

SOME SECOND THOUGHTS.—A bad man is one who grasps at a strawberry and gets a nettle instead.

Individuality is everywhere to be spared and respected as the root of everything good: Let a man overcome anger by love, evil by good, the greedy by liberality, the liar by truth.

The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt till they are too strong to be broken. Happiness can be built on virtue alone, and most of necessity have truth for its foundation.

Domestic rule is founded upon truth and love. If it has not both of these, it is nothing better than a despotism. Contentment abides with truth. You will generally suffer for wishing to appear other than what you are, whether it be richer, greater, or more learned.

Oh! if men would use as much diligence in rooting out vices and planting virtues, as they do in proposing questions, there would not be so great evils committed needlessly among the people, nor so much relaxation in iniquities.

An ingenious Nevada lawyer has raised a point of law in behalf of a client who is under sentence of death. During the trial the prisoner was compelled to expose his arm and show certain marks that a witness asserted were there, thus proving his identity. His counsel objected on the ground that this was compelling a witness in effect to testify against himself—a thing a prisoner cannot be forced to do in a criminal prosecution, and on this ground a new trial is demanded.

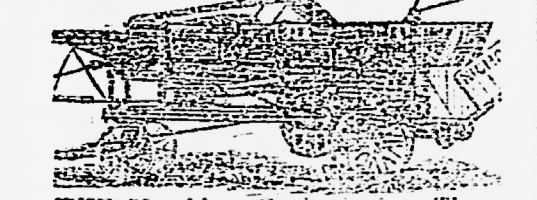

When a man sees five ladies coming towards him walking all abreast, a high fence on one side of him and a muddy street on the other, he tries to look pleasant, but the expression he puts on instead would frighten a bear.

A cynical writer says: "Take a company of boys chasing butterflies; put long-tailed coats on the boys, and turn the butterflies into dollars, and you have a beautiful panorama of the world."

I am authorized to refer to Gen. E. B. Tyler, Postmaster of Baltimore; Hon. W. S. Stenger, Member of Congress from Pennsylvania; Mr. E. D. Onion, coal dealer, Madison Square, Baltimore; E. J. Church, Esq., late Cashier Bank of Commerce, Baltimore; and to the Hon. J. S. Keefe, D. D., Gettysburg, Penna.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 2 P. M., 6 P. M. to 9 P. M. Sundays from 2 to 6 P. M. Charges moderate, consultation free. Patients treated by mail. Enclose stamp for reply. Chronic Affections. The proper treatment of chronic cases of disease requires a knowledge of the pathology and physiology. Such knowledge is not attained by study alone but by years of experience. We have in this city a physician who has during the last four or five years made many remarkable cures, and those treated say that for all forms of chronic disease a doctor in Baltimore is more competent and the uniform success of Dr. Underwood. In fact one of us has had manifold cures with some improvements according to his own device. The doctor is a physician and a gentleman, and any calling on him can depend on his judgment and skill.—From Saturday Standard, Jan. 25, '78-ly.
