“Folly ‘What Money Will Do.’ Did you ever stop to think ‘What Money Will Do.’”

It rules the universe and it is the predominating power in all lands, the glittering coin and the strip of paper decorated with green is the magnet that is all powerful. In the jungles of Africa, where civilization is unheard of, the natives that come in contact with the tourist and explorers, stretch out their hands for money.

In all walks of life, regardless of location, location/enterprise, money is the axis upon which all things revolve.

From the Stone Ages when clam shells were used as a compensation and up to the present time, whether it be shells, brass, copper, silver, gold or paper, so long as it is money, it is a much wanted article. From the laborer to the capitalist and from the spendthrift to the miser. If you are interested in the money question see “The Banker’s Child” at Centreville Opera House, Harry Shannon’s splendid production, Friday, January 21.

“Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Allen’s Ointment. It cured me permanently.” — Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.
