MAYOR PRESTON

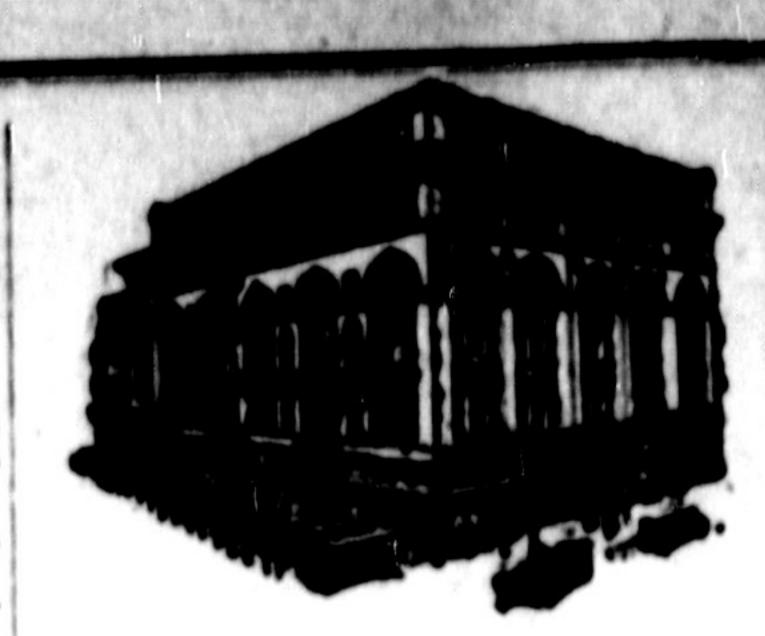

DISCUSSED BY PAUL WINCHESTER

HAS MANAGED THE AFFAIRS OF BALTIMORE WITH AN EYE SIN-GLE TO THE PUBLIC NTEREST. WITHOUT EITHER FEAR OR FAVOR.

Baltimore, Md., May 24. While the merits and demerits of the various prospective and actual candidates for congress and nominations for State officers next year are undergoing discussion from day to day, the fact is not forgotten that in less than a year from the present time Baltimore City will be in the throes of a campaign for Mayor to succeed Mr. Preston, and also for the other elective officers who will have & Company Tuesday, May 28, 1918 TUESDAY, JUNE charge of the municipal affairs for four years and to many people here the control of the city government Howard & Lexington Sts. and the vast patronage which goes, with it, are of much greater importance than the control of affairs which radiate from the State House at An | napolis. The city employes number thousands, while the state employes; are few in number compared with them, and the city expenditures great ly exceed the expenditures of the State government exceed all the revenues of the State in fact, by many millions of dollars. Hence the importance of the control of the City Hall and all that pertains to it And it is ; not to be forgotten that the effect of the city election, taking place as it; does six months prior to the state election is of great aeight in deter ; mining which parts chall ain in November The people of the entire State are therefore giestly interested in the mannicipal election and politicians of both parties from all sections of Marsland are diligent in their inquirfew about the leval situation in Italia. more and show great interest in all discussions as to the outlook, and also about the prospective candidates for Mayor of both parties. And the feeling is prevalent among democrats of all classes and to a certain extent among Republicano that Mayor Presion will ter re-nominated and re-elected not withstanding the fact that he has frequently said that he will not be a candidate again The real titly lenders at the head of whom is Mr John J Mahon, appear to be ready to support Mr Preston. and no other name is mentioned by them in connection with the office Apparently they believe that the demand for him will be so great among citizens generally that he will be compelled to yield to it, and that his; election for a third term will follow. as a matter of course. Many people, It is true object to Mr Preston's perconsilly. They do not like the forceful and at times progent way be has of doing things, but all admit that be does things and unaterer be does, is well and thoroughly done and is done with an eye single to the public interest. He has made the city over he has changed it from a mere town to a great and thoroughly up to date city which is really metropolitan all respects aid be has done all this without graft and scandal and has secured for the public a dollars worth of improvements for a dollar in taxes was or in person. When officials whom he appointed did not size up to their jobs, others who . did size up were put in their places. and the work was well and satisfactorily done In all this he has made enemies Revolution in municipal. affairs always arouse hostility and antagonism and Mayor Preston has revolutionized Baltimore The old, easygoing shiftless way of the officials in the city government have been rudely and effectively changed, and municipal affairs are managed in the same way that the affairs of a prosperous CENTREVILE. and officient corporation are managed and "business is business at the City Hall, just as it is in a well managed bank or trust company And there is not much doubt that he can be Mayor of Haltimore for another term if he will agree to take the job.
