Having been appointed on a committee to wait upon certain members of our orfit of our suffering bretheren in the south, silver, and if possible, gold. But before her name. But it was true charity; that charity which boasteth not of itself, but comes like an unseen angel to administer to the wants of suffering humanity. No wonder the good Lord saw that man would be lonely without a companion and made for him woman, that angelic creature called Eve. And may we ever live under her consoling influence, for it her gentle hand and willing heart should cease to soothe the sorrows of mankind we would be left in a deplorable condition indeed. Yours, &c.,

Southern people to see for themselves how good a paper THE WORLD is and how worthy it is of their support.

On the 1st of May, 1870, the ownership and control of THE WORLD passed into the hands of the undersigned, under whose absolute and untrammelled direction THE WORLD has ties of paramount interest to the Southern

I. The restoration of Local Self-Government at the South.

II. A Real Reform of the Civil Service, in such wise as to destroy the political machines under the operation of which it has come to burdens of government.

The first of these objects has been triumphantly accomplished. All intelligent Northprinciples in the Federal Government and therefore to the peace and honor of the whole

The second political object for which THE WORLD contends still remains to be fully achieved. The actual Administration began its career with excellent promises in this direction of which it is sufficient to say that they have been as yet only in part redeemed. THE WORLD for its part will resolutely support lutely denounce every obstacle thrown in the way of redeeming them, from whatever quar-

It seems to the undersigned eminently proper that he should ask the cooperation of the best men of the South with THE WORLD in its efforts to carry out the policy here outlined. He believes THE WORLD to be a paper which Southern citizens and Democrats can recommend to Southern readers as an in-fluence worthy and important to be brought to bear with constantly increasing power upon the conduct of our national affairs, in the interest of truth, of justice and of harmony among our people of all sections.

It is my desire to keep THE WORLD in a living relation with the best thought of the South, to the end that the best ideas, wishes and feelings of the Southern people may be clearly and fairly made known to the North the East and the West. Alike in private and in public affairs the misunderstanding of men one another lies at the root of so much evil that the word itself has come to be a synonym with quarreling and strife. It was a wise saying of Lord Elgin, at the time of one of our sharpest disputes with Great Britain, that two intelligent gentlemen alone on a raft in the Atlantic with plenary powers could adjust the whole matter honorably in an hour.

THE WORLD simply asks its friends at the South to aid it in bringing about a complete meeting of minds on all public questions between the Intelligent citizens of all parts of
