

—When will wonders in telegraphy cease? A physician of Salem, Massachusetts, exhibited before an audience to whom he was lecturing on diseases, an instrument for feeling the pulse by telegraph. He not only showed his hearers his machine, but he put it to a practical test. In order to exhibit the variations of the pulse in certain diseases, the lecture room, by means of a common wire, was placed in telegraphic communication with the city hospital of Boston, which is distant from Salem fifteen miles. Then, with the apparatus referred to, the pulse-beats of various patients were received and converted by means of a delicate electrometer into a vibrating ray of magnesium light which was thrown upon the wall. These experiments have been repeated at Paris with success.

—Our neighbors of Montreal can no longer lay claim to the possession of the longest bridge in the world, that of the North British Railway over the Tay having begun on it in June, 1871, but various delays, change of plans, &c., have deferred its completion till now. The bridge will cost about $2,500,000, and is 10,142 feet long, but some small spans and brick arches bring up the actual length to more than two miles. There are eighty-five spans, and at the summit level the roadway is 88 feet above high water mark. The thirteenth central span is of 245 feet each. The Victoria Bridge is 9,594 feet long, not including the approaches, which add 2,600 feet to this.

—In Germany the battle between the aerial and subterranean telegraphs seems to have been decided in favor of the latter. The conductivity of the buried wire which has been in use between Berlin and Halle for a whole year is said to have increased instead of decreasing, as is usually the case with aerial wires. The cable is composed of seven thin copper wires, twisted together so as to form a single conductor, and encased in india-rubber. Similar lines have been begun or are projected between Berlin and Cologne, Frankfurt, Strasburg, Hamburg, Kiel, Breslau and Konigsberg. The trenches in which the wires are buried are excavated by an ingenious steam-machine, which after placing the wire in position fills up the trench.

—Two men driving an old horse in a cart, and having a barrel in behind the seat, attempted to turn. It was a dismal failure. The cart went over, the horse went down, and the barrel rolled away, while the two men were so tangled up that they could not extricate themselves. Nine men reached the spot almost simultaneously, and eight of them rushed to see if the barrel was injured, while the ninth halted midway between the barrel and the struggling victims, and called out— "Is that whiskey in the barrel?" "No; it's vinegar," answered one of the pair.

—At Kanthalai, Ceylon, there is a magnificent tank on a scale so enormous that it would now cost more than five million dollars to erect it. It was constructed about A. D. 275. Still more remarkable is the great store tank of Kalowewa. Its circumference if supposed to have been hardly less than thirty miles, and it was kept full by two rivers. Channels extended from it over fifty miles, which conveyed an unending supply of water to certain large store tanks and thence to minor village tanks. The Ceylon Government propose to gradually restore many of these ancient prevented fountains.

—An Oakland buckster bought a fine mule at Auction on California street last week. He paid $140 for it, and christened it Martin Luther. After trying for three days to put its harness on from a second-story window, the owner resolved yesterday for $11, on long time, and under the style of "Sara." It was purchased by the city government, and will henceforth be used to suppress riots. It is calculated that when backed gently but firmly into a mob, the business end of this faithful animal will be equal to four Gatling guns and a howitzer.—Ez.

—A London paper is responsible for the following tale: "A well-to-do literary man died about two years ago, and before he was buried a poor relation—in fact, a brother—applied to the widow for any old clothes, especially shirts; he was 'very hard up for shirts.' A heap of shirts and other things were given him. Two days afterwards two dozen shirts were returned in a parcel, with this modest request: 'These shirts are too small round the neck by an inch. Please alter them for me.'"

—Three and a half pounds of milk are equal to one pound of meat; and only estimate a cow to give 4,000 pounds of milk in a year, this would make the cow's product in milk equal in food value to 1,000 pounds of meat, and this 1,000 pounds of meat would require a steer, under ordinary feeding, four years to produce, so that the cow produces as much return from food in one year as a steer in four.

—The white residents of numerous towns in California have agreed not to employ Chinamen for any purpose, not to lease them houses, nor to buy anything from them, nor to sell them anything except at exorbitant prices. Things must have reached a bad condition when the Californians are not willing even to make profit out of Chinese purchasers and tenants.

—William Stevens, of Clay county, Ala., has squatted on a mountain tract and built himself a log cabin, where he resides contentedly with his rifle, while eight kids and one hundred goats. The goats are hardy and prolific; he shoots them when he wants meat, or leather for shoes; has their milk for milk, butter and cheese; exchanges his deer for meal with a miller at the foot of the mountain, and sells his surplus animals yearly for clothing, hats, etc., and claims that he is the best fed, best clothed, best shod and best humored man in the county.

—The following statement of the cost of taking the census has been prepared by the Treasury Department for each ten years from the year 1791 to 1871, inclusive: 1791, $44,377.29; 1801, $66,976.35; 1811, $176,727.87; 1821, $207,590.60; 1831, $400,511.40; 1841, $918,553.57; 1851, $1,414,104.63; 1861, $1,960,279.53; 1871, $3,405,957.76. Total, $8,597,079.05. This gives one a clear notion of our country's material growth.

—When he was a young man he rushed into a burning building and gallantly dragged her out by the hair of the head. They were married the next winter, and now she rushes in and drags him out by the hair of his head whenever she feels like it. Such is true love.

—A Kansas school matron has introduced a new feature in her school. When one of the girls missees a word the boy who spells it gets permission to kiss her. As a result the girls are becoming very poor spellers, while the boys are improving.

Dr. I. J. Martin's
STANDARD
FAMILY MEDICINES.
THESE truly valuable Medicines have most of them been before the public for over thirty years, and wherever they have been introduced, have acquired a high reputation. The extensive experience of the Proprietor, enables him to place before the community goods
and RELIABLE FAMILY MEDICINES, such as,
in the most accurate manner.
A large number of the most reliable certificates could be produced in testimony of their virtues, but the Proprietor is willing to rest them upon their own intrinsic merits.
It is no small praise that many intelligent physicians have given them their entire approbation.

HALL'S VEGETABLE
SICILIAN
HAIR
RENEWER
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and
as satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to
its youthful color.
It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff. It gives the head a cooling, soothing sensation of great comfort, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.
A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says,—"The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."
Price, One Dollar.

THERE IS NO USE "WAITING"
For something to turn up, and we have at last decided to turn it up. The protracted warm spell has materially interfered with the CLOTHING BUSINESS of Baltimore. Hundreds of thousands of Dollars worth, which reasonable weather would have sold, remains on shelf and counter. It is usual in most business houses to make reductions after the season of the year. We have decided to take time by the forelock and make those reductions NOW. Hence our entire stock has been marked DOWN, DOWN to an extraordinary basis. We will positively state at no reasonable sacrifice that will turn our great stock into speedy CASH!
