The letter you published last week in reply to mine is apparently intended for irony and is in no other way were particularly struck by the decided of which was laid by the honorable Chas. to be replied to, as far as my limited perceptions avail me. There are, as far as I know, two sensible methods of answering E. Dwyer, of Texas, and John A. Foy, of time to time, until it has become one of a letter of the kind, one by treating it as New Jersey. "The dog," remarks he, "has always been recognized as the "friend of man" by the free sons of the forest and General Grant." This is so beautiful a statement that I will not dispute its truth, but as the majority of the citizens of our county are neither ',free sons of the forest nor General Grant," I fail to see the analogy. His idea with regard to the raising of Shepherd dogs, car-Kavey Maggie Miss ried out with ease in the vast plans of Texas, with flocks numbered by thousands, would be an operation attended here with extreme difficulty and probable failure, though I by no means oppose its trial. His capitation tax idea, as bearing on the dog question would be enough, simply from its absurdity, to kill any bill that embodied it. And to conclude with his four propositions. The first is an absurdity. The second is one of my own, only rendered obnoxious by increased severity and a dangerous increase of power. The third is vague and is also open to the objection of being absurd. And the fourth is unutterably rediculous, containing in the first place a violation of the Bill of Rights, secondly Dramatic Entertainment at a means of stifling remedy for the sbeep-Port Deposit .- A dramatic enter- owners for two years, and thirdly ele tainment was given by a number of ladies ments of unpopularity which would and gentlemen at the Concert Hall, in cause the Dog Tag Act, which be alludconnection with the Odd Fellows Hall, at | ed to before, to be looked upon as a bles
