who met together came with their hearts in sympathy with the sacred occasion. Rev. Mr. Tompkinson conducted the ceremonies.

One of our enterprising young men has lately embarked (not quite his all) in horse-trading, having handled several quite lately. Desiring to show an animal off to advantage, when about to swap, he sent two boys to his stable to enliven him up with the whip, which was dutifully done; and when brought out, the horse, frightened out of his wits, hung head and tail at half mast, looking more like a whipped hound than a noble horse. Our young friend will soon learn all the jockey's tricks, if he has to learn them by experience.

Mr. Johns' pulpit was very ably and acceptably filled, on last aabbath, by Rev. Mr. Porter, of Newark, Del. The usual morning services in the M. E. Church were not held, owing to the Quarterly Meeting at the "Union," which was largely attended.

We sadly chronicle the loss of one of our most lively and popular ladies. Mrs. M. S. Leech is no more, she having been enticed from her home to become Mrs. M. S. Hurst. Our loss is Mr. H.'s gain, and we swallow our vain regrets, and extend our best wishes to the happy couple.

Current report says, a quiet wedding occurred near here, on Thursday evening of last week, which goes to prove that if a man cannot vote, he can marry. Congratulations will be in order when the report is verified.

Weather—delicious, though some afternoons it is 83° in the shade. So long as not over 100° we wont complain, not knowing what the future may have in store for some of us.

Mrs. John V. Price, who for a number of years has been a sufferer from that slow but fatal disease, consumption, died at her residence in Ponds Neck, on Tuesday, May 26th.

On Monday, the 25th ult., the remains of Mrs. Daniel Pennington was brought from her home in Kent county, and after an address by the Rev. Mr. Caldwell, was interred in the burying ground at St. Pauls.

Considerable interest is manifested in the young, for in this neighborhood there are four Methodist Sabbath Schools. Three of them have been recently organized, wherein much good will be achieved, we think.

The rain that fell so copiously here was very acceptable, affording a splendid opportunity for transplanting plants.

The peach orchards that causes such an amount of prophesying, are discouraging in the extreme, while some have the prospect of a fair crop, others have none.

A great contest has been going on here with the house keepers, who are trying to banish King Disorder from their homes. From the tidy appearance that every establishment presents, we think the amateur warriors have come out conquerers.

A REMARKABLE COUNTY FOR "VARMENTS."—In the annual statement of county levy and expenses for Prince George's county, published in the Marlborough Gazette, under the caption, "Crow, Hawk and Owl Scalps, and Fox Brushes," 103 persons have allowances from the county in sums varying from $1.00 as high as $238.50, which latter amount is credited to one George B. Hunter. This seems to fully establish the fact that this Nimrod is properly named. The aggregate amount of the above species of this description of game slain in the county during the last fiscal year is stated at

1,741 crows at 6¼ cents per scalp,	$108 81
315 owls at 50 per scalp, - -	157 50
769 hawks 50 " " - -	384 50
230 foxes $2.00 per brush, -	460 00
	$1,110 81

Prince George's county is clearly a county infested with birds and beasts of prey.

"I PLIGHT THEE, MY TROTH."

We sat beneath the Linden Tree,
When day was slowly dying,
And listened to the gentle breeze,
That 'midst the leaves was sighing,
I asked her to be mine, she said:
"I will!" and wait for no-thing,
If you will go to Tower Hall,
And buy your wedding Clothing.

She wanted him to look nice, and that is just what every one does who dresses in the elegant garments which are being sold at such low prices by BENNETT & CO., TOWER HALL, 518 Market St., half-way between Fifth and Sixth Strs., Phila.

☞The Treasury will sell $5,000,000 in gold this month. In place of throwing that sum on the market and assisting to keep gold an article of merchandise, suppose it were deposited in the Treasury, and the monthly surplus which is sold, deposited with it, in a year $60,000,000 would have accumulated. The Government would soon be in a condition to pay gold for greenbacks. The inflation so much talked of, would be in gold and greenbacks at par with gold, and then would be added to the present paper circulating medium as many millions of gold and silver as the business of the country required.

NOTICE.

THE POTTSTOWN IRON COMPANY
vs.
FRANCIS G. PARKE and THOMAS S. SMITH, late partners trading as Parke, Smith & Co., and others.

In the Circuit Court for Cecil county. In Chancery. May 29, 1874.

The object of this suit is to have the trusts in the deed of assignment from the said Francis G. Parke and Thomas S. Smith to James T. McCullough, Esq., for the benefit of their creditors, administered through the court of chancery.

The Bill states that the complainant, on the 7th day of May, 1867, obtained judgment of condemnation in the Circuit Court for Cecil county, of certain goods and chattels of the said Parke, Smith & Co., to the amount of $1,428 00. That the said Francis G. Parke and Thomas S. Smith, being indebted to sundry persons in sums which they were unable to pay in full, on the 25th of February, 1867, by their deed of that date, conveyed all their property to the said McCullough in trust for the benefit of their creditors; that Nicholas Hiss and James T. Yates, late partners trading as Hiss & Yates, Robert Parke, Thomas H. Gardiner and Thomas B. Rice claim liens upon the real estate mentioned in said deed of trust; that the said Francis G. Parke, Robert Parke, Thomas H. Gardiner, Thomas B. Rice and Nicholas Hiss reside out of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Cecil county, once a week for one month before the 3rd day of July, next, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of the Bill, and warn them to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of October, next, to answer the premises and show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed. A. W. MITCHELL, Clerk.
