Some experiments have been made to find out how many eggs she will deposit

The Baron of Berlepsch, in several different experiments, found that she laid 1,601 eggs in twenty-four hours, as the result of the first. In the second she deposited an average of 1,913 daily, for the space of twenty days. In the third one, an average of 2,400 daily was found for the same length of time. In the fourth she deposited 3,021 in twenty-four hours. She 12.15 Washington, Annapolis and Way Stawas seen by him to deposit six eggs in one minute.

I met Mr. Otis at the Illinois State Fair in 1872, and while in conversation with him on bee matters, he told me that he had known a queen to deposit an average of 3,800 eggs for several days (am not positive about the number, but think he said seven days).

Last June I sold a queen from a hive, and put in another in her place after a few days. I opened the hive on the Saturday following, at about one o'clock, P. M. to show the queen and inside workings of the hive to some gentleman who were with me. In one of the outside frames was a piece of new comb, which we examined, and found neither comb nor honey, and the queen was on the third frame from this, leaving two frames between her and the new comb. I visited the hive again at five o'clock the same afternoon, with another party, who desired to see the inside of a hive and a queen bee; found her majesty on this new comb, and an egg in every cell (of sufficient depth), when, upon measuring and computing, I found it to contain over 1,500 cells. This she had accomplished in the short space of about four hours; and I have no doubt that if I had any means of ascertaining how many she laid in the comb she was on at the other over in getting to this comb, it would Montgomery Company, which will enable it to insure at the lowest possible rates. raise this number from 100 to 300 higher--R. LACE.-Lace may be restored to its original whiteness by first ironing it in a clean linen bag, which is placed for twenty-four hours in pure olive oil. Afterwards the bag is to be boiled in a solution of soap and water for fifteen minutes, then well rinsed in luke-warm water, and finally dipped into water con- Thos. H. Hunt, taining a slight proportion of starch. The lace is then to be taken from the bag and stretched on pins to dry.

COLIC IN HORSES .- An officer who commanded artillery during the late war informs us of the following simple remedy for colic in horses, which he has tried with perfect success in hundreds of cases. Rub the horse well between the fore-legs and around the girth with spirits of turpentine. Immediate relief follows. - Atlanta Constitution.

-Yesterday afternoon a boy went down Fifth street singing, "Dare to do right! Dare to be true!" so loud that he waked up all the babies in the block, and the switchmen at Market street couldn't hear the engine bells, and while this enthusiastic young Moody was going from Division street church down to Glazeby's he broke two windows in the parsonage, sassed a woman in the next house, hit a dog a whack with a shinny club that made him howl till his back ached, broke a chicken's leg with a stone, shot a farmer in the cheek with a "nigger shooter," slapped a boy and took his cooky away from him, and pulled two tickets off a fence. It takes an awful sight of religion to go around a boy .- Hawkeye.

-In the year 1800 there were but forty-nine libraries in the United States, containing in the aggregate 80,000 volumes. There are now in the country 3,682 libraries. All the libraries contain 13,000,000 volumes, not counting those in common, and Sunday schools.
