The suggestion made by a somewhat distinguished jurist that the railroads be allowed to determine and fix for themselves reasonable rates doubtless meets with the cordial approval of all the roads. But the people evidently think different. They rightly regard the roads as public carriers who are in duty bound to consider the interests of the public, and therefore the public reasonably holds that through an Interstate Commission or some other competent authority it should have the power to decide as to reasonable rates.

Considering the very important and ever essential part that milk plays in the dietary of every family, the action of the great milk firms that supply New York, Chicago and other large cities in abnormally raising the price of milk is nothing less than criminal. It is another and one of the worst instances of greed, for it is a virtual robbing of the poor. Already some of these firms have been making a profit of twenty and twenty-five per cent upon what is mainly watered stock, but even that enormous profit does not satisfy them.

Vice flaunts itself defiantly whenever it is possible to do so, and its possibility has been made easy by the supineness and oftentimes the connivance of the authorities whose duty it was to prevent vice and enforce law. But in recent years vice is being badly hit as an improved public conscience puts better men into office and demands that they maintain and put the lawings with their fellow-men with their full operation. The gamblers, the terrors of the globe, are of the globe, are other day openly defied the governor of the state by attempting to start a gambling resort in that state a few miles from Chicago, are now wiser and sadder. Numerous Other Displays

Besides the apple exhibits, there were numerous other displays, among which were:

Thomson Chemical Company, Baltimore, Maryland, had an exhibit of chemicals and apparatus for spraying, showing leaves affected by fruit insects in both pictures and real life. There were also numerous other small exhibits of insect destroyers. The trees in the Court House green were sprayed with one of the gasoline engine sprayers on Wednesday.

George H. McKay, of Philadelphia, had a cold storage exhibit showing how radishes, cherries, mushrooms, cucumbers, buckeberry, pears, strawberries and other fruit and vegetables can be kept all winter.

William H. Wood, of Centreville, had an exhibit of three pairs of high bred pigeons, including the Dragon, Homer and Aetwerp. He also had white rabbits on exhibition.

The Stewart Fruit Company, of Baltimore, had a handsome exhibit of tropical fruits, and disposed of the entire stock before leaving. Their display was composed of Spanish onions, pineapples, oranges, grapes, sweet peaches, cabbage, chestnuts, squashes, potatoes, cranberries, raisins, dates, apples and peanuts.

Mr. R. W. Thomas, of Centreville, had an exhibit of some of his well-known corn, the weights being as follows: Best 10 ears weighing 13 pounds and 5 once; second best: 10 ears weighing 12 pounds and 8 ounces; third best: 10 ears weighing 10 pounds and 1 ounce.

John A. Trundie, of Centreville, had Grand Pascal Celery on display. D. B. Stewart, of Chestertown, exhibited Green Mountain potatoes, and E. B. Emory, of Centreville, had Irish Cobbler, from Indianapolis. J. McC. Rocketer had Dirty and Currell Prolific wheat.

MR. H. G. GREEN and family, of Lewis Creek, Ind., write: "We can recommend Peruna as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I have been troubled with it severely for over a year, and also a cough."

"Now my cough is all gone, and all the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the stomach and bowels have disappeared."

"I will recommend it to all as a rare remedy."

Mrs. F. E. Little, Vinton, Ill., writes:

"I had catarrh of the stomach, bowels and lower internal organs. Had a great deal of pain in my right hip, which felt like rheumatism. Also pain in my internal organs. The water was highly colored, my back was weak, was constipated, and very restless."

"I commenced to take Peruna according to directions, and began to improve."

"I have taken ten bottles of Peruna and Drank 1 am cured!"—Mr. W. C. Hempill, Louisville, Ky.
