

A male child four months old was taken by its mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Hara, to the Eastern District Hospital Brooklyn, Thursday, to be operated upon for a malformation of the face, which gave it somewhat the appearance of a horse. An elongation of the nasal bones, which swelled out towards the chin and met the lower lip, which was thus depressed, gave the appearance of two large nostrils. The recent malformation was increased by the stertorous breathing of the child. Dr. Brady had the infant put under the influence of chloroform, and in about half an hour handed the child back to its mother with a mouth, nose and nostrils—an ugly looking child, but still with a child's face. The flesh was cut from the protuberance, and the bone was broken off to the length of an ordinary nose. The cuticle and flesh so cut away were formed into the base of the nose, holes being made for the nostrils. The large cavernous opening then seen was bridged across to make an upper lip by joining the two cheeks. Mrs. O'Hara said the cause of the deformity was an ante-natal shock, received through a neighbor who was driving a horse. Her husband is a laboring man, and they have four other bright children, from two to nine years of age. The deformed child is a hearty, healthy infant, and it is thought will survive the operation.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Miss Corisande was born only two years earlier than her brother Tom. When Tom was ten years old she gloried because she was twelve. When Tom was known to be fourteen she confessed to sweet sixteen. When Tom proudly boasted of eighteen she timidly acknowledged herself past nineteen. When Tom came home from college, with a mustache and a vote, and had a party in honor of his twenty-first birthday, she said to her friends, "What a boyish fellow he is; who would think he is only a year younger than I?" And when Tom declared he was twenty-five, and old enough to get married, she said: "Do you know I feel savagely jealous to think of Tom getting married. But then suppose twins are always more attached to each other than other brothers and sisters." And two years later, at Tom's wedding, she said with girlish vivacity to the wedding guests, "Dear old Tom; to see him married to-night, and then think how, when he was only five years old, they brought him in to see me, his baby sister. I wonder if he thinks of it to-night?"

—The subject of tree planting has now become a matter of life and death in some parts of the country. Whenever a tree has been stripped bare of its primitive forest clothing the effects have been disastrous. Some parts of this country, once renowned for fertility, are now sterile and unproductive. Timber also has become scarce and dear. In view of these facts the Massachusetts Agricultural Society has offered a series of prizes for the encouragement of tree planting. The State, it is estimated, has made ten years from the first of March next for the best results produced in the interval. It is estimated that over a million of trees will be planted in Massachusetts this year. In Connecticut the Legislature has exempted from taxation all plantations of a period of ten years, after which trees have grown to an average of six feet in height. Nowhere are trees more useful than in densely populated cities. They shade the wide streets, cool the atmosphere, exhale ozone, absorb malarious exhalations and exert a sensible influence on the health of the inhabitants.

—Trout were presented at the recent meeting of the San Francisco Academy of Sciences which were thrown up from an artisan well 14 feet deep, near the name, Ventura county. The well, which is near 300 feet deep from high water mark, was bored in 1871, and ever since has thrown out immense quantities of freshly spawned fish in April and May. The first fish this year were observed in March. The well is capped, having three two-inch apertures, from one of which people were in the habit of drawing water for household purposes. In that way the presence of fish was discovered in 1872. The cap was removed, and fish were ejected in incredible quantities until the cap was replaced. The fish are said to be of various sizes, the largest about an inch in length. The nearest stream where fish are found in Santa Paula creek, twenty-five miles from the well.

—Great efforts are being made to complete as rapidly as possible the works of the second as well as of the first line of German fortresses. The new forts on the left bank of the Rhine at Cologne, which as originally intended were not to be finished before the end of next year, are already approaching completion, and will be ready to be occupied by their garrisons during the early part of the present summer. The girdle of detached works round the fortress is to be completed by forts on the right bank of the river. Plans and designs for these have been drawn up, and contracts for their execution entered into; but the work is to extend over four years. When completed Cologne will be one of the strongest of German fortresses.

—Now the town man and his wife suddenly feel these things sweet with tender affection for a dear, dear cousin who lives out in the country in a big farm-house and keeps one hundred cows, fifty horses, two thousand chickens, frying shies, and an orchard as big as a law suit, and who is just dying to see the town man and his wife and their eight children and three dogs, and is pining, because of their neglect, so that in pity for him they go out and live on his six weeks. And at Christmas when that dear cousin comes lumbering into the city to see the Christmas sights, they will cut him and his old-fashioned wife so dead they won't recover from it until it is time for the next summer rush to the farm.

—During the past year more than 60,000 applications have been made to the British Post Office for receiving letters and most of which contained property, and largely remittances in some shape or another. In about 20,000 cases the inquiry and search made for these letters proved successful, leaving, however, more than 40,000 letters unaccounted for.

—Planters in Mississippi, according to the St. Louis papers, are trying to obtain farm laborers from the cities. They want them from October to January, picking cotton, and will pay $1.50 per day. White labor is scarce, and landowners are anxious for immigration into the State.

—Men who use their muscles imagine that men who use their brains are strangers to hard work. Never! There is a greater mistake. Every successful professional man or merchant does more real hard work in the first ten years of his business career than a farmer or blacksmith ever dreamed of. Make up your mind to work early and late, if necessary, that you may thoroughly master every detail of the business upon which you purpose to enter. The habit of persistent, rapid work once formed, you have gained a momentum that will carry you very successfully through many a pinch in business where a less persistent worker would find it vastly easier to lie down and fail.

—The last number of the Paris Droit contains five official notices of probity, the names and addresses of the honest folk thus commended being given in full. A workman had picked up a gold watch and handed it to a policeman, who managed to discover over a return to him a workman had acted similarly with a valuable gold medal; a photographer who found an $80 pin had sought out the owner and returned it to him; a railway porter had turned over to the mail a $1,000 package of checks payable to order, and a house servant had restored a pocketbook containing $2,000 to its owner. In all these cases a reward was declined.

—The Merchants' Journal, of New York in a recent article on "Drumming," predicts that this costly system will gradually be abandoned by whole some merchants on account of its costliness. One large grocery house of New York has already abandoned the practice of sending out traveling salesmen, and now publishes a regular price list, which is mailed to all customers, showing them how the market stands for all commodities needed by them. The firm which has been doing a business of $14,000,000 per annum, and which looks upon a diminution of trade under the new system.

—John Stable was sent to the Chicago lunatic asylum about a year ago. Six months afterward his wife was informed by the authorities that he had died, and was buried. She put on mourning and went to work to support her family. Recently she went to the asylum to learn exactly where he was buried, and was astounded on hearing her husband's voice. She was hustled away, but a reporter to law enabled her to release him. He was sane when arrested, but his mind had not been clear long enough for him to remember much of his experience in the asylum. Six hundred dollars in the hands of his wife, and a letter that he had when incarcerated were missing.

—Dr. Sayers, an Army Chaplain, is the clergyman in charge of the spiritual interests of the soldiers in Fort St. George, Madras, and he likes to tell "his lauds" occasionally to the ears of his hearers in plainest terms from the pulpit. So he closed up a recent sermon of his with the following: "My brethren, this is a 'charity sermon' I'm preaching. I want rupees—mind you—I want rupees, and not dirty pieces of paper in the bag, having written on them, 'Sayers, old cock, how are you?' I won't have it, mind you, I won't. I've stood it long enough."

—Two or three men and various dogs having been devoured by sharks of Melbourne, Australia, the Government offered a reward for the capture of these fish, and 3,000 were caught in one week; but inasmuch as the reward was at the rate of one shilling a foot, and no reward is given for sharks under two feet, the fishermen threw the "babies" into the sea until they grow worth catching. Some men have been making from $15 to $20 a day by shark fishing.

—In the last twenty-one years the Sydney mint in Australia has coined and issued more than 37,000,000 sovereigns; and the Melbourne mint has coined and issued nearly 7,000,000 sovereigns since it was opened to the public in 1872. These two branch mints together coined and issued in 1876 as many as 3,737,000 sovereigns, which is a larger number than the sovereigns coined in the year at the mint in London.

—A company has been formed in San-Francisco, with a capital of $30,000, divided into 600 shares, for the manufacture of paper from tulle grass. Strong board, for the manufacture of trunks, and other articles, will also be made. This material is also used for the construction of refrigerator cars, being one of the best non-conductors of heat known. Newspaper will also be manufactured.

—About six months ago a pair of ladies' shoes were mailed from Troy to a place in Ireland, but were returned on account of insufficient postage. The package was then forwarded to the dead letter office at Washington, but was returned, with instructions to deliver it to the sender. As that person could not be found, the shoes were again sent to Washington; but they have come back again, with the former instructions duplicated.

—A train on the South Coast Railway, in England, was stopped by the engineer, owing to the sudden appearance of a track of an irate bull about to charge the locomotive. The beast was driven off, but returned to the charge, and the train was stopped a second time. Finally the fireman, armed with a long poker, and aided by the engineer, drove him into a field, and the train was enabled to proceed.

—A young man, being attacked by Indians near Fort Fetterman, took a position in a place that was surrounded by rocks, and defended himself for two days. He was wounded thirteen times, and at last killed. A photograph of a girl incribed "Mamie," was the only thing found on him by which he may be identified.

—At the conclusion of a tragic account of how a tourist lost his life by falling from the top of one of the towers at Etanoo, a Swiss paper manages to say: "His two Swiss guides, not speaking French, were unable to extricate him."

—The kind of verses that are read in a Kentucky school exhibition: "Go, my son, and slat the shutter!" "This heard a slat utter." "Shutter's slat," the boy did mutter, "I can't slat it any slatter."

—At the present moment 4,000,000 Hindoo and 100,000 Mohammedan children are attending schools in India, and 60,000 to 60,000 of them are receiving instruction up to the English university standard.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities or diseases that have long existed in the system for years soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all serofulous diseases, Ulcers, and all eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blisters, Boils, Eruptions, Erysipelas, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Roso or Erythema, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the serofulous poisons.
It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.

THERE IS NO USE "WAITING"
For something to turn up, and we have at last decided to turn it up. The protracted winter spell has materially interfered with the clothing business of Baltimore. Hundreds of thousands of Dollars worth, which reasonable weather would have sold, remains on shelf and counter. It is usual in most business houses to make reductions after the season of demand is over. We have decided to take time by the forelock and make those reductions NOW. Hence our entire stock has been marked Down, Down, DOWN to an after-holiday basis. We will positively stick at no reasonable sacrifice that will turn our great stock into speedy CASH.
