3. She often glanced at the far-off town, And wondered if eggs were up or down.

And the sweet song died of strange disease, Leaving a phantom taste of cheese.

And an appetite and a nameless ache For soda water and a ginger cake.

The Judge rode slewly into view-Stopped his horse in the shade and threw

His fine-cut out, while blashing Maud

Marvelled much at the kind he "chawed." "He was dry as a fish," he said with a wink, "And kind o' thought that a good drink

Would brace him up" So the cup was filled With the crystal wine the old spring spitled;

And she gave it him with sunbrowned hand

"Thanks," said the Judge in accents bland; "A thousand thanks! for a sweeter draught From a foirer hand"-but there he laughed.

And the sweet girl stood in the sun that day And raked the Judge instead of the hay.

A DAY GONE. - A noteworthy spot is Chatham Island, lying off the coast of New Zealand. It is one of the habitable points of the globe where the day of the week changes. It is fact in the line of demarkation between da ... There, at high twelve Sunday noon ceases, an instantly Monday meridic begins. Sure'ny comes into a man's house on the ear side, and to his moonday dinner on Sunday, and it is Monday moon before he finishes it There Saturday is Sunday, and Sunday is Merchant Tafforing Business Monday, and Monday becomes suddenly transferred into Tuesday. It is a good place for people who have lost much time, always get a day ahead on Chatham It. land. It took philosophers and geograph. ers a long time to settle the puzzle of where Sunday noon ceased and Monday noon began, with a man travelling west fifteen degrees an hour, or with the sun.

ADVICE TO THE LADIES. - A pretty hand think of the other. For this reason, steppping on a woman's foot is equivalent to squeezing her hand, and equally proper, but sometimes more convenient, as it can be done under the table. Be careful, however, never to attempt it at a crowded table for fear of making a mistake. We once saw a lady very much confused, who was trying to give a signal to a gentle. man opposite, and instead of his, she trod and pressed on the corn-covered toes of an old bachelor. He hore it as long as he could, and then very quietly remarked :

"Madam, when you wish to step on a gentlem m's toes, be particular and get the foot that ! elongs to him - for the last five minutes you have been jumming my corns most unmercifuil, "

-The New York World tells this story : Not a very great many years ago an old gentleman in Kentucky was met by a friend who said: " Well, Colonel, you dined with the Govenor yesterday; who was there?" "Well, sir," replied the colonel, throwing back his head, digging his hands deep into his trousers pockets and spreading wide his legs, there was me, sir, and besides myself there were four other high-toned, elegant gentleman from Kentucky, a gentleman from Virginia, two men from Ohio, a fellow from New York and a son of a gun from Boston, sir. Will you take a drink, sir?"

-An Indian, on being asked what he did for a living, replied : "Oh, me preach."

"Preach!" said a bystander; "what do you get paid for it?" "Sometimes me get shillin', sometimes

"And isn't that mighty poor pay?"

"Ob, yes, but it's mighty poor preachin'."

-" Well, I swan Billy," said an old farmer to an undersite " nephew who was visiting him, "when you take off that 'ere plug hat and spit two or these times there sin't much eft of you, in a' ?"

-Mark Twain says that nothing seems to please a fly so much as to be mistaken for a huckleberry, and if it can be baked in a cake and palmed off on the unwary

as a current, it dies happy. -The number of innocent young girls who marry men, believing they can break them of their bad habits, and tug them off to church twice every, Sunday does not diminish in the least.

-"Just keeping it lighted for another boj," is the latest juvenile invention when a mother suddenly comes upon her little boy with a cigar in his mouth.

-"Insults," ez ya a modern philosopher "are like counterfeit money. We cannot hinder their being offered but we are not compelled to take them."

-"During his ministry he made six hundred hearts beat as three hundred," is the way a Maine paper neatly puts it concerning a local pastor.

-A boarding-house mistress, like the rest of us, has the weak and strong points, as the Nile, and there is often as much difficulty in tracing it to its source.
