POLONIUS TO LAERTES.

Give thy thoughts no tongue, Nor they unproportioned thought his act, Lest he fall down and hurt himself with it. The friends thou hast, if thou hast any, Grapple them to thy soul with hooks of steel-Freeze to them as it were. Like grim death to a dead nigger, For thou may'st want them to bail thee out Before thou art a week older.

Beware of entrance into a quarrel; But, being in, get in thy liveliest licks, Remembering that a blow Well landed on thy opponent's bread basket, Followed rapidly by one on the end of his nose. Is great medicine for thee.

Give every man thine ear, Speaking, of course, in a figurative sense; Take each man's censure, And his judgment note; Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, Unless the tailor is goose enough To hang it up till Saturday evening; Do not run too much to loud stripes, For the apparel oft proclaims the man. As it does the woman.

Neither a borrower nor a lender be, Unless thou hast not many things of thine own, For loan oft lends his glasses And goes it blind himself, And borrowing dulls the edge Ot another man's axe, Which thou may'st have to turn The grindstone to repair.

This above all-to thine own self be true. Keep a sharp lookout for No. 1, And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst nor then be left by any man. -Oil City Derrick.

GENERAL SUMMARY. MONDAY.

No abatement in the spread of the yellow fever was indicated Saturday by the reports from the infected cities in the Miss, and other points. The report that there were cases at Louisville, Ky., is Jouisville, and although there are over | 000 liabilities. 500 persons now there from the plaguestricken cities, no apprehensions are entertained. The place is believed to be plague | Loss $25,000. proof, and besides, the only avenue of Louisville, Nashville and Grand Southern railroad, whose rolling stock is all in use carrying passengers. There will be no quarantine at Louisville. Rigid quarantine has been ordered at Pittsburg, Pa. Evansville, Ind., and other points, and Elrict precautions have been taken at Philadelphia, Petersburg, Va., Cincinnati, etc. Isolated cases are reported in various localities in the West, but always of persons coming from infected cities. The prevalence of the yellow fever in the South has ruined the fall trade as respects that section, to say nothing of the difficulty the planters and brokers will experience in moving the cotton crop. One effect of the plague has been the transfer of a large amount of banking capital from New Or-
