Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the who human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of m in. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nonements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nonements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nonements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nonements of the heart and blood are the control of the brain and nonements of the heart and blood are the control of the control of the heart and blood are the control of the cont of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in cur ing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous sympfour years hard work in his arctired into private life after twentytoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. American Agriculturist for November, An interesting and instructive account of how good Pure Milk is obtained by the Paris people, on a large scale, from a business man who took hold of a large tract of worthless land, and makes it pay, is given by a special correspondent. This number of the Agriculturist contains 63 engravings of various things, labor-saving and other contrivances, for the Farm, Gaiden, and Household, etc. Some 159 other articles and items, give a large amount of practical information useful to all classes, such as Work for the Month; Humbugs Exposed; Among the Farmers, by One of Them; Talks on Farm Crops; Chexp Ice Houses; Making Vinegar; Cider and Vinegar Houses; How to Decorate Churches at Christmas, with engravings; Household Topics; Children's Column; Common Birds described and Illus trated, etc., etc. The curious path of a long-range rifle bullet is shown. A full descriptive premium list is issued. Those subscribing now for 1879, get the American Agriculturist the rest of this year free. $1.50 a year; Single copies, 15 cents. Orange Juda Company. The American Farmer.

The November number of the old American The November number of the old American Farmer is promptly issued, filled with the usual amount of valuable reading for the agriculturist. A number of original papers are given this month on the rearing of live stock, and several practical well-known sheep raisers give their views as to the profits of raising this valuable animal, not only for the wool and flesh, but as a means of improving poor and flesh, but as a means of improving poor lands; others on the rearing of Cattle, Horses, Hogs and Poultry, are also given from the best authorities. Mr. Holman, of Virginia, has an able article on the Germination of Seeds and Flowering of Plants, worthy the study of every farmer, and particularly commended to the attention of the young. Subects are discussed in every department of farm life, but we would particularly call attention to the excellent articles on fruits and flowers, given with cuts, which will be read with interest by every lover of Flora and Pomona. The Farmer devotes a space each month to the business of the Grange, and its home department is furnished with excellent essays, as usual, from the pens of accomplished lady writers. The editors offer the three last numbers of this year's volume (which will contain with its many other good things two prize essays on the renovation of worn-out lands) to all new subscribers for early renewal of the contest are often 1870, whether in single subscriptions at $1.50 or in clubs of five or more at $1 each.
