Southern for November. The November number of School Education's new novel, 'Boxy', is begun, with an illustration by Walter Shirlow. The scene is laid in Indiana, where lived the Hoosier Schoolmaster and other interesting characters.

GENERAL SUMMARY. MONDAY. In the Senate the resolution submitted by Mr. Edmunds on Wednesday last, providing for the appointment of a committee of seven Senators, whose duty shall be to take into consideration the state of the law respecting the ascertainment and declaration of the result of the elections of President and Vice-President of the United States, and that said committee have power to report by bill or otherwise was taken up.

The Episcopal Convention has adopted the composition of the Board of Trustees of the General Theological Seminary so as to allow each diocese a trustee for every eight clergymen. A report was adopted on the subject of the proposed union of the Episcopal Church in America with the Episcopal Church of the United States.

The tonnage duty imposed upon Spanish vessels arriving in the United States so much complained of in Spain, is in retaliation for similar charges made in the Spanish colonies, because the American treaty does not contain the 'most favored nation' clause. All that is required for the removal of duty on Spanish bottoms is an assurance to the Government from Spain that no discriminating tonnage duties are now levied on our vessels in any part of Spain or of the Spanish colonies.

The new Turkish Ambassador to Paris is to receive instructions as to the terms on which Turkey will make peace in Constantinople are being sent to Trebizond in consequence of Mukhtar Pasha's defeat. Salimian Pasha is entrenched so as to cover Rusechuk.

Accounts received at Washington show that the wheat crop of this year is the largest that has ever been gathered in this country. The report will furnish a text for the approaching Thanksgiving proclamation.

WEDNESDAY. In the Episcopal Convention yesterday a canon for the creation and government of the proposed order of deaconesses or sisters of the Church came from the House of Bishops for concurrent action by the House of Deputies. The subject was discussed during the afternoon session and finally laid over to the present Convention is concerned. The House of Bishops has not concurred in the proposition to adjourn on Wednesday, and it is supposed that the Convention will remain in session until Friday. A joint standing committee has been appointed to consider the subject of marriages between heretics and converts.

THURSDAY. The Senate met to-day, referred a number of bills, went into executive session and confirmed a few of the long list of nominations, and then adjourned over till Thursday, ostensibly to allow the committee time to prepare business, but really to give the Senators an opportunity to read the papers.

FRIDAY. The final session of the Episcopal Convention was held yesterday, but the attendance was small, many delegates having left the city. A joint committee was appointed to report to the next Convention relative to the proposed Order of Deaconesses. A joint committee was appointed to consider the work of the clergy and laity of the Church in taking an active interest in the public schools, and that church schools be established in addition. A joint committee was appointed to consider a shortened form of service by rubric or otherwise. A motion was non-concurred in this action led to a disbanding of the convention.

THURSDAY. In the Senate, during the morning hour, Mr. Conkling (N. Y.), presented a petition of citizens of New York against the repeal of the bankrupt law, and praying that it be amended. A report was made by Mr. Chaffee (Col.), submitted a resolution to amend rule 47 of the Senate, so as to provide for a standing committee on banking and currency to consist of seven Senators. Mr. Mitchell (Oregon) submitted a resolution authorizing the committee on contested election cases of Kellogg and Spoonford, claiming seats as Senators from Louisiana, to send for persons and papers and administer oaths, in order that said committee may decide upon the merits of the title of each contestant to the seat.

The House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church does not concur in the resolution of the Lower House in relation to the use of the English lectionary until the next General Convention, and the subject was referred to a committee of conference. A forbidding intimation was given to the marriage of any person with a divorced wife or husband still living, but the canon does not apply to the innocent in a divorce case for the cause of adultery, or to parties once divorced seeking to be united again. The canon forbids ministers to administer baptism, confirmation or the communion to persons married otherwise than in accordance with the discipline of the Church, but allows them to administer the sacrament to penitent persons in imminent danger of death. The canon was adopted. The House of Bishops non-concurred in this canon, and a committee of conference was appointed.

Yesterday was a very brilliant day at Plover, the great race between Ten Bred and the Baltimore being the chief attraction, and bringing an immense concourse of people, such as is seldom seen on an American race course. The match ended differently than was expected, and that many were disappointed, is only an illustration of the old maxim that 'the best laid schemes of mice and men go oft agley.' Instead of Ten Bred's victory, Baltimore proving the champion, the little gelding Parole was the winner, his jockey afterwards receiving a most demonstrative ovation.

The municipal election in Baltimore yesterday resulted in the election of Col. Geo. P. Kane, democrat, for mayor, by the handsome majority of 15,321, and the entire democratic ticket for city council in every ward. Mr. Joseph Thompson, Kirkington's candidate for mayor, carried the thirteenth and twentieth wards by small majorities, the democrats elected the city councilmen. Mr. Henry M. Warfield, independent candidate for mayor, received a very small vote.

Cabinet disagreements in Germany are exciting some attention, and a combination of the Ultramontanes and Liberals is expected to demand some explanation regarding the intentions of the Premier. It is thought that on his part Prince Bismarck is dissatisfied with the free trade policy of the Government, and the ascription of blame to the disastrous stagnation of trade. An important debate in Parliament is expected on Friday.

The Senate was not in session yesterday. The House resumed the consideration of the Colorado contested case. Mr. Harrison made an amusing speech in behalf of Mr. Paterson's claim, and was followed by Mr. Garfield advocating the right of Mr. Belford, as certified by the Governor. Without action, the House adjourned.
