

GENERAL SUMMARY MONDAY.

The United States Senate resumed at 12 o'clock Saturday morning, and did not get through the ordinary civil appropriation bill until midnight. Among the amendments adopted was one by P. D. Curtis for a late contingent for a seat in the Senate from South Carolina, $10,000. The bill was then passed, and the legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill taken up. All the political legislation inserted by the House was stricken out, including the repeal of the jurors' test and a clause inserted making an appropriation for defraying expenses which may be incurred in the enforcement of the act to enforce the citizens of the United States to vote in the several States. At four o'clock Sunday morning the bill passed, and a recess was taken until 10 P. M., after which the river and harbor bill was called up. Among the amendments adopted was one increasing the appropriation for the harbor of Baltimore from $100,000 to 120,000. The bill passed by a vote of 19 to 18.

In the House a bill was passed for the protection of settlers on the public lands, and sent to the board of education for the district of Harper's Ferry, in West Virginia. The sugar bill was withdrawn by unanimous consent, after a brief debate, and a motion to suspend the rules and pass Senate bill extending the time for the completion of the Northern Pacific railroad failed for want of two-thirds vote. The yellow fever bill was laid on the table. The President's message was read, and the anti-Chinese bill, and the House refused by a vote of 109 to 95 to pass the bill over the veto. The House then took a recess until 9:30 P. M. yesterday, and at that hour met and adjourned until 9 o'clock last evening. At 8 o'clock the House insisted on its amendment to the legislative appropriation bill, and another conference committee was ordered. At 12:30 the House took a further recess until 10 o'clock this morning.

The Forty-fifth Congress closes its session today at noon—but whether it will have closed its proper business at that hour is not so certain. In the United States Senate, yesterday, Mr. Harlan's amendment to the amendment offered to Gen. Seward to the arrears of pensions bill, providing the soldiers of the Mexican war, excluding Mrs. Jefferson Davis from its benefits, was adopted—yeas 23 nays 22. Gen. Seward's amendment was then defeated—yeas 20 nays 27, and the arrears of pensions bill passed. A report was presented from a select committee exonerating Senator Stanley Matthews from any connection with real or supposed frauds in connection with the Louisiana election, but expressing the opinion that Mr. Matthews' action in respect to James E. Anderson's effort to obtain an appointment was wrong and injurious to the public interest. A resolution was adopted authorizing the Treasury department to sit during the recess. House amendments to the census bill were introduced, and the bill passed, as was also a bill for the relief of soldiers and sailors becoming totally blind in the service of the country. The conference report on the fortification appropriation bill was presented and agreed to until 8 o'clock P. M. At the evening session the civil and military appropriations bill was reported from the conference committee, and was agreed to—yeas 33 nays 24. House bill to promote the education of the blind was passed and an agreement was reached on the river and harbor bill amendments. The Mississippi improvement bill was then taken up.

In the House, the conference report on the civil supply appropriation bill was presented and agreed to. It does not contain any appropriation for paying deputy marshals, and contains a provision appropriating $50,000 for a claim of Baltimore city for the defence of the city during the war. The conference report on the fortification and river and harbor bills were also agreed to. The majority report of the committee on expenditures in the State Department was read, presenting articles of impeachment against Gen. F. Seward, and recommending that he be impeached before the Senate. A minority report was presented not approving of Seward's methods while consul at Shanghai, but claiming they had received the unequalled support of the government. At the evening session Senate amendments to the post route bill and conference report on the defender bill were agreed to. The Seward impeachment articles were taken up, and a motion to lay the articles on the table was agreed to—yeas 111 nays 138. The three reports of the Potter committee were presented, but withdrawn when their reading was demanded. The conference report on the post office appropriation bill was agreed to, as were also Senate amendments to the treasury claims and District of Columbia street railway bills. At 1 A. M., the Senate impeachment case was still under consideration.

R. W. D. Bryan, historian and astronomer of the Polaris expedition, is coming to Baltimore in the interest of another expedition in search of the Franklin records in North Polar regions.

George Bancroft, the historian, recently presented the lady who made the proof of his work, with $50, for finding an error in his quotation.
