

Business Locals, &c.

Nothing Can be Worse Than to be Complacent Night and Day.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR R. J. MARTIN'S PULMONARY BALSAM.

A Positive Cure for Diarrhoea, &c. SPONSHAKRENS' MEDICINE SYRUP will positively cure any and every case of Diarrhoea, Dysentery and Summer Complaint, no matter how severe the case may be.

Old Uncle Sam.

Is the title of an excellent new song by Horace Dimsdale. 'Thousand of Songs have been published in America, within the last few years, but few ever contain merit enough to become very popular.

Amazing Success. It is the duty of every person who has used Roscoe's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in Europe, Consumption, severe Coughs, Comp. Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all the chest and lung diseases.

A Voice from Sweden. American Chemists and their Production are provided for by the Professor at the celebrated University in Sweden.

From the highest and best authority in Sweden. As I have had occasion to see several persons who, for some time, have used Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer, and know that it has restored the original color of the hair, as well as being efficient in removing the itching and dandruff that accompanies the falling out of the hair, I consider it my duty to acknowledge the same to Mr. Sells.

YINCENT LUNDBERG. Physician-Chief to the King, and Professor of his life.

Stockholm, July 7, 1876.

Farmers' Papers.

There is a great difference between the farmers' papers of to-day, and twenty-five years ago. Then, scientific book farming was described as tending only to useless expense in trying false theories; and, indeed, so it did, so poor was the so-called science of that time.

At a military dinner in Paris on Saturday President McMahon repeated his declarations in favor of a policy of resistance.

A despatch received by the Commissioner of the Land Office at Washington from Pascagoula on Saturday from the United States Marshal there announces that he is again in possession of the greater part of the logs and lumber taken out of his hands by a process of a United States District Court in Mississippi.

E. C. Courtney, under the authority of his backers at Auburn, New York, will accept the challenge of Trickett, the Australian champion oarsman, who has challenged the world to a three-mile race for a thousand pounds, to be rowed in any country.

Mrs. McClure, wife of Alexander K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, died in that city on Saturday from an attack of neuralgia of the heart.

At Lowell on Saturday Mrs. Geo. H. Thompson, a sister of Senator Sargent, of California, committed suicide.

TUESDAY.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

MONDAY.

In the Senate to-day Mr. Wadleigh, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, submitted a resolution admitting W. P. Kellogg to a seat from Louisiana. Objection being made, it was laid over till to-morrow.

Mr. Merrimon, of N. C., submitted a minority report in favor of seating Spoford.

The House bill to repeal the Resumption act was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The question of the admission of Butler from South Carolina being brought up, Mr. Davis, of Illinois, favored action upon the Louisiana and South Carolina cases at once.

On a motion to go into Executive session, Conover and Patterson voted with the Democrats, defeating the motion.

Despatches from the seat of war in Asia Minor say that the Russians will soon repeat the attack upon Batoum with heavy artillery. The troubles in the Caucasus are reported to be on the increase, and the insurgents are said to have captured by storm the fortified town of Kussar.

A feeling of despondency, according to a correspondent of the London Times, is prevailing in Constantinople in regard to the position of affairs at Plevna, though it is still maintained by some that Osman Pasha's supplies will hold out until an army for his relief can be organized, for which great efforts are being made.

The movement in Servia all point to its army being placed in an attitude of war without further delay. The second class militia have been ordered to mobilize and hold themselves in readiness to march to the frontier.

A despatch from Constantinople announces a levy of 150,000 civic guards to preserve order during the possible absence of the regulars.

The Ambassadors from the Samoan Islands arrived in Washington on Saturday, and will be presented to the Secretary of State to-day by Senator Mitchell. Their object, it is stated, is to negotiate such a treaty with the United States as will secure their recognition as an independent nation by other Governments, and afford them protection against injuries to which they say they have been subjected.

Laura Bannan a young lady residing in the northwestern section of Baltimore city, last night playfully pointed a loaded pistol at Mr. James E. Murphy, a gentleman who had accompanied her to church and returned home with her. The pistol went off, and the ball crashed into the unfortunate young man's brain. The wound, the physicians think, will be fatal.

At a military dinner in Paris on Saturday President McMahon repeated his declarations in favor of a policy of resistance. He said that the Deputies had met his peaceful overtures with a violent declaration of war, and he should resume the policy of resistance. The Senate has elected another Bonapartist to a life membership.

A despatch received by the Commissioner of the Land Office at Washington from Pascagoula on Saturday from the United States Marshal there announces that he is again in possession of the greater part of the logs and lumber taken out of his hands by a process of a United States District Court in Mississippi.

E. C. Courtney, under the authority of his backers at Auburn, New York, will accept the challenge of Trickett, the Australian champion oarsman, who has challenged the world to a three-mile race for a thousand pounds, to be rowed in any country.

Mrs. McClure, wife of Alexander K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, died in that city on Saturday from an attack of neuralgia of the heart.

At Lowell on Saturday Mrs. Geo. H. Thompson, a sister of Senator Sargent, of California, committed suicide.

TUESDAY.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

The Senate session of Monday was continued until four o'clock this afternoon, having been twenty-eight hours occupied in the struggle relating to the discharge of the Committee on Privileges and Elections from the consideration of the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

bill, the debt was to be paid in gold coin only it should have been in silver, and not in the doubtful construction of the phrase "otherwise provided by contract." Mr. Shelby, of Alabama, asked leave to offer a resolution reciting that the loss of the United States steamer Huron was attributable to carelessness, and directing the Secretary of the Navy to suspend work on the naval vessels now being repaired until examined by a commission appointed for the purpose. An objection was made. The House adjourned till Friday.

Details of damage by the storm on shore show that travel South via the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad is interrupted in consequence of the bridge at Weldon, N. C., having been swept away by the flood. Three spans of the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad bridge at the same place have been carried away, and the flood is so high in the Roanoke river that it was expected the bridge would be completely wrecked.

A despatch from Buchanan, Botetourt county, Va., describes the damage by the flood as truly dreadful in that vicinity. The river rose six feet higher than during the great frost of 1812. Twenty colored people were drowned. The bridge and thirty dwellings were swept away, leaving many poor families destitute of home, food and clothing. The bridges are generally destroyed, the canal considerably damaged and the railroad buildings partly swept away for fifteen miles.

At Richmond the water has fallen eighteen feet, and occupants of the stores and dwellings lately inundated are repairing damages and estimating their losses.

The Hon. John Welch, the newly-appointed Minister to England, was last evening complimented with a banquet by the citizens of Philadelphia as a farewell prior to his departure to fill the position to which he has been assigned. Among the guests were Governor Hartranft, Mayor Stockley, Bishop Stevens, General Robert Patterson, Judge Craig Biddle, General George Cadwallader, Colonel John W. Forney, and many others. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated.

On Monday a portion of the Borden mine, near Frostburg, Md., fell in, imprisoning John Davis and John Hagan. Hundreds of volunteers have been engaged ever since digging for them, but up to six o'clock last evening they had not been reached, and their fate is unknown. It is supposed they will soon be reached.

The students at Mills Seminary at South Williamstown, Massachusetts, have made two attempts to destroy the building. The first attempt was made by burying a keg of gunpowder in the cellar, and the second instance by throwing a barrel of hot coals into the cellar. The two supposed ringleaders have been taken home by the principal.

At New Albany, Indiana, Matt Wolfe has been acquitted of the murder of his father on the ground of insanity. Young Wolfe had been drinking to excess for several days, and the father forbade the saloon keeper selling him liquor. In revenge while laboring under mania-potri he assailed his father, seated in a chair in the orchard, and beat out his brains.

A Bucharest despatch reports that Prince Gortschakoff is engaged in lively diplomatic intercourse, and a proposal has already been made for a conference on peace conditions.

Three men convicted at Erie, Pa., of tarring and feathering a woman of doubtful reputation have been sentenced to the penitentiary for terms ranging from one to ten years.

THURSDAY.

In the session of the Senate to-day the debate on the Louisiana case of Kellogg-Spoford was resumed. Speeches were made by Messrs. Hill, Wadleigh, McDonald, Conkling, Gordon and Merrimon, during which much was said in reference to the case of M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, and the charges against him of being connected with the Hamburg massacre. Mr. Patterson defended him from any participation in that or any other outrage in South Carolina, and stated that in Edgefield county, where Mr. Butler lived, there had been no murders in connection with politics. Without action the Senate went into executive session, and on the doors being reopened adjourned. The House was not in session.

Governor Hampton sent his message to the South Carolina Legislature yesterday. He deprecates the repudiation of the State debt and urges a settlement on a basis that will not impair the public credit. The special investigating committee submitted its report in relation to the election of Senator Patterson in 1872. The report gives an abstract of the testimony of about forty ex members of the Legislature, concurring in the statement that the election was procured through bribery. Twenty testified to receiving bribes and twenty others that bribes were offered and refused. The evidence shows that votes were bought while the election was in progress, and that Maxwell, a colored Senator, changed his vote to Patterson, which made a majority vote in the Senate and avoided the necessity for a joint meeting the next day.

FRIDAY.

A Paris despatch says that a letter from M. Rouvillat, a Bonapartist, expresses the conviction that true Conservatives should submit to the national will, and recommends the President to such submission. The letter condemns De Broglie's policy and the intrigues that overthrow the Thiers' Government in 1873. President MacMahon has assured M. Jules Grevy that Parliament was in no danger, and all apprehensions of a coup d'etat were baseless. The latest despatches say that rumors of a possible arrangement are gaining credence.

An official gazette has been published in Havana giving directions in what manner the public domain in Cuba should be distributed and who shall participate in the benefits. Preference is given to individuals who belong to the army or volunteers who have taken part in actions to persons ruined by the insurrection and to insurgents who have voluntarily surrendered.

The remains of twenty-six victims of the Huron have been discovered strewn along the beach to a point fifteen miles to the northward. Speaker Randall makes a statement with regard to the appropriation to remove the impression that insufficient appropriations prevented proper service for the distressing storm near where the disaster occurred. It says the amount appropriated was $200,000 for the present year, while the previous year $231,580 was appropriated. He says surely the Democratic House cannot be blamed when we have given more than the Republican House did the previous year.

Reports from Vienna describe the Pope as almost in his last agony. The London Times' despatch from Rome says the Pope passed a sleepless night. His rheumatic pains are aggravated, and it is feared may attack the heart. His holiness is passing through a dangerous crisis.

The proposition made by Mr. Tilden to have a "corn kitchen" at the coming Paris Exposition, is in the highest degree sensible. If Europeans could be made generally acquainted with the value of Indian corn as a food material, there can be but little doubt that ready markets could be obtained for our surplus products. The demand would rapidly increase and thousands of acres of waste lands would soon be under cultivation. This would open a new field for the employment of the unemployed. Indeed, it would appear that the fostering of our agricultural resources is the best remedy for our present depression.

Some very successful telephonic experiments have been made recently up a short line between the Maryland agricultural college and the college station, a distance of nearly a mile. Prof. Warfield and others of the college staff have transmitted messages, even though spoken in a whisper. Singing is even a greater success. Whistling, laughing, drum-beating, guitar-playing, and even the beating of a watch can be clearly heard. Speeches can be as clearly heard as though in the presence of the speaker. Visitors coming unexpectedly can by this means have a carriage at the depot in a few moments.

To PARENTS.—How often does a slight cough or cold lead to the most serious consequences. Keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at home. Physicians prescribe it. Thousands take it. Price, 25 cents.

Sales.

TRUSTEES' SALE

OF A

VALUABLE FARM

IN HOWARD COUNTY, NEAR LAUREL AND SAVAGE STATIONS, WASHINGTON BRANCH OF THE B. & O. R. R.—BY PUBLIC AUCTION.

Monday, December 10, 1877.

By VIRTUE of a decree of the Circuit Court for Howard County, sitting in equity, the Undersigned Trustees, will offer for sale by Public Auction at Harrison's Hotel, in Laurel, Howard County, on at 12 o'clock P. M., that very valuable Farm now occupied by M. S. Satchel, and situated on the middle branch of the Potomac about 2 1/2 miles from Laurel and about 2 miles from Savage Station on the B. & O. R. R., and comprising about TWO HUNDRED AND A HALF ACRES, MORE OR LESS. The above tract of land is a part of the estate of the late James M. Satchel and is near the property of the Savage Manufacturing Company. It is well watered throughout, and is one of the best tracts in Howard County. The improvements consist of a large and well equipped HOUSE, Barn, Stables, Cow, Horse, and Sheep Pens, Outbuildings, and a well equipped Orchard, and a well equipped Farm. There is a fine grove of ornamental trees surrounding the Dwelling which is located on a very high ground.

Monday, December 10, 1877,

The sale is made merely for the purpose of closing an estate.

TERMS.—One-third CASH, balance in six and twelve months with interest from day of sale, or all CASH as the purchaser may select.

CHARLES F. MASON, of R. Trustees.

F. W. BENNETT & CO., Auctioneers, Nov. 17-18.

Saint John's Cemetery.

THE Trustees of the above Cemetery now offer for sale a number of LOTS for burial purposes.

This cemetery though connected with St. John's Episcopal Church and by the terms of the charter always to be managed by trustees taken from the congregation of that church is in no wise of an exclusively religious character but is open to all other denominations.

By the terms of the charter the proceeds of sales of lots and fees for interments will after necessary improvements are paid for be applied to the liquidation of the loans from the trustees made for the purchase of the land and for expenses incurred in preparing the grounds, building the Lodge, &c. After this debt is paid all receipts of every kind will be appropriated to the keeping up and ornamentation of the grounds, and also to the formation of a fund to meet the expenses of vigilance and preservation of roads, bridges, &c.

The price of lots has been fixed at one hundred dollars each, half fifty dollars.

A portion of the cemetery will be set apart for interments in single graves, permits for which can be obtained from the Superintendent.

One of the Trustees will be in attendance at the cemetery every Tuesday, on and after the 25th inst., from three to four o'clock P. M., to furnish information about the lots, or application can be made to either of the undersigned at any time.

H. R. HAZLEHURST, President.

JAS. MACKENZIE, Secretary and Treasurer.

Nov. 24-18.

NOTICE.

THE ORPHANS' COURT will meet on the FIRST AND THIRD TUESDAY or EVENING MONTH for the transaction of business.

By order, EDWIN WARFIELD, Register.

June 4 '70-V.

NOTICE.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS will meet on the FIRST AND THIRD TUESDAY or EVENING MONTH for the transaction of business.

By order, DYE W. WORTHINGTON, Clerk.

Dec. 18, '69-V.

Legal Notices.</