Have You Read Miss Alcoft's New Story, "Under The Idlacs?"

This story rivals in interest Miss Alcott's first great success, "Little Women." The scene is laid in a fine old New England homestead and the neighboring country town, and the half-dozen joily boys and girls who form the chief characters are described, and their thousand pranks and scrapes detailed—in the author's very best style. Two characters that will especially delight the readers are a runaway circus-boy and his wonderful trained dog gancho, who, for "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," almost rivals the Heathen Chinee. "Under the Lilacs" was begun in St. Nicholas, Scribner's illustrated magazine for girls and boys, for November, 1877, and will be completed in October, 1878. The publishers offer the 12 numbers, from November, 1877, to October, 1878, containing "Under the Lilacs," complete, besides three shorter serials, and short stories, poems, pic-tures, thymes, and jingles almost lunumera ble, for $2.50, or they can be had of any bookselier at the same rate.
