Some Girls Regret

Great thoughts are often the result of a long and weary day. A woman's delicate nature is often the cause of her regrets.

There are just the words "Un-bridled" we could not find our meaning as they were made reference to the great root-cause of our troubles.

People who never mind their own business are very much to be pitied. They are the cause of all our troubles. They are the cause of all our troubles. They are the cause of all our troubles.

Did God make you and on purpose to superintend his universe, and everybody's affairs as assume the control of the "free will" he gave men? Is this the plan and plan for existence and duty, to forever be meddling with somebody's business? It gives us "a hot feeling" to think of the plan some people take to gather the smallest atom of "news." They leave their own garden to grow fall weeds while they are trying to build up before everybody the few they pull from their neighbors. They do everything but mind their own business. They never speak of their own faults or follies. We indeed, the time the whole world is criticizing and laughing at.

People who don't mind their own business bring more misery into families, molest and disturb than everything else combined. They turn the pleasant and peaceful stream of good will into a boiling pool. Minding your own business will make peaceful homes, happy neighbors and a sweet conscience that will make us know why Jesus loved the penitents, and said of them "Blessed are the peace-makers, for they shall be called the children of God." Now this is plain talk, but if the shoe does not fit you then do not put it on, but should it fit, the longer you wear it the better it will be for you and the community.

GOOD COUNSEL

No young man can hope to rise in society or perform worthily his part in life without a fair moral character. The basis of such a character is a virtuous, fixed sense of moral obligation, sustained and invigorated by the fear and love of God. The youth who possesses such a character can be trusted. Integrity, justice, benevolence, truth are not with him words without meaning. He feels and knows their moral impact and aims in the tenor of his life to exemplify the virtues they express. Such a man has decision of character; he knows what is right and is firm in pursuing it; he thinks and acts for himself, and is not to be made the tool of unprincipled and time-serving politicians to do the dirty work of party. Such a man has true worth of character; his life is a blessing to himself, to his family, to society and to the world, and he is pointed out to future generations as a proper example for the rising youth to emulate.

Correct Speaking

All young people should acquire, in English.

There is not an ache or pain that can be reached externally that cannot be "cured" in a few minutes by the use of Wright's Rubbed Oil Liment. Rub it on the affected part and the pain will soon disappear. Full half pint bottle, 50c.

early life, the habit of correct speaking and writing, and to choose, as early as possible, any one of slang words and phrases. The longer you live the more difficult the language will be; and if the golden age of youth, the proper time for the acquisition of language, be passed in its bloom, the unfortunate victim, if neglected, is very properly doomed to talk slang for life. Money is not necessary to procure this education. Every man has it in his power. He has no duty to use the language which he hears instead of the slang which he hears to form his taste from the best of speech, and best parts in the country; to treasure up choice phrases in his memory and habitually himself to their use, avoiding at the same time that pedantic precision and pedantry which show the weakness of vain ambition rather than the polish of an educated mind.

Two Ways.

There are two ways of starting on life's journey. One is to begin where your parents are ending—magnificent mansions, splendid furniture, and an elegant turnout. The other is to begin a little nearer where father and mother—of blessed memory—began. You see you can go up as easily and gracefully, if events show it would be safe; but it would be trying and awkward to come down. And it costs much now to live. And business fluctuates and health is uncertain, and temptations from the side of pride are strong, and many a young man who does not mean to be extravagant, has been led along; and rather than face the position and descend manfully, has tried to keep up by embezzlement and been called a "swindler." Our prisons are rapidly being filled by those who make the mistake of beginning at the top of the ladder.

Married Men

There is an expression in the face of a good married man who has a good wife that a bachelor face cannot possess. It is indescribable. He is a little nearer the angels than the basest of young fellows living. You can see that his broad breast is a pillow for somebody's head, and that little finger pulled his white hair. We can ever mistake the good married man. It is only the woman who that leaves you in doubt. The good one can protect all yours. The bad one can protect all yours.

—Rabbits and partridges have just one week longer in which to enjoy the freedom and solitude of their native haunts and then the stillness will be broken by the crash of the sportsman's rifle and gun. The law for shooting this game expires November 15th. Rabbits are reported unusually plentiful and while there is not an abundance of partridges there is at least enough to afford good sport.
